

Approved Firearms Safety Devices Compability Chart

The firearms safety devices on this chart must be used in accordance with the manufacturers' instructions. Aftermarket modifications, such as new grips or sights, may affect the fit and functionality of a firearms safety device. Please ensure that the firearm safety device fits appropriately.

All firearms should be stored unloaded and locked using an approved firearms safety device.

There are currently 1411 devices in the database.

The following two tables list: 1) firearms safety devices that are currently approved by the DOJ and available for retail sale; and 2) The following two tables list: 1) firearms safety devices that are currently approved by the DOJ and available for retail sale; and 2) Original Equipment Manufacturer (OEM) devices that are provided to firearm manufacturers and generally included with new firearms. Each table indicates the device type and name, and firearm types for which the device is suitable:
