PREFACE
The role of the Criminal Justice Statistics Center is to:

- Collect, analyze, and report statistical data which provide valid measures of crime and the criminal justice process.

- Examine these data on an ongoing basis to better describe crime and the criminal justice system.

- Promote the responsible presentation and use of crime statistics.
HATE CRIME REPORT

I’m pleased to announce that the number of hate crime events dropped in 2002. This is positive news about this serious type of crime, especially in light of modest increases in reported crime in California, and general increases in the country, for 2002. Since hate crimes are especially disturbing, this decrease hopefully signals a growing appreciation and tolerance for California’s diverse population, cultures, lifestyles, and faiths.

The 1,659 hate crime events reported in 2002 represented a 26.6 percent decrease from 2001. The reported number of hate crime offenses in 2002 decreased 11.3 percent from 2001. Also, the 199 anti-other ethnicity/national origin hate crimes – which include Arab or Middle Eastern victims – decreased 53.5 percent in 2002.

The information contained in this report represents the concerted efforts of the entire criminal justice community in systematically responding to, investigating, and prosecuting hate crimes. In our continuing commitment to improve the understanding of these efforts, we have, in partnership with district attorneys, improved the quality and accuracy of prosecution information reported in this publication. The prosecution segment of this report now includes all cases, juvenile and adult, referred by law enforcement agencies for prosecution, the number of cases filed, and the number of convictions.

Although the number of hate crimes decreased this year, we Californians must not tolerate any of these crimes. Hate crimes impact not only their victims, but also spread concern throughout entire communities. Many communities and victims of hate crimes have long experienced such violence, and the fear and pain of a recurrence of historical injustice is deep and pervasive. Because hate crimes are among the most dehumanizing of crimes, we must increase our efforts to curtail these acts. I encourage all Californians to appreciate the richness of our diverse state, with its many people, faiths, and cultures, by continuing to treat each other with the dignity and respect we all want and deserve.

TREND DATA

- Anti-Asian/Pacific Islander hate crime offenses have steadily decreased every year for the period 1997-2002. Anti-Asian/Pacific Islander hate crime offenses have dropped more than 50 percent from their high of 180 in 1996, to their current low of 78.

- Sexual orientation hate crime offenses have remained consistently between 20.1-22.3 percent of all hate crime offenses for the period 1997-2002, and have consistently been the second largest major bias reporting category (behind race/ethnicity) since hate crime reporting started in California in 1995.
- Murder offenses have consistently been reported between two to five per year since hate crime reporting began in California in 1995.

*Anti-other ethnicity/national origin includes Arab or Middle Eastern bias motivated hate crimes.
California Penal Code section 13023 (Appendix 2) requires the Attorney General to submit an annual report to the Legislature regarding crimes motivated by the victim’s race, ethnicity, religion, gender, sexual orientation, national origin,* or physical or mental disability as reported by law enforcement agencies.

The Attorney General’s Hate Crime Reporting Program was implemented in September 1994. Data collection began in the fall of 1994 after an orientation and training period was provided by the Department of Justice (DOJ). Agencies were requested to identify and submit all reports of hate crimes occurring on or after July 1 to December 31, 1994, to the DOJ. In 1995, the DOJ published its first report, Hate Crime in California, July Through December 1994. This is the ninth annual report and the eighth full-year report, which covers the period January 1 through December 31, 2002.

As defined in California Penal Code section 13023, hate crimes are “any criminal acts or attempted criminal acts to cause physical injury, emotional suffering, or property damage where there is a reasonable cause to believe that the crime was motivated, in whole or in part, by the victim’s race, ethnicity, religion, gender, sexual orientation, national origin, or physical or mental disability.” Law enforcement agency crime reports are used to submit their data to the DOJ. Each crime report includes information about, but is not limited to, bias motivation, type of crime, location of crime, number of victims, and the number of known suspects.

All law enforcement agencies in California participate in this program. These agencies recognize that quality information is central to developing effective measures to deal with hate crime. In cooperation with the DOJ, agencies in California have developed local data collection programs, the results of which are presented in this publication.

* Effective January 1, 2001, national origin was added as an additional bias motivation category to Penal Code section 13023 (see Appendix 2).

BACKGROUND

In January 1986, the California Department of Justice (DOJ) submitted a report to the Legislature in response to Senate Bill 2080 (Watson). This report, entitled Racial, Ethnic, and Religious Crime Project, Preliminary Steps to Establish Statewide Collection of Data, recommended the following:

- The DOJ be designated as the appropriate state agency to implement and coordinate statewide hate crime data collection.
- Law enforcement agencies submit existing crime reports identified as bias motivated to the DOJ.
- Uniform definitions and guidelines be established to ensure reliable and consistent identification of hate crimes.
- Adequate funding be provided for data collection and local law enforcement agency training.

Senate Bill 202 (Watson) was chaptered in 1989. The bill added section 13023 to the Penal Code requiring the Attorney General to begin collecting and reporting hate crime information.

Law enforcement agencies were notified by Information Bulletin 94-25-OMET, issued September 30, 1994, to begin reporting hate crimes to the DOJ.

Information Bulletin 95-09-BCIA, issued March 24, 1995, requested California District Attorneys and elected City Attorneys to report information on complaints filed and convictions secured for hate crimes by their office on a standard form. We now collect and report additional prosecutorial information, such as total cases referred by law enforcement agencies in the prosecution’s jurisdiction, the total number of dispositions on filed cases, and further breakdowns of conviction information.
METHODOLOGY

To ensure a consistent standard and quality control function, the DOJ requests that each agency establish a two-tier review process for bias motivated crimes before they are reported to the DOJ as hate crimes.

Reports of hate crimes received by the DOJ are reviewed by at least two staff members of the Hate Crime Unit before the data are included in the aggregate reports. All crime reports that meet the bias motivated criteria stated in Penal Code section 13023 are coded in a standard format by DOJ staff.

If a report is incomplete or does not contain sufficient information to determine a bias motivation, or it appears it may not be a hate crime, the reporting agency is notified. The agency can either provide additional information or agree with the DOJ that the event in question does not meet the criteria of a hate crime (a criminal offense that is motivated by a suspect’s bias against a victim’s race/ethnicity, religion, sexual orientation, etc.). Those crimes meeting the criteria are entered into the Hate Crime Statistical System. The data reflected in this report are gathered from this system.

The primary unit of count for hate crimes is the event. Other units of count include offenses, victims, known suspects, and violent and property crime types. In each hate crime event, the DOJ counts the total number of victims, the total number of known suspects, and the total number of criminal offenses in one event. These totals are also categorized and counted by type of bias motivation (anti-black, anti-Hispanic, anti-gay, anti-Jewish, etc.), type of crime (murder, aggravated assault, burglary, destruction/vandalism, etc.), the crime location (residence, street, synagogue, school, etc.), and the type of victim (individual or property).

When viewing prosecutorial data, the reader is advised that relating the number of hate crimes reported by law enforcement agencies to the number of hate crimes prosecuted by district attorneys and elected city attorneys is not possible. First, crimes often occur in different reporting years than their subsequent prosecutions. Second, the number of crimes reported by law enforcement is much higher than those calling for prosecutorial action, since the latter requires an arrested defendant who can be prosecuted in a court of law.
