PRELIMINARY REPORT

CRIME IN 2006 JANUARY THROUGH SEPTEMBER

This report compares preliminary crime counts for January through September 2006 with final counts for the same period in 2005 for California law enforcement jurisdictions serving populations of 100,000 or more. The 82 jurisdictions that met this criterion in 2005 and 2006 account for approximately 65 percent of the crimes reported in the state annually.

Law enforcement jurisdictions are grouped into three categories:

- Police departments – provide law enforcement services to cities.
- Sheriff's departments – provide law enforcement services to unincorporated areas¹ within counties.
- Contract cities – cities that contract for law enforcement services, usually with a sheriff's department, rather than maintain their own police force.

The 2006 crime data used in this report are preliminary and are subject to change. Crime rates are not used in this report, but are included in the annual Crime in California publication.

Violent Crimes
UP 3.4%

The VIOLENT CRIME category includes the offenses of homicide, forcible rape, robbery, and aggravated assault.

From January through September 2006, the number of reported violent crimes increased 3.4 percent when compared to the same period in 2005. The increase in this category can be attributed to increases in homicide, forcible rape, and robbery. Aggravated assault offenses decreased during this period.

Property Crimes
DOWN 2.9%

The PROPERTY CRIME category includes the offenses of burglary, motor vehicle theft, and larceny-theft over $400.

From January through September 2006, the number of reported property crimes decreased 2.9 percent when compared to the same period in 2005. All three property crime offenses decreased during this period (burglary, motor vehicle theft, and larceny-theft over $400).
