Special Report to the Legislature on Senate Bill 1608

INTRODUCTION

Senate Bill 1608 [Penal Code (PC) Section 13855(a)], effective January 1, 2001, requires the Department of Justice (DOJ) to “study and report to the Legislature by January 1, 2002, statewide information identifiable by county, about the enforcement of Sections 12021 and 12021.1...for the period of at least three years prior to January 1, 2001.”<sup>1</sup> This report, which presents findings for each year of the three-year period of 1998, 1999, and 2000, responds to that requirement.

PC Sections 12021 and 12021.1 restrict owning or possessing firearms by convicted felons, anyone addicted to narcotics, individuals convicted of specified misdemeanor violations (such as exhibiting weapons, threatening public officials, intimidation of witnesses, possession of loaded weapons in public buildings, and assault), and those prohibited from owning or possessing firearms as an express condition of probation. Violation of these sections may be either a felony or misdemeanor.

MAJOR FINDINGS

A fundamental question of this study is whether PC Sections 12021 and 12021.1 are effective deterrents to owning or possessing firearms by convicted felons, narcotics addicts, those convicted of specified misdemeanors, and those for whom owning or possessing firearms is expressly prohibited by probation. The major findings are included in more detail in the Discussion Section of this report. Following are the highlights of this report:

- There was a decrease in every category of arrest, court disposition, and conviction from 1998 to 2000, except convictions where there were previous convictions for serious or violent felonies.
- Other law violations are present in 78 percent of court dispositions, but are only present in 39 percent of convictions for PC Sections 12021 or 12021.1.
- Fifty-seven percent of convictions involved prison and 22 percent involved jail (almost all of which included probation). Thus, incarceration was imposed in 79 percent of convictions. Eighteen percent of convictions had the imposition of sentence suspended.
- Eleven populous counties from 1998 to 2000 were found to have substantially higher or lower percentages of sentences for prison, probation, or imposition of sentence suspended than the statewide averages. The reasons for these substantially higher and lower percentages can only be determined by additional research involving direct examination of the arrest, prosecution, and court records of each county.
- Two years five months is the central interval between release from prison and subsequent arrest for owning or possessing a firearm.

DATA REQUIREMENTS

Senate Bill 1608 [PC 13855(a)] requests information about specified topics, statewide and by county. Most of the information requested, but not all, is available. The following is a list of the information requested. Each item is followed by a comment as to the availability of that information, the table in the Data Section where detailed information can be found, and data characteristics or limitations.

1. The number of arrests for PC Sections 12021 or 12021.1 only and with other law violations. This information is available and provided in Table 1 in the Data Section.

2. The number of prosecutions for PC Sections 12021 or 12021.1 only and with other law violations.
This information is available as court dispositions and provided in Table 2 in the Data Section. Information about specific charges is reported primarily from courts, not prosecutors. Therefore, the term “prosecutions” has been replaced by the term “court dispositions.” Counts of “court dispositions” are reasonable proxy counts of “prosecutions” because a prosecution event (prosecution for one or more offense) in a court should result in a court disposition event (disposition for each prosecuted offense). The limitation in this substitution is that it is not possible to be sure that each prosecution event is reported as a court disposition event to the DOJ. Some charges are disposed of by prosecutors without going to court. These dispositions are reported directly to the DOJ by prosecutors, but are entered as arrest dispositions so they are not included as court dispositions.
3. The number of convictions for PC Sections 12021 or 12021.1 only and with other law violations.
This information is available and provided in Table 3 in the Data Section.
4. The number of arrests for PC Sections 12021 or 12021.1 only and with other law violations with previous convictions for serious or violent felonies.
This information is available and provided in Table 4 in the Data Section.
5. The number of arrests, prosecutions, and convictions for PC Sections 12021 or 12021.1 only and with other law violations with previous sentences for PC 1170.12, 12022.5, 12022.53, or 667(b) to (i), inclusive.
This information is not available. These PC sections deal with sentencing guidelines and enhancements, and less than 0.5 percent of convictions for PC Sections 12021 or 12021.1 only or with other law violations with these enhancements were reported to the DOJ in 1998, 1999, and 2000.
6. The number of prosecutions for PC Sections 12021 or 12021.1 only and with other law violations with previous convictions for serious or violent felonies.
This information is available as court dispositions and provided in Table 5 in the Data Section.
7. The number of convictions for PC Sections 12021 or 12021.1 only and with other law violations with previous convictions for serious or violent felonies.
This information is available and provided in Table 6 in the Data Section.
8. The number and lengths, identified as lower, middle, and upper term where the sentence imposed for a violation of PC Sections 12021 or 12021.1 was the principle or subordinate term of imprisonment.
This information is not available. However, sentence terms are presented in Tables 7-65 in the Data Section without information as to whether the violation of PC Sections 12021 or 12021.1 was the principle or subordinate term of imprisonment. When there are convictions for more than one offense in a court event or cycle, a high percentage of case sentence lengths are stored in the DOJ’s Automated Criminal History System (ACHS) as the sum of the sentence lengths for all convicted offenses. In this study, “mixed” convictions, that is convictions for PC Sections 12021 or 12021.1 with other law violations, were present as the sum of sentence lengths approximately 66 percent of the time at the statewide level. Such summing of sentence lengths, along with the complexity and nonuniformity of sentencing data, prevented principle and subordinate terms of imprisonment from being determined. However, the number and lengths of overall sentences for PC Sections 12021 or 12021.1 only or with other law violations are presented.
9. The number of persons granted probation or suspension of the imposition of sentence for a violation of PC Sections 12021 or 12021.1 only or with other law violations.
This information is available, with modification, and provided in Tables 7-65 in the Data Section. The number of probation or imposition of suspension of sentence events, not the number of persons, is provided. This is consistent with other requirements of this law.

10. The length of time between the arrest for PC Sections 12021 or 12021.1 only or with other law violations and the previous felony conviction that resulted in the offender being subject to these Sections.

This information is available and is provided in Table 66 in the Data Section. Just 26.1 percent of persons arrested for PC Sections 12021 or 12021.1 only or with other law violations were found to have prior felony convictions. The remaining 73.9 percent could have become eligible for PC Sections 12021 or 12021.1 as a result of being narcotics addicts, having specified misdemeanor convictions, or violating an expressed condition of probation. Previous felony conviction was interpreted as the most recent conviction leading to a prison sentence. This conviction preceded an arrest for PC Sections 12021 or 12021.1.

DATA QUALIFICATIONS

Database accuracy: Historically, disposition data have been underreported statewide, resulting in incomplete criminal records. Recently, the DOJ implemented a work plan to identify the causes of underreporting and develop recommendations to improve the reporting of criminal history information by state and local criminal justice agencies. Two major reporting problems identified to date include non-reporting of arrest and court events and incomplete or inaccurate source documents. While this report presents the number of events reported and stored in the DOJ's ACHS, it is highly probable that these data undercount the number of court dispositions which actually occurred.

Unit of count: An individual can have more than one event related to PC Sections 12021 or 12021.1 during the three-year period, 1998-2000. For the purpose of this report, an event is defined as an arrest, court disposition, or conviction for a person consisting of all the involved charges or counts. Four of the six sub-Sections of SB 1608 [(a)(1),(a)(2),(a)(4), and (a)(6)] refer to events, while two of the sub-Sections [(a)(3) and (a)(5)] refer to persons. To provide information that is uniform and can be compared, events and not persons were counted in all cases.

Arrest data: Arrest data include the number of arrests for PC Sections 12021 or 12021.1 only or with other law violations. Arrest data are included in this report whether or not a subsequent disposition was recorded in the ACHS, the database for this report. Additionally, multiple arrests were counted if a person had been arrested more than once for a specified offense during the 1998 through 2000 time period.

Court disposition data: Court disposition data for this report include the number of court dispositions for PC Sections 12021 or 12021.1 only or with other law violations in 1998, 1999, or 2000 regardless of the year in which an arrest occurred. Court dispositions selected for this report are independent of arrest data because court dispositions can be recorded for PC Sections 12021 or 12021.1 only or with other law violations even if a person was arrested for something other than these offenses. Court disposition information sent to the DOJ which is not supported by a corresponding arrest fingerprint card does not create an entry on an individual's criminal history record and is not included in this report.

Conviction data: Many counties exhibit larger conviction counts than court dispositions counts for violations of PC Sections 12021 or 12021.1 only. This appears to have occurred because many "mixed" disposition cases (PC Sections 12021 or 12021.1 with one or more other charges) led to convictions for only PC Sections 12021 or 12021.1. That is, it appears as though the other charges were often dismissed.

Sentencing data: Sentencing findings, at the statewide level, are based on approximately 85 percent of convictions either because the sentence recorded was a combination of all sentences received or was the only sentence. An examination of ACHS conviction data showed that the number of convictions is independent of the number of sentencing fields. Therefore, not using some convictions because they contained multiple sentencing fields and were difficult to interpret programmatically did not appear to bias the study findings.

RESULTS

Detailed results of this study, statewide and by county, are presented in Tables 1-66 in the Data Section. This report section emphasizes statewide findings and compares findings to each other where they are interrelated or occur during the same year.

Overall statewide arrests, court dispositions, and convictions: Statewide arrests, court dispositions, and convictions for PC Sections 12021 or 12021.1 in the ACHS are shown below and in more detail in Tables 1-3 in the Data Section:

	Total			PC Sections 12021 or 12021.1 (only)			PC Sections 12021 or 12021.1 (with other law violations)

Aggregated 3-year comparisons of arrests, court dispositions, and convictions: Aggregated 3-year statewide arrests, court dispositions, and convictions for PC Sections 12021 or 12021.1 in the ACHS are shown below for all instances and for those instances where there were previous convictions for serious or violent felonies:

Convictions .....	7,454	2,041	4,572	1,282	2,882	759

*Annual counts of arrests should not be compared with annual counts of court dispositions and convictions.

Convictions by sentence received: Of the 6,344 sentences statewide in 1998-2000 which could be determined, 3,642 (57%) were for prison, with 60 percent of these sentences being from one year up to, but not including, three years' duration. Prison sentences did not fall into the lower, middle, and upper terms of 16 months, two years, and three years due to sentencing enhancements and convictions for other law violations.

Probation and jail, with or without fine or restitution, accounted for 1,377 (22%) of sentences. Probation without jail, with or without fine or restitution, accounted for 127 (2%) of sentences. Probation, therefore, was all or part of 24 percent of sentences. Jail without probation, with or without fine or restitution, accounted for less than 1 percent of sentences.

Imposition of sentence was suspended in 1,163 (18%) of sentences. Fine, restitution, or both accounted for less than 1 percent of sentences.

In summary, sentences involving probation, or where imposition of sentence was suspended, occurred in 42 percent of cases. These findings are presented in more detail in Tables 7-65 in the Data Section.

Length of time between arrest for PC Sections 12021 or 12021.1 and the prior felony conviction: Statewide, approximately 60 percent of arrests for PC Sections 12021 or 12021.1 only or with other law violations occurred less than six years after the previous felony conviction. For almost 30 percent of arrests, the previous felony conviction occurred from six years up to, but not including, ten years prior.

These intervals are misleading if they are taken to represent the time between the previous felony conviction and the unimpeded owning or possessing of a firearm. The period of incarceration following the previous felony conviction was a time during which the individual could not own or possess a firearm. Therefore, the time intervals from previous felony conviction to arrest for PC Sections 12021 or 12021.1 overestimate how soon after the most recent felony conviction that convictees could choose to own or possess a firearm. That is, these time intervals overestimate the deterrent effect of a felony conviction on the subsequent ownership or possession of a firearm.

A better measure of the time period during which felons are deterred from owning or possessing a firearm as a result of their prior felony conviction would be the time from release from prison to being arrested for a violation of PC Sections 12021 or 12021.1. This time would be shorter than the time from previous felony conviction. These findings are presented in more detail in Table 66 in the Data Section.

Some noteworthy findings in county-level data: Arrests for PC Sections 12021 or 12021.1 are greater for most individual counties when there are other law violations than when there are not. Court dispositions for PC Sections 12021 or 12021.1 are greater for almost all individual counties when there are other law violations, while convictions are greater for most individual counties when there are no other law violations.

For cases where there were previous convictions for serious or violent felonies, the number of arrests and court dispositions are greater for most individual counties when there are other law violations, while there is a tendency for the number of convictions to be greater when there are no other law violations.

As stated above, statewide, 57 percent of sentences were to prison, 24 percent included probation, and 18 percent were imposition of sentence suspended. Some counties with more than 100 total sentences during the three-year period were found to diverge substantially from the statewide means of these sanctions for PC Sections 12021 or 12021.1. Counties with less than 100 total sentences were felt to have too few events for statistically valid comparisons with statewide means. Tables 7-65 in the Data Section of this report can be used to compare sentences.

DISCUSSION

Year-to-year changes, 1998 to 2000: A fundamental question of this study is whether PC Sections 12021 and 12021.1 are effective deterrents to owning or possessing firearms by convicted felons, narcotics addicts, those convicted of specified misdemeanors, and those for whom owning or possessing firearms is expressly prohibited by probation. This study showed that, with the exception of convictions where there were previous convictions for serious or violent felonies, there was a decrease in every category of arrest, court disposition, and conviction from 1998 to 2000 for the targeted offenses.

Before accepting the validity of this finding, it is important to consider that the year 2000 database was created in June 2001 and may not have included some year 2000 criminal justice events which were reported later that year. Comparisons of arrest, court disposition, and conviction data counts were made with another DOJ database which was created in October 2001. These comparisons indicate that the database used in this study had arrest, court disposition, and conviction counts which were similar to those found in the database created in October 2001. A slight decrease in conviction counts relative to arrest counts was found, as would be expected because court proceedings sometimes begin months after an arrest and take months to complete and be reported to the DOJ. This comparison suggests that about 4 percent of the greater decrease in court dispositions and 5 percent of the greater decrease of convictions relative to arrests in 2000 were the result of obtaining the 2000 data from a data file made in June 2001, rather than in the fall of that year.

This finding does not alter the conclusion about the relative decrease of arrests, court dispositions, and convictions from 1998 to 2000, which were found to be -7 percent, -17 percent, and -29 percent, respectively. Adjusting the decreases for this finding would change them to -7 percent for arrests, -13 percent for court dispositions, and -24 percent for convictions.

Aggregated 3-year comparisons: Other law violations are present in 68 percent of arrests and 78 percent of court dispositions, but only in 39 percent of convictions for PC Sections 12021 or 12021.1. Therefore, other law violations present at arrest and court disposition are not included at conviction.

Convictions by sentence received: A measure of the extent and severity of application of PC Sections 12021 and 12021.1 is the percentage of convictees who receive prison terms. In almost every PC Section in which jail terms (misdemeanor penalties) can be applied, they are an option to prison terms (felony penalties) and therefore reflect sentencing discretion.

The results show that 57 percent of sentences involved prison and 22 percent involved jail (almost all of which included probation). Thus, incarceration was imposed in 79 percent of convictions. When incarceration was imposed, jail time was required 28 percent of the time.

Sentencing discretion also resulted in 18 percent of convictions having the imposition of sentence suspended. This is not the same as sentence suspended, because if the convictee subsequently engages in an activity which the court views unfavorably, the suspension of the imposition of sentence can be removed and the sentence is imposed. Thus, suspension of the imposition of sentence allows courts to take action in the future, if justified.

Length of time between arrest for PC Sections 12021 and 12021.1 and the prior felony conviction: As was mentioned in the Results

Section of this report, the interval between the previous conviction for a felony and the arrest for PC Sections 12021 or 12021.1 understates the duration of the deterrence effect of the felony conviction on subsequent ownership or possession of a firearm. The interval between release from prison and arrest for PC Sections 12021 or 12021.1 is a better measure of the deterrence effect of the felony conviction.

To estimate the central tendency of the interval between release from prison and subsequent arrest for PC Sections 12021 or 12021.1, the median prison term (two years eight months) could be subtracted from the median interval between felony conviction and the next arrest for PC Sections 12021 or 12021.1 (five years one month). This subtraction would indicate two years five months as the central interval between release from prison and subsequent arrest for owning or possessing a firearm. This is less than half the duration between the felony conviction and subsequent arrest for PC Sections 12021 or 12021.1. This adjusted estimate of the duration of deterrence suggests that the times between felony conviction and subsequent arrest might be halved to arrive at an estimate of the post-prison time to arrest for PC Sections 12021 or 12021.1.

County-level data: Eleven counties with more than 100 total convictions from 1998 to 2000, and with data not having specified limitations, were found to have substantially higher or lower percentages of sentences for prison, probation, or imposition of sentence suspended than the statewide averages. The reasons for these substantially higher and lower percentages can only be determined by additional research involving direct examination of the arrest, prosecution, and court records of each county.

METHODS

A data file containing the criminal history of every individual in the DOJ's ACHS with an arrest, court disposition, or conviction for PC Sections 12021 or 12021.1 occurring in 1998, 1999, or 2000 was extracted from the ACHS by staff of the DOJ's Hawkins Data Center in June 2001.

This report, the first by the Criminal Justice Statistics Center to include programmatic analyses of the DOJ's ACHS, examined more than 22,000 criminal histories representing approximately one million lines of information.

Computer programming was performed using SAS statistical software, Release 8.02. SAS-created tables were imported into EXCEL and formatted for publication.

SECTIONS 12021, 12021.1, 667, 1170.12, 12022.5, 12022.53

SECTION 12021

12021. (a) (1) Any person who has been convicted of a felony under the laws of the United States, of the State of California, or any other state, government, or country, or of an offense enumerated in subdivision (a), (b), or (d) of Section 12001.6, or who is addicted to the use of any narcotic drug, who owns or has in his or her possession or under his or her custody or control any firearm is guilty of a felony.

(2) Any person who has two or more convictions for violating paragraph (2) of subdivision (a) of Section 417 and who owns or has in his or her possession or under his or her custody or control any firearm is guilty of a felony.

(b) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), any person who has been convicted of a felony or of an offense enumerated in Section 12001.6, when that conviction results from certification by the juvenile court for prosecution as an adult in an adult court under Section 707 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, who owns or has in his or her possession or under his or her custody or control any firearm is guilty of a felony.

(c) (1) Except as provided in subdivision (a) or paragraph (2) of this subdivision, any person who has been convicted of a misdemeanor violation of Section 71, 76, 136.1, 136.5, or 140, subdivision (d) of Section 148, Section 171b, 171c, 171d, 186.28, 240, 241, 242, 243, 244.5, 245, 245.5, 246, 246.3, 247, 273.5, 273.6, 417, 417.1, 417.2, 417.6, 422, 626.9, 646.9, 12023, or 12024, subdivision (b) or (d) of Section 12034, Section 12040, subdivision (b) of Section 12072, subdivision (a) of former Section 12100, Section 12220, 12320, or 12590, or Section 8100, 8101, or 8103 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, any firearm-related offense pursuant to Sections 871.5 and 1001.5 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, or of the conduct punished in paragraph (3) of subdivision (g) of Section 12072, and who, within 10 years of the conviction, owns, or has in his or her possession or under his or her custody or control, any firearm is guilty of a public offense, which shall be punishable by imprisonment in a county jail not exceeding one year or in the state prison, by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1,000), or by both that imprisonment and fine. The court, on forms prescribed by the Department of Justice, shall notify the department of persons subject to this subdivision. However, the prohibition in this paragraph may be reduced, eliminated, or conditioned as provided in paragraph (2) or (3).

(2) Any person employed as a peace officer described in Section 830.1, 830.2, 830.31, 830.32, 830.33, or 830.5 whose employment or livelihood is dependent on the ability to legally possess a firearm, who is subject to the prohibition imposed by this subdivision because of a conviction under Section 273.5, 273.6, or 646.9, may petition the court only once for relief from this prohibition. The petition shall be filed with the court in which the petitioner was sentenced. If possible, the matter shall be heard before the same judge that sentenced the petitioner. Upon filing the petition, the clerk of the court shall set the hearing date and shall notify the petitioner and the prosecuting attorney of the date of the hearing. Upon making each of the following findings, the court may reduce or eliminate the prohibition, impose conditions on reduction or elimination of the prohibition, or otherwise grant relief from the prohibition as the court deems appropriate:

(A) Finds by a preponderance of the evidence that the petitioner is likely to use a firearm in a safe and lawful manner.

(B) Finds that the petitioner is not within a prohibited class as specified in subdivision (a), (b), (d), (e), or (g) or Section 12021.1, and the court is not presented with any credible evidence that the petitioner is a person described in Section 8100 or 8103 of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

(C) Finds that the petitioner does not have a previous conviction under this subdivision no matter when the prior conviction occurred.

In making its decision, the court shall consider the petitioner's continued employment, the interest of justice, any relevant evidence, and the totality of the circumstances. The court shall require, as a condition of granting relief from the prohibition under this section, that the petitioner agree to participate in counseling as deemed appropriate by the court. Relief from the prohibition shall not relieve any other person or entity from any liability that might otherwise be imposed. It is the intent of the Legislature that courts exercise broad discretion in fashioning appropriate relief under this paragraph in cases in which relief is warranted. However, nothing in this paragraph shall be construed to require courts to grant relief to any particular petitioner. It is the intent of the Legislature to permit persons who were convicted of an offense specified in Section 273.5, 273.6, or 646.9 to seek relief from the prohibition imposed by this subdivision.

(3) Any person who is subject to the prohibition imposed by this subdivision because of a conviction of an offense prior to that offense being added to paragraph (1) may petition the court only once for relief from this prohibition. The petition shall be filed with the court in which the petitioner was sentenced. If possible, the matter shall be heard before the same judge that sentenced the petitioner. Upon filing the petition, the clerk of the court shall set the hearing date and notify the petitioner and the prosecuting attorney of the date of the hearing. Upon making each of the following findings, the court may reduce or eliminate the prohibition, impose conditions on reduction or elimination of the prohibition, or otherwise grant relief from the prohibition as the court deems appropriate:

(A) Finds by a preponderance of the evidence that the petitioner is likely to use a firearm in a safe and lawful manner.

(B) Finds that the petitioner is not within a prohibited class as specified in subdivision (a), (b), (d), (e), or (g) or Section 12021.1, and the court is not presented with any credible evidence that the petitioner is a person described in Section 8100 or 8103 of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

(C) Finds that the petitioner does not have a previous conviction under this subdivision, no matter when the prior conviction occurred.

In making its decision, the court may consider the interest of justice, any relevant evidence, and the totality of the circumstances. It is the intent of the Legislature that courts exercise broad discretion in fashioning appropriate relief under this paragraph in cases in which relief is warranted. However, nothing in this paragraph shall be construed to require courts to grant relief to any particular petitioner.

(4) Law enforcement officials who enforce the prohibition specified in this subdivision against a person who has been granted relief pursuant to paragraph (2) or (3) shall be immune from any liability for false arrest arising from the enforcement of this subdivision unless the person has in his or her possession a certified copy of the court order that granted the person relief from the prohibition. This immunity from liability shall not relieve any person or entity from any other liability that might otherwise be imposed.

(d)(1) Any person who, as an express condition of probation, is prohibited or restricted from owning, possessing, controlling, receiving, or purchasing a firearm and who owns, or has in his or her possession or under his or her custody or control, any firearm but who is not subject to subdivision (a) or (c) is guilty of a public offense, which shall be punishable by imprisonment in a county jail not exceeding one year or in the state prison, by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1,000), or by both that imprisonment and fine. The court, on forms provided by the Department of Justice, shall notify the department of persons subject to this subdivision. The notice shall include a copy of the order of probation and a copy of any minute order or abstract reflecting the order and conditions of probation.

(2) For any person who is subject to subdivision (a), (b), or (c), the court shall, at the time judgment is imposed, provide on a form supplied by the Department of Justice, a notice to the defendant prohibited by this section from owning, possessing or having under his or her custody or control, any firearm. The notice shall inform the defendant of the prohibition regarding firearms and include a form to facilitate the transfer of firearms. Failure to provide the notice shall not be a defense to a violation of this section.

(e) Any person who (1) is alleged to have committed an offense listed in subdivision (b) of Section 707 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, an offense described in subdivision (b) of Section 1203.073, or any offense enumerated in paragraph (1) of subdivision (c), and (2) is subsequently adjudged a ward of the juvenile court within the meaning of Section 602 of the Welfare and Institutions Code because the person committed an offense listed in subdivision (b) of Section 707 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, an offense described in subdivision (b) of Section 1203.073, or any offense enumerated in paragraph (1) of subdivision (c) shall not own, or have in his or her possession or under his or her custody or control, any firearm until the age of 30 years. A violation of this subdivision shall be punishable by imprisonment in a county jail not exceeding one year or in the state prison, by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1,000), or by both that imprisonment and fine. The juvenile court, on forms prescribed by the Department of Justice, shall notify the department of persons subject to this subdivision. Notwithstanding any other law, the forms required to be submitted to the department pursuant to this subdivision may be used to determine eligibility to acquire a firearm.

(f) Subdivision (a) shall not apply to a person who has been convicted of a felony under the laws of the United States unless either of the following criteria is satisfied:

(1) Conviction of a like offense under California law can only result in imposition of felony punishment.

(2) The defendant was sentenced to a federal correctional facility for more than 30 days, or received a fine of more than one thousand dollars ($1,000), or received both punishments.

(g)(1) Every person who purchases or receives, or attempts to purchase or receive, a firearm knowing that he or she is subject to a protective order as defined in Section 6218 of the Family Code, Section 136.2, or a temporary restraining order or injunction issued pursuant to Section 527.6 or 527.8 of the Code of Civil Procedure, is guilty of a public offense, which shall be punishable by imprisonment in a county jail not exceeding one year or in the state prison, by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1,000), or by both that imprisonment and fine. This subdivision does not apply unless the copy of the restraining order personally served on the person against whom the restraining order is issued contains a notice in bold print stating (1) that the person is prohibited from purchasing or receiving or attempting to purchase or receive a firearm and (2) specifying the penalties for violating this subdivision, or a court has provided actual verbal notice of the firearm prohibition and penalty as provided in Section 6304 of the Family Code.

(2) Every person who owns or possesses a firearm knowing that he or she is prohibited from owning or possessing a firearm by the provisions of a protective order as defined in Section 6218 of the Family Code, Section 136.2 of the Penal Code, or a temporary restraining order or injunction issued pursuant to Section 527.6 or 527.8 of the Code of Civil Procedure, is guilty of a public offense, which shall be punishable by imprisonment in a county jail not exceeding one year, by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1,000), or by both that imprisonment and fine. This subdivision does not apply unless a copy of the restraining order personally served on the person against whom the restraining order is issued contains a notice in bold print stating (1) that the person is prohibited from owning or possessing or attempting to own or possess a firearm and (2) specifying the penalties for violating this subdivision, or a court has provided actual verbal notice of the firearm prohibition and penalty as provided in Section 6304 of the Family Code.

(3) Judicial Council shall provide notice on all protective orders that the respondent is prohibited from owning, possessing, purchasing, or receiving a firearm while the protective order is in effect and that the firearm shall be relinquished to the local law enforcement agency for that jurisdiction or sold to a licensed gun dealer, and that proof of surrender or sale shall be filed within a specified time of receipt of the order. The order shall also state on its face the expiration date for relinquishment.

(4) If probation is granted upon conviction of a violation of this subdivision, the court shall impose probation consistent with the provisions of Section 1203.097.

(h)(1) A violation of subdivision (a), (b), (c), (d), or (e) is justifiable where all of the following conditions are met:

(A) The person found the firearm or took the firearm from a person who was committing a crime against him or her.

(B) The person possessed the firearm no longer than was necessary to deliver or transport the firearm to a law enforcement agency for that agency's disposition according to law.

(C) If the firearm was transported to a law enforcement agency, it was transported in accordance with paragraph (18) of subdivision (a) of Section 12026.2.

(D) If the firearm is being transported to a law enforcement agency, the person transporting the firearm has given prior notice to the law enforcement agency that he or she is transporting the firearm to the law enforcement agency for disposition according to law.

(2) Upon the trial for violating subdivision (a), (b), (c), (d), or (e), the trier of fact shall determine whether the defendant was acting within the provisions of the exemption created by this subdivision.

(3) The defendant has the burden of proving by a preponderance of the evidence that he or she comes within the provisions of the exemption created by this subdivision.

who owns or has in his or her possession or under his or her custody or control any firearm is guilty of a felony. A dismissal of an accusatory pleading pursuant to Section 1203.4a involving an offense set forth in subdivision (b) does not affect the finding of a previous conviction. If probation is granted, or if the imposition or execution of sentence is suspended, it shall be a condition of the probation or suspension that the defendant serve at least six months in a county jail.

(b) As used in this section, a violent offense includes any of the following:

(1) Murder or voluntary manslaughter.

(2) Mayhem.

(3) Rape.

(4) Sodomy by force, violence, duress, menace, or threat of great bodily harm.

(5) Oral copulation by force, violence, duress, menace, or threat of great bodily harm.

(6) Lewd acts on a child under the age of 14 years.

(7) Any felony punishable by death or imprisonment in the state prison for life.

(8) Any other felony in which the defendant inflicts great bodily injury on any person, other than an accomplice, that has been charged and proven, or any felony in which the defendant uses a firearm which use has been charged and proven.

SECTION 667

667. (a) (1) In compliance with subdivision (b) of Section 1385, any person convicted of a serious felony who previously has been convicted of a serious felony in this state or of any offense committed in another jurisdiction which includes all of the elements of any serious felony, shall receive, in addition to the sentence imposed by the court for the present offense, a five-year enhancement for each such prior conviction on charges brought and tried separately. The terms of the present offense and each enhancement shall run consecutively.

(2) This subdivision shall not be applied when the punishment imposed under other provisions of law would result in a longer term of imprisonment. There is no requirement of prior incarceration or commitment for this subdivision to apply.

(3) The Legislature may increase the length of the enhancement of sentence provided in this subdivision by a statute passed by majority vote of each house thereof.

(4) As used in this subdivision, "serious felony" means a serious felony listed in subdivision (c) of Section 1192.7.

(5) This subdivision shall not apply to a person convicted of selling, furnishing, administering, or giving, or offering to sell, furnish, administer, or give to a minor any methamphetamine-related drug or any precursors of methamphetamine unless the prior conviction was for a serious felony described in subparagraph (24) of subdivision (c) of Section 1192.7.

(b) It is the intent of the Legislature in enacting subdivisions (b) to (i), inclusive, to ensure longer prison sentences and greater punishment for those who commit a felony and have been previously convicted of serious and/or violent felony offenses.

(c) Notwithstanding any other law, if a defendant has been convicted of a felony and it has been pled and proved that the defendant has one or more prior felony convictions as defined in subdivision (d), the court shall adhere to each of the following:

(1) There shall not be an aggregate term limitation for purposes of consecutive sentencing for any subsequent felony conviction.

(2) Probation for the current offense shall not be granted, nor shall execution or imposition of the sentence be suspended for any prior offense.

(3) The length of time between the prior felony conviction and the current felony conviction shall not affect the imposition of sentence.

(4) There shall not be a commitment to any other facility other than the state prison. Diversion shall not be granted nor shall the defendant be eligible for commitment to the California Rehabilitation Center as provided in Article 2 (commencing with Section 3050) of Chapter 1 of Division 3 of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

(5) The total amount of credits awarded pursuant to Article 2.5 (commencing with Section 2930) of Chapter 7 of Title 1 of Part 3 shall not exceed one-fifth of the total term of imprisonment imposed and shall not accrue until the defendant is physically placed in the state prison.

(6) If there is a current conviction for more than one felony count not committed on the same occasion, and not arising from the same set of operative facts, the court shall sentence the defendant consecutively on each count pursuant to subdivision (e).

(7) If there is a current conviction for more than one serious or violent felony as described in paragraph (6), the court shall impose the sentence for each conviction consecutive to the sentence for any other conviction for which the defendant may be consecutively sentenced in the manner prescribed by law.

(8) Any sentence imposed pursuant to subdivision (e) will be imposed consecutive to any other sentence which the defendant is already serving, unless otherwise provided by law.

(d) Notwithstanding any other law and for the purposes of subdivisions (b) to (i), inclusive, a prior conviction of a felony shall be defined as:

(1) Any offense defined in subdivision (c) of Section 667.5 as a violent felony or any offense defined in subdivision (c) of Section 1192.7 as a serious felony in this state. The determination of whether a prior conviction is a prior felony conviction for purposes of subdivisions (b) to (i), inclusive, shall be made upon the date of that prior conviction and is not affected by the sentence imposed unless the sentence automatically, upon the initial sentencing, converts the felony to a misdemeanor. None of the following dispositions shall affect the determination that a prior conviction is a prior felony for purposes of subdivisions (b) to (i), inclusive:

(A) The suspension of imposition of judgment or sentence.

(B) The stay of execution of sentence.

(C) The commitment to the State Department of Health Services as a mentally disordered sex offender following a conviction of a felony.

(B) The prior offense is listed in subdivision (b) of Section 707 of the Welfare and Institutions Code or described in paragraph (1) or (2) as a felony.

(C) The juvenile was found to be a fit and proper subject to be dealt with under the juvenile court law.

(D) The juvenile was adjudged a ward of the juvenile court within the meaning of Section 602 of the Welfare and Institutions Code because the person committed an offense listed in subdivision (b) of Section 707 of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

(e) For purposes of subdivisions (b) to (i), inclusive, and in addition to any other enhancement or punishment provisions which may apply, the following shall apply where a defendant has a prior felony conviction:

(1) If a defendant has one prior felony conviction that has been pled and proved, the determinate term or minimum term for an indeterminate term shall be twice the term otherwise provided as punishment for the current felony conviction.

(2)(A) If a defendant has two or more prior felony convictions as defined in subdivision (d) that have been pled and proved, the term for the current felony conviction shall be an indeterminate term of life imprisonment with a minimum term of the indeterminate sentence calculated as the greater of:

(B) The indeterminate term described in subparagraph (A) shall be served consecutive to any other term of imprisonment for which a consecutive term may be imposed by law. Any other term imposed subsequent to any indeterminate term described in subparagraph (A) shall not be merged therein but shall commence at the time the person would otherwise have been released from prison.

(f)(1) Notwithstanding any other law, subdivisions (b) to (i), inclusive, shall be applied in every case in which a defendant has a prior felony conviction as defined in subdivision (d). The prosecuting attorney shall plead and prove each prior felony conviction except as provided in paragraph (2).

If upon the satisfaction of the court that there is insufficient evidence to prove the prior felony conviction, the court may dismiss or strike the allegation.

(g) Prior felony convictions shall not be used in plea bargaining as defined in subdivision (b) of Section 1192.7. The prosecution shall plead and prove all known prior felony convictions and shall not enter into any agreement to strike or seek the dismissal of any prior felony conviction allegation except as provided in paragraph (2) of subdivision (f).

(h) All references to existing statutes in subdivisions (c) to (g), inclusive, are to statutes as they existed on June 30, 1993.

(i) If any provision of subdivisions (b) to (h), inclusive, or the application thereof to any person or circumstance is held invalid, that invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of those subdivisions which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of those subdivisions are severable.

(j) The provisions of this section shall not be amended by the Legislature except by statute passed in each house by roll call vote entered in the journal, two-thirds of the membership concurring, or by a statute that becomes effective only when approved by the electors.

(2) Probation for the current offense shall not be granted, nor shall execution or imposition of the sentence be suspended for any prior offense.

(3) The length of time between the prior felony conviction and the current felony conviction shall not affect the imposition of sentence.

(3) A prior juvenile adjudication shall constitute a prior felony conviction for purposes of sentence enhancement if:

(A) The juvenile was sixteen years of age or older at the time he or she committed the prior offense, and

(B) The prior offense is (i) listed in subdivision (b) of Section 707 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, or (ii) listed in this subdivision as a felony, and

(c) For purposes of this section, and in addition to any other enhancements or punishment provisions which may apply, the following shall apply where a defendant has a prior felony conviction:

(1) If a defendant has one prior felony conviction that has been pled and proved, the determinate term or minimum term for an indeterminate term shall be twice the term otherwise provided as punishment for the current felony conviction.

(2) (A) If a defendant has two or more prior felony convictions, as defined in paragraph (1) of subdivision (b), that have been pled and proved, the term for the current felony conviction shall be an indeterminate term of life imprisonment with a minimum term of the indeterminate sentence calculated as the greater of

(B) The indeterminate term described in subparagraph (A) of paragraph (2) of this subdivision shall be served consecutive to any other term of imprisonment for which a consecutive term may be imposed by law. Any other term imposed subsequent to any indeterminate term described in subparagraph (A) of paragraph (2) of this subdivision shall not be merged therein but shall commence at the time the person would otherwise have been released from prison.

(2) If the person described in paragraph (1) has been convicted of car-jacking or attempted car-jacking, the additional term shall be 4, 5, or 10 years. The court shall order imposition of the middle term unless there are circumstances in aggravation or mitigation. The court shall state its reasons for its enhancement choice on the record at the time of sentencing.

(b)(1) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), any person who is convicted of a felony or an attempt to commit a felony, including murder or attempted murder, in which that person discharged a firearm at an occupied motor vehicle which caused great bodily injury or death to the person of another, shall, upon conviction of that felony +or attempted felony, in addition and consecutive to the sentence prescribed for the felony or attempted felony, be punished by an additional term of imprisonment in the state prison for 5, 6, or 10 years.

APPENDIX IV

DATA INFORMATION AND LIMITATIONS

- SAS software language was used to format data obtained from the ACHS in June 2001. The SAS language allowed for the complex programming necessary to extract information for this report.
- Court disposition counts may exceed arrest counts for some counties because dispositions can occur in a year other than an arrest, the number of charges filed may exceed the number of arrest charges for an individual, and jurisdictional transfers can occur.
- In the fall of 2001, the Criminal Justice Statistics Center was notified that Los Angeles County had not sent the DOJ 127 tapes (containing approximately 2,000 dispositions per tape) for 1998 through 2000. The number of court dispositions that would have been captured in this report is unknown.
- In 1995, the Sacramento County Superior Court began reporting disposition data on tape files. These tapes are not compatible with the DOJ's data collection system and no parallel program has been implemented to recover their data. The variability in Sacramento County's disposition counts are attributed to this reporting problem.
- A decrease in dispositions in 1999 and 2000 for San Bernardino County is attributed to a termination by the county of its manual reporting process before complete implementation of a new tape reporting system.
- Ventura County has been experiencing technical difficulties with their Automated Tape Disposition Reporting process. The impact on this report is unknown.
- In 2002, Alameda County discovered a programming problem that resulted in the underreporting of final dispositions for approximately four prior years. The impact on this report is unknown.
