Description of Table Used and Total Number of Seated Positions

The game shall be played on a standard poker table which shall accommodate up to ten seated positions for patrons. Within each betting area for each seated position, there shall be a single betting space specifically designated for players to place a wager. Each seated position at the table shall have the same minimum and maximum wagering limits during each betting round, as specified by the table limits.

Action and Distribution of Cards

The game shall utilize a flat white disk with the words "dealer button" on it to visually designate which player is in the dealer position (in theory) for that hand. The dealer button shall rotate from player to player around the table clockwise after each round of play. The player with the dealer button is the last to receive cards, and has the right of last action on all betting rounds (second, third, and fourth) except the first betting round, in which the "big blind" shall have the right to act last.

The game also utilizes two separate disks, one with the words "small blind" and the other with the words "big blind" on them, to visually designate which player is in the "small blind" position and which player is in the "big blind" position. The small blind and the big blind, which are used to initiate action, are made from the positions immediately to the left of the dealer button and posted before the house dealer deals cards. On all subsequent betting rounds (second, third, and fourth), the action is started by the first active player to the left of the dealer button. The small blind and big blind buttons shall rotate from player to player around the table clockwise after each round of play.

Dealing Procedures and Round of Play

The 52-card deck shall be manually shuffled, cut, and dealt by the house dealer.

When first opening a game, all players shall be dealt one card face-up, starting with the player to the immediate left of the house dealer and continuing clockwise around the table. The player with the highest ranked card, by suit, shall receive the dealer button.

Once the dealer button has been distributed by the house dealer, the player to the immediate left of the player with the dealer button shall receive the small blind button and shall be required to place the small blind. Additionally, the player to the immediate left of the player that received the small blind button shall receive the big blind button and shall be required to place the big blind. Both blinds are predetermined and mandatory for the players with the small blind and big blind buttons. Both blind bets shall be placed in the center of the table, which is referred to as "the pot." Once the blinds have been placed in the pot, the house dealer shall deal one card face-down to each player, starting with the player to the left of the dealer button, which is the player that received the small blind button, and continuing clockwise around the table until all players have two cards face-down. These initial two cards are referred to as "hole cards." Once each player has received their two hole cards, the first round of betting will occur. Players are given the following options, starting with the player to the left of the player that received the big blind button and continuing clockwise around the table:

- Place their two hole cards face-down into the center of the table, referred to as a "fold." The hand shall be kept face-down and shall be collected by the house dealer, who shall then place them in the discard pile. A player that chooses to fold their hand will no longer participate during that round of play;

- Place a wager that is equal to the amount of the big blind, referred to as a “call.”
- Place a wager that is equal to the amount of the big blind as well as an additional amount within the posted table limit, referred to as a “raise.” If a player raises the pot, all other players will have the option to call the raise, re-raise the pot by placing a wager larger than the raise within the posted table limit, or fold their hand. There is a maximum of three raises per round of betting, unless there are only two players participating during a round of betting, in which case there is no limit to the number of raises.

After all players have acted in turn and either called all bets or folded their hand, the house dealer shall move all player bets into the pot. The house dealer shall then take the top card of the deck and place it in the discard pile without exposing it, referred to as a “burn.” The house dealer shall then take the next three cards from the top of the deck and place them face-up on the table simultaneously, which is referred to as “the flop.” These are community cards and are available to all players. Once the first three community cards have been placed face-up on the table, the second round of betting will occur. All active players, which are players that called all wagers and did not fold their hand, shall be given the following options, starting with the first active player to the left of the dealer button:

- Fold their hand according to the rules and guidelines used in the previous betting round;
- Check their hand according to the rules and guidelines used in the previous betting round;
- Raise the pot according to the rules and guidelines used in the previous betting round;
- Call a raise according to the rules and guidelines used in the previous betting round.

After all players have acted in turn and either called all bets or folded their hand, the house dealer shall move all player bets into the pot. The house dealer shall then take the top card of the deck and place it in the discard pile without exposing it, referred to as a burn. The house dealer shall then take one card from the top of the deck and place it face-up on the table so that there are now a total of four community cards face-up on the table. This is referred to as “the turn card.” This card shall also become a community card and is available to all players. Once the fourth community card has been placed face-up on the table, the third round of betting will occur. All active players shall be given the following options, starting with the first active player to the left of the dealer button:

- Fold their hand according to the rules and guidelines used in the previous betting round;
- Check their hand according to the rules and guidelines used in the previous betting round;
- Raise the pot according to the rules and guidelines used in the previous betting round;
- Call a raise according to the rules and guidelines used in the previous betting round.

After all players have acted in turn and either called all bets or folded their hand, the house dealer shall move all player bets into the pot. The house dealer shall then take the top card of the deck and place it in the discard pile without exposing it, referred to as a burn. The house dealer shall then take one card from the top of the deck and place it face-up on the table so that there are now a total of five community cards face-up on the table. This is referred to as “the river card.” This card shall also become a community card and is available to all players. Once the fifth community card has been placed face-up on the table, which is the final community card, the fourth and final round of betting will occur. All active players shall be given the following options, starting with the first active player to the left of the dealer button:

- Fold their hand according to the rules and guidelines used in the previous betting round;
- Check their hand according to the rules and guidelines used in the previous betting round;
- Raise the pot according to the rules and guidelines used in the previous betting round;
- Call a raise according to the rules and guidelines used in the previous betting round.

How The Pot Is Awarded

After the fourth and final round of betting has been completed, the house dealer shall move all player bets into the pot. All active players shall then enter into a showdown with each other and compare their hands. Players may use any combination of the two hole cards initially dealt to them at the beginning of the game and the five community cards turned over throughout the course of the game, or they may use the five community cards and no hole cards to make the highest ranking five-card poker hand. The following shall apply for determining which player wins the pot:

- The pot shall be awarded to the player with the highest ranking five-card poker hand, according to the hand and card rankings shown above. All other players shall lose;
- In the event that more than one player has the highest ranked hand, the pot shall be split equally among all players with the winning hand. In the instance that there are an odd number of chips, the odd chips shall be awarded to the player closest to the left of the dealer button.

Collection Rate Schedule

For schedule option 1, the fees shall be taken by the house dealer from the pot after the flop. When there is only one blind required, it shall be placed by the player to the left of the dealer button. Only one collection schedule option, which utilizes one table limit and the specified collection fees for that table limit, as listed below, shall be used at a table at any one time. Collection rates and fees shall be determined prior to the start of play of any hand or round. Rates may not be calculated as a fraction or percentage of wagers made or winnings earned. Flat fees on wagers may be assessed at different collection rates; however, no more than five collection rates may be established per table. The Oasis Card Room shall provide ample notice to patrons regarding the collection rates and fees, as well as the procedure for collecting them. Collection fees shall be conspicuously posted on or within view of every gaming table.

The players of Omaha High/Low Split play against each other for “the pot” of money on the table. The game does not utilize a player-dealer position, it is a Poker game. The gambling establishment does not participate in the actual play of the game and has no interest in the outcome of the play.

Object of the Game

The object of the game is for players to form a five-card poker hand that ranks higher than the other players five-card poker hand. As well as to make a five-card poker hand that ranks lower than the other players five-card poker hand. Each player must use two out of the four cards initially dealt to them at the beginning of the game, referred to as “hole” cards, and three out of the five cards dealt on the table throughout the course of the game, referred to as “community” cards or “the board” cards, to make the highest and lowest ranking five-card poker hand, according to the rankings as shown below. When making a 5-card low poker hand and a 5-card high poker hand, a player is not required to use the same hole cards and/or community cards to complete each hand.

Description of the Deck and Number of Decks Used

The game shall be played using one standard 52-card deck and no Joker.

Card Values and Hand RankingsFive-Card High Card Values

The rank of each card used in Omaha High/Low Split when forming a five-card high poker hand, in order of highest to lowest rank, shall be: Ace, King, Queen, Jack, 10, 9, 8, 7, 6, 5, 4, 3, and then 2. All suits shall be considered equal in rank.

Five-Card Low Card Values

The rank of each card used in Omaha High/Low Split when forming a five-card low poker hand, in order of highest to lowest rank, shall be: King, Queen, Jack, 10, 9, 8, 7, 6, 5, 4, 3, 2 and then Ace. All suits shall be considered equal in rank.

In order to make a qualifying five-card low poker hand, a player must have an 8 high or better (lower), meaning that the two hole cards used from the player's hand and the three community cards used by the player cannot contain a card with a value of 9 or higher. Additionally, when determining if a player has a qualifying five-card low poker hand, straights and flushes do not disqualify the player's hand if all other requirements are met. However, if the player has a pair or higher in their low hand, the hand does not qualify, even if the cards have a value of 8 or lower. The lowest possible five-card poker hand is 5, 4, 3, 2, and an Ace. If multiple players have qualifying five-card low poker hands, the lowest hand is determined by comparing the highest card of each players' five-card poker hand, with the lowest high card being the winning low hand.

For example: A hand of 7, 6, 4, 3, and a 2 is lower than an 8, 6, 5, 3, and an Ace, even though the second hand has the lowest card.

The ranking of hands for Omaha High/Low Split, in order from highest to lowest rank, shall be:

Hand Dealt	Hand Requirements
Royal Flush	A hand that consists of an Ace, King, Queen, Jack and 10 of the same suit.
Straight Flush	A hand that consists of five cards of the same suit in consecutive ranking. A King, Queen, Jack, 10 and 9 is the highest ranked Straight Flush and a 5, 4, 3, 2 and Ace is the lowest ranked Straight Flush.

blind bets shall be placed in the center of the table, which is referred to as "the pot." Once the blinds have been placed in the pot, the house dealer shall deal one card face-down to each player, starting with the player to the left of the dealer button, which is the player that received the small blind button, and continuing clockwise around the table until all players have three cards face-down. These initial three cards are referred to as "hole cards." Once each player has received their three hole cards, the first round of betting will occur. Players are given the following options, starting with the player to the left of the player that received the big blind button and continuing clockwise around the table:

- Place their three hole cards face-down into the center of the table, referred to as a "fold." The hand shall be kept face-down and shall be collected by the house dealer, who shall then place them in the discard pile. A player that chooses to fold their hand will no longer participate during that round of play;
- Place a wager that is equal to the amount of the big blind, referred to as a "call."
- Place a wager that is equal to the amount of the big blind as well as an additional amount within the posted table limit, referred to as a "raise." If a player raises the pot, all other players will have the option to call the raise, re-raise the pot by placing a wager larger than the raise within the posted table limit, or fold their hand. There is a maximum of three raises per round of betting, unless there are only two players participating during a round of betting, in which case there is no limit to the number of raises.

After all players have acted in turn and either called all bets or folded their hand, the house dealer shall move all player bets into the pot. Each active player, which are players that called all wagers and did not fold their hand, shall be required to discard one card from their three-card hand, starting with the first active player to the left of the dealer button. The cards shall be kept face-down and shall be collected by the house dealer, who shall then place them in the discard pile. Once all active players have discarded one card and now only have two cards in their hand, the house dealer shall proceed dealing the game by taking the top card of the deck and placing it in the discard pile without exposing it, referred to as a "burn." The house dealer shall then take the next three cards from the top of the deck and place them face-up on the table simultaneously, which is referred to as "the flop." These are community cards and are available to all players. Once the first three community cards have been placed face-up on the table, the second round of betting will occur. All active players shall be given the following options, starting with the first active player to the left of the dealer button:

- Fold their hand according to the rules and guidelines used in the previous betting round;
- Check their hand according to the rules and guidelines used in the previous betting round;
- Raise the pot according to the rules and guidelines used in the previous betting round;
- Call a raise according to the rules and guidelines used in the previous betting round.

After all players have acted in turn and either called all bets or folded their hand, the house dealer shall move all player bets into the pot. The house dealer shall then take the top card of the deck and place it in the discard pile without exposing it, referred to as a burn. The house dealer shall then take one card from the top of the deck and place it face-up on the table so that there are now a total of four community cards face-up on the table. This is referred to as “the turn card.” This card shall also become a community card and is available to all players. Once the fourth community card has been placed face-up on the table, the third round of betting will occur. All active players shall be given the following options, starting with the first active player to the left of the dealer button:

- Fold their hand according to the rules and guidelines used in the previous betting round;
- Check their hand according to the rules and guidelines used in the previous betting round;
- Raise the pot according to the rules and guidelines used in the previous betting round;
- Call a raise according to the rules and guidelines used in the previous betting round.

After all players have acted in turn and either called all bets or folded their hand, the house dealer shall move all player bets into the pot. The house dealer shall then take the top card of the deck and place it in the discard pile without exposing it, referred to as a burn. The house dealer shall then take one card from the top of the deck and place it face-up on the table so that there are now a total of five community cards face-up on the table. This is referred to as “the river card.” This card shall also become a community card and is available to all players. Once the fifth community card has been placed face-up on the table, which is the final community card, the fourth and final round of betting will occur. All active players shall be given the following options, starting with the first active player to the left of the dealer button:

- Fold their hand according to the rules and guidelines used in the previous betting round;
- Check their hand according to the rules and guidelines used in the previous betting round;
- Raise the pot according to the rules and guidelines used in the previous betting round;
- Call a raise according to the rules and guidelines used in the previous betting round.

How The Pot Is Awarded

After the fourth and final round of betting has been completed, the house dealer shall move all player bets into the pot. All active players shall then enter into a showdown with each other and compare their hands. Players may use any combination of the two remaining hole cards in their hand and the five community cards turned over throughout the round of play, or they may use the five community cards and no hole cards to make the highest ranking five-card poker hand. The following shall apply for determining which player wins the pot:

- The pot shall be awarded to the player with the highest ranking five-card poker hand, according to the hand and card rankings shown above. All other players shall lose;
- In the event that more than one player has the highest ranking hand, the pot shall be split equally among the winners. In the instance that there are an odd number of chips, the odd chips shall be awarded to the player closest to the left of the dealer button.

OASIS LOWBALL

Type of Game

The players of Lowball play against each other for “the pot” of money on the table. The game does not utilize a player-dealer position, it is a Poker game. The gambling establishment does not participate in the actual play of the game and has no interest in the outcome of the play.

Rules of Play

The game shall be played using a standard 52 card deck and no joker. Cards shall be manually shuffled and dealt by the card room dealer. The game shall be played on a standard poker table which accommodates up to ten (10) seated positions. Within each betting area for each seated position, there shall be a single betting space specifically designated for players to place a wager. Each seated position at the table shall have the same minimum and maximum wagering limits during each round of play, as specified by the table limits. During the first round of betting, the amount that a player may wager and/or raise shall be the lower table limit. During the last round of betting, the amount that a player may wager and/or raise shall be the higher table limit. For example, for a $3-$6 game, during the first round of betting, all wagers and raises shall be in $3 increments. During the last round of betting, all wagers and raises shall be in $6 increments. Therefore, the table limit establishes what the lower and higher betting increments shall be for each round. Back-line betting is not permitted.

The game also utilizes a flat disk called a “dealer button” to visually designate which player is in the dealer position (in theory) for that hand. The “dealer button” rotates clockwise after each hand. The player with the “dealer button” is the last to receive cards on the initial deal as well as during the “draw,” and has the right of last action on all betting rounds (first and second). During the first and second round of betting, action shall begin with the player to the left the “dealer button.”

Object of the Game and Card/ Hand Rankings

The object of the game is for players to form the lowest ranked five (5) card poker hand dealt to them throughout the game, according to the rankings as shown below.

The rank of each card used in Lowball, in order of highest to lowest rank, shall be: king, queen, jack, ten, nine, eight, seven, six, five, four, three, two, and ace. The rank of suits shall all be equal. The best ranked hand for Lowball, in order from lowest to highest, shall be:

Hand Dealt	Hand Requirements
Wheel	A hand that consists of five (5) cards that are in consecutive ranking and that may be the same suit or may not be the same suit. 5, 4, 3, 2 and Ace is the lowest ranked straight or straight flush.

OASIS LOWBALL

High Card	A hand that consists of five (5) cards that do not make any of the hands listed above. A King, Queen, Jack, 10, and 8 is the highest ranked high card hand and 6, 4, 3, 2, and an ace is the lowest ranked high card hand.
One Pair	A hand that consists of two (2) cards of the same rank. Two (2) Aces is the highest ranked pair and two (2) 2's is the lowest ranked pair.
Two Pairs	A hand that consists of two (2) pairs. Two (2) Aces and two (2) Kings is the highest ranked two pairs and two (2) 3's and two (2) 2's is the lowest ranked two pairs.
Three of a Kind	A hand that consists of three (3) cards of the same rank. Three (3) Aces is the highest ranked three of a kind and three (3) 2's is the lowest ranked three of a kind.
Four of a Kind	A hand that consists of four (4) cards of the same rank. Four (4) Aces is the highest ranked four of a kind and four (4) 2's is the lowest ranked four of a kind.

When completing a five (5) card low hand, straights and flushes do not count against the player's hand. The lowest possible five (5) card poker hand is 5, 4, 3, 2, and an ace. When determining if multiple players have low hands, the lowest hand is determined by comparing the highest card of each player's five (5) card hand, with the lowest high card being the winning low hand. Therefore, a hand of 7, 6, 4, 3, and a 2 is lower than an 8, 6, 5, 3, and an ace, even though the second hand has the lowest card.

Round of Play

When first opening a game, all players are dealt one (1) card face-up. The player with the highest ranked card shall receive the "dealer button." Once the "dealer button" has been established, each player shall be required to place an "ante." "Antes" are used to initiate action and are posted before players receive any cards. All "antes" shall be placed in the center of the table, which is known as "the pot." Once the "antes" have been posted, the card room dealer shall deal one (1) card face-down to each player, starting with the player to the left of the "dealer button" and continuing clockwise around the table until all players have five (5) face-down cards. Once each player has been dealt five (5) cards, the first round of betting shall occur. Players are then given the following options, starting with the player to the left of the "dealer button," and then continuing clockwise around the table:

- Check their hand place no additional bet at this time. This is only permitted if all other players choose to also check their hand and there have been no raises;
- Place a bet, which shall be at the lower table limit;
- Call a bet that has been placed by another player by placing a wager equal to the bet placed;
- Raise "the pot" by placing a wager equal to the bet placed by another player as well as an amount equal to the lower table limit. If a player raises "the pot," all other players shall be required to call the raise, re-raise "the pot" by an amount equal to the lower table limit, or fold their hand. There is a maximum of three (3) raises per round of betting, unless there are only two (2) active players, in which case there is no limit to the number of raises;
- Fold their hand, which shall be collected by the card room dealer.

OASIS LOWBALL

After all players have acted in turn and either called all bets or folded their hand, the card room dealer shall move all player bets into “the pot.” All active players, which are players that called all wagers and did not fold their hand, shall be given the following two (2) options, starting with the player to the left of the “dealer button:”

- Retain the five (5) cards that were originally dealt to them;
- Replace a minimum of one (1) and a maximum of three (3) cards in their hands with new ones. This is known as “the draw.” Players wishing to replace cards in their hand must place those cards in front of their position to signify to the card room dealer that they would like new cards. Starting with the player to the left of the “dealer button” and continuing in clockwise rotation, the card room dealer shall collect the cards placed in front of a player and place them in the discard pile, then deal that same number of cards to that player from the deck consecutively, face-down, so that they have a total of five (5) cards in their hand. All replaced cards shall be placed in the discard pile.

After each player has exercised their option to discard cards from their hand and draw up to three (3) replacement cards or retain their original five (5) cards, the second round of betting shall occur. All active players are then given the following options, starting with the active player to the left of the “dealer button,” and then continuing clockwise around the table:

- Check their hand place no additional bet at this time. This is only permitted if all other players choose to also check their hand and there have been no raises;
- Place a bet, which shall be at the higher table limit;
- Call a bet that has been placed by another player by placing a wager equal to the bet placed;
- Raise “the pot” by placing a wager equal to the bet placed by another player as well as an amount equal to the higher table limit. If a player raises “the pot,” all other players shall be required to call the raise, re-raise “the pot” by an amount equal to the higher table limit, or fold their hand. There is a maximum of three (3) raises per round of betting, unless there are only two (2) active players, in which case there is no limit to the number of raises;
- Fold their hand, which shall be collected by the card room dealer.

How the Pot Is Awarded

After the final round of betting has been completed, the card room dealer shall move all player bets into “the pot.” All active players shall then enter into a showdown with each other and compare their hands. Players shall use the five (5) cards dealt to them, either originally or from the “draw,” to make the lowest ranking five (5) card poker hand. The following shall apply for determining which hand wins “the pot.”

- “The pot” shall be awarded to the player with the lowest ranking five (5) card poker hand, according to the hand and card rankings shown above. All other players shall lose.
- In limit play, if a player checks a hand that has a seven or better before the draw, all action after the draw is void, that player cannot win any money on any subsequent bets. The player is still eligible to win whatever existed in the pot before the draw if that player ends up winning with the lowest hand. The bets after the draw will go to the player with the second best hand. If a player does check a seven or better and the hand is beaten by a better hand after the draw, that player shall lose all of the pot.

- In the event that more than one (1) player has the same hand and card ranks, “the pot” shall be split equally among the winners. In the instance that there are an odd number of chips, the odd chips shall be awarded to the player closest to the left of the “dealer button.”
