We take the privacy and security of all information within our possession very seriously. Please read this letter carefully because it contains information regarding the event and steps that you can take to help protect your personal information, should you feel it appropriate to do so.

What Happened. On September 11, 2025, BDG became aware of a network disruption. With the assistance of cybersecurity specialists, we promptly took steps to ensure the security of our environment and launched an investigation to determine the nature and scope of the disruption. As a result of the investigation, we determined that an unauthorized actor acquired certain information from our environment.

Steps You Can Take to Help Protect Your Personal Information

Review Your Account Statements and Notify Law Enforcement of Suspicious Activity: As a precautionary measure, we recommend that you remain vigilant by reviewing your account statements and credit reports closely. If you detect any suspicious activity on an account, you should promptly notify the financial institution or company with which the account is maintained. You also should promptly report any fraudulent activity or any suspected incidence of identity theft to proper law enforcement authorities, your state attorney general, and/or the Federal Trade Commission (FTC).

Copy of Credit Report: You may obtain a free copy of your credit report from each of the three major credit reporting agencies once every 12 months by visiting www.annualcreditreport.com, calling toll-free 1-877-322-8228, or by completing an Annual Credit Report Request Form and mailing it to Annual Credit Report Request Service, P.O. Box 105281, Atlanta, GA 30348. You also can contact one of the following three national credit reporting agencies:

Equifax

TransUnion

Fraud Alert: You may want to consider placing a fraud alert on your credit report. An initial fraud alert is free and will stay on your credit file for at least one year. The alert informs creditors of possible fraudulent activity within your report and requests that the creditor contact you prior to establishing any accounts in your name. To place a fraud alert on your credit report, contact any of the three credit reporting agencies identified above. Additional information is available at www.annualcreditreport.com. You cannot be charged to remove a fraud alert.

Credit Freeze: A credit freeze is designed to prevent potential creditors from accessing your credit report without your consent. As a result, using a credit freeze may interfere with or delay your ability to obtain credit. You must separately place a credit freeze on your credit file with each credit reporting agency. In order to place a credit freeze, you may be required to provide the consumer reporting agency with information that identifies you including your full name, Social Security number, date of birth, current and previous addresses, a copy of your state-issued identification card, and a recent utility bill, bank statement or insurance statement. You cannot be charged to lift a credit freeze.

Additional Free Resources: You can obtain information from the consumer reporting agencies, the FTC, or from your respective state Attorney General about fraud alerts, credit freezes, and steps you can take toward preventing identity theft. You may report suspected identity theft to local law enforcement, including to the FTC or to the Attorney General in your state.
