RE: Important Security Notification. Please read this letter in its entirety.

Dear:

We are writing to provide you with information about a cybersecurity incident involving Ampex Data Systems Corporation. You are receiving this email because, as a past or present contractor, employee or dependent of Delta Information Systems, Inc., or one of our subsidiaries, including Ampex Data Systems Corporation, Acroamatics, Inc., Telemetry and Communications Systems, Inc., or Wideband Systems, Inc. your information may have been impacted.

What Happened?

On March 21, 2026, we learned that a threat actor group had accessed and encrypted the network at one of our office locations. We immediately informed our IT Security Consultants and shut down our servers. We also engaged with a specialized Forensic IT firm and Cyber Counsel to investigate and remediate the situation. These experts worked with our IT personnel to assess the scope of the situation and to recommend additional security measures. The forensic team confirmed the unauthorized access to our servers on March 21, 2026. The forensic experts contained the incident on March 23, 2026, but the restoration process of our network and servers is still on-going. While the forensic experts confirmed that the threat actor group gained access to the data on our network, the full extent was not known until April 15, 2026.

Based upon the forensic investigation and analysis, we believe that the personal information of a number of our current and former corporate contractors, employees, and dependents was involved. This information may have included personally identifiable information (PII) with some combination of your name, address, social security number, and/or date of birth. In a limited number of instances, driver's license or banking information may have also been involved.

While we have no evidence that any of your personal information was compromised or misused in any manner, we are taking appropriate precautionary measures to ensure your financial security and help alleviate concerns you may have.

What Are We Doing?

In addition to the steps outlined above, we notified the FBI's Internet Crime Complaint Center (IC3) and the Department of Defense Cyber Crime Center (DC3). We worked with an incident response service to negotiate with the threat actors to prevent the release of any information. To the best of our knowledge, any release was prevented or minimized. We have engaged an IT Security firm to assist us in restoring our servers and improving our IT Security posture going forward. We are also reviewing our IT policies and procedures to ensure all security measures are in place to improve the security of our information network and related systems and to prevent such an incident from occurring again. Lastly, we are continuing to work with the FBI to assist in its investigation and have updated our IC3 and DC3 reports.
