

Classroom or Training Site Suggestion

The California Criminalistics Institute is always looking for locations throughout the state of California to hold classes. We offer a number of classes that are lecture-based and do not require any laboratory space or specialized equipment besides tables and chairs for students.

Moving classes around the state allows agencies more opportunities to send staff to classes that may be held closer to them when training budgets are tight.

Examples of moveable classes with no laboratory requirements: Latent Print Comparison, Photography, Photoshop, FTIR, Ethics, Presentation of Courtroom Evidence, Technical Writing
