RE: Notice of Data Breach

Dear Member Name,

We are writing to inform you that some of your personal (non-public) information may have been compromised by a recent intrusion attempt on the part of hackers targeting our website. Our internal safeguards detected and neutralized this threat, but it appears that, during a brief window, the hackers may have been able to access a limited sub-set of your information, as detailed below. We deeply regret this unfortunate incident.

What Happened?

Sometime between 10/21 and 10/24, an attacker obtained unauthorized access to Altura's website and on 10/26, malicious code was installed onto the site. The installation of the malicious code triggered a corresponding response from Altura's Information Security team, and on 10/26, the malware was removed, and the website was completely cleared and secured. Altura's forensic incident response analysis indicates that your member information may have been accessed.

What Information Was Involved?

The installed malware may have allowed the hackers to access a limited sub-set of your information, specifically, your social security number ending in xxxx.

What We Are Doing?

Our efforts to investigate this matter and coordinate with relevant parties, including law enforcement and technology vendors, impacted the timing behind the provision of this notice.
