CALIFORNIA DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE BUREAU OF FIREARMS NOTICE

The manufacture, importation, sale, or transfer of any large-capacity magazine, except to specifically designated parties and under specified conditions (including law enforcement use, loans for service/repair, et al.) is prohibited by law. A large-capacity magazine is defined as any ammunition feeding device with the capacity to accept more than 10 rounds but shall not include any .22 caliber tube ammunition feeding device, or a magazine that has been permanently altered so that it cannot accommodate more than ten rounds.

A permit is not required for the lawful sale of large-capacity magazines within the state to persons authorized to obtain them under Penal Code sections 32400 through 32450, such as law enforcement agencies, peace officers, other licensed firearms dealers, armored car companies, museums, and theatrical companies. Record keeping requirements include the maintenance of records of sales for all transactions, including a copy of the photo identification of the peace officer or licensed firearms dealer, a copy of the official invoice of the law enforcement agency, or an authorization letter on the letterhead of the company to which the sale is being made. The records must be maintained at the dealership location for three years and, upon request, be made available to law enforcement.

A permit is required for the import or export of large-capacity magazines. Large-Capacity Magazine Permits will be issued, upon request, to licensed firearms dealers on the DOJ Centralized List of Firearms Dealers whose businesses have a bona fide marketplace for the import or export of large-capacity magazines. Pursuant to Penal Code section 32315, you must have a permit issued by the DOJ to engage in the import or export of large-capacity magazines. Large-capacity magazine permittees will be required to maintain acquisition and disposition records for all large-capacity magazines they purchase, import or export. The records must be maintained at the dealership location for three years and upon request, be made available to law enforcement.

Whenever dealerships have multiple licensees, all licensees must sign this application form. There is no additional fee for the permit. However, maintenance of active status on the DOJ Centralized List of Firearms Dealers is required. The permit is valid for the calendar year term, provided the permittee abides by the conditions and limitations of the permit, and must be renewed annually with the Centralized List of Firearms Dealers Renewal Transmittal.
