NOTICE OF DATA BREACH

To Our Valued Checkers and Rally's Guests:

We recently became aware of a data security issue involving malware at certain Checkers and Rally's locations. After discovering the issue, we quickly engaged leading data security experts to conduct an extensive investigation and coordinated with affected restaurants and federal law enforcement authorities to address the matter. We have worked closely with the third-party security experts to contain and remove the malware.

Our guests are our top priority, and we take the protection of their information very seriously. Below is additional information about what happened and what we are doing to further protect our guests' data.

What Happened?

After becoming aware of a potential issue, we retained data security experts to understand its nature and scope. Based on the investigation, we determined that malware was installed on certain point-of-sale systems at some Checkers and Rally's locations, which appears to have enabled an unauthorized party to obtain the payment card data of some guests.

It is important to understand that not all Checkers and Rally's restaurants were affected by this issue. A list of the impacted locations and their respective estimated dates of exposure is available here. In addition, not all guests who visited the listed restaurants during the relevant time periods are affected by this issue.

What Information Was Involved?

The malware was designed to collect information stored on the magnetic stripe of payment cards, including cardholder name, payment card number, card verification code and expiration date. Based on the investigation, we have no evidence that other cardholder personal information was affected by this issue.

What We Are Doing?

As indicated above, after identifying the incident, we promptly launched an extensive investigation and took steps to contain the issue. We also are working with federal law enforcement authorities and coordinating with the payment card companies in their efforts to protect cardholders. We continue to take steps to enhance the security of Checkers and Rally's systems and prevent this type of issue from happening again.

What You Can Do

If you used a payment card at an affected restaurant during a relevant time period, please consider the following recommendations:

- Review Your Account Statements. We encourage you to remain vigilant by reviewing your account statements. If you believe there is an unauthorized charge on your card, please contact your financial institution or card issuer immediately.
- Order a Credit Report. You are entitled under U.S. law to one free credit report annually from each of the three nationwide consumer reporting agencies. To order your free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call toll-free at 1-877-322-8228.
- Review the Reference Guide and FAQs. The Reference Guide and Security Incident Website FAQs provide additional recommendations on the protection of personal information.

For More Information

If you have any questions about this issue, please call 1-844-386-9554, Monday through Friday from 8:00 a.m. to 10:00 p.m. CST and Saturday and Sunday from 10:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. CST.

We hope this information is useful to you, and we sincerely regret any inconvenience or concern this may cause our guests.

Sincerely,

Adam Noyes

If you used a payment card at an affected restaurant during a relevant time period, please consider the following recommendations:

Order Your Free Credit Report. To order your free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com, call toll-free at 1-877-322-8228, or complete the Annual Credit Report Request Form on the U.S. Federal Trade Commission's ("FTC") website at www.consumer.ftc.gov and mail it to Annual Credit Report Request Service, P.O. Box 105281, Atlanta, GA 30348-5281. The three consumer reporting agencies provide free annual credit reports only through the website, toll-free number or request form.

When you receive your credit report, review it carefully. Look for accounts you did not open. Look in the "inquiries" section for names of creditors from whom you haven't requested credit. Some companies bill under names other than their store or commercial names. The consumer reporting agency will be able to tell you when that is the case. Look in the "personal information" section for any inaccuracies in your information (such as home address and Social Security number). If you see anything you do not understand, call the consumer reporting agency at the telephone number listed on the report. Errors in this information may be a warning sign of possible identity theft. You should notify the consumer reporting agencies of any inaccuracies in your report, whether due to error or fraud, as soon as possible so the information can be investigated and, if found to be in error, corrected. If there are accounts or charges you did not authorize, immediately notify the appropriate consumer reporting agency by telephone and in writing. Consumer reporting agency staff will review your report with you. If the information cannot be explained, then you will need to call the creditors involved. Information that cannot be explained also should be reported to your local police or sheriff's office because it may signal criminal activity.

Report Incidents. If you detect any unauthorized transactions in a financial account, promptly notify your financial institution or card issuer. If you detect any incident of identity theft or fraud, promptly report the incident to law enforcement and your state Attorney General. If you believe your identity has been stolen, the FTC recommends that you take these steps:

- Close the accounts that you have confirmed or believe have been tampered with or opened fraudulently. Use the resources available at <https://www.identitytheft.gov/> to report unauthorized accounts..
- File a local police report. Obtain a copy of the police report and submit it to your creditors and any others that may require proof of the identity theft crime.

You can contact the FTC to learn more about how to protect yourself from becoming a victim of identity theft and how to repair identity theft:

 Washington, DC 20580
 1-877-IDTHEFT (438-4338)

Consider Placing a Fraud Alert or Security Freeze on Your Credit File. To protect yourself from possible identity theft, consider placing a fraud alert or security freeze (also known as a “credit freeze”) on your credit file. A fraud alert helps protect you against the possibility of an identity thief opening new credit accounts in your name. When a merchant checks the credit history of someone applying for credit, the merchant gets a notice that the applicant may be the victim of identity theft. The alert notifies the merchant to take steps to verify the identity of the applicant. A security freeze is designed to prevent potential creditors from accessing your credit file at the consumer reporting agencies without your consent. Unlike a fraud alert, you must place a security freeze on your credit file at each consumer reporting agency individually. For more information on fraud alerts and security freezes, you may call any one of the toll-free numbers provided below or contact the FTC as described above.

Security Incident Website FAQs Posted: May 29, 2019

1. What happened?

We recently became aware of a data security issue involving malware at certain Checkers and Rally's locations. After discovering the issue, we quickly engaged leading data security experts to conduct an extensive investigation and coordinated with affected restaurants and federal law enforcement authorities to address the matter.

Based on the investigation, we determined that malware was installed on certain point-of-sale systems at some Checkers and Rally's locations, which appears to have enabled an unauthorized party to obtain the payment card data of some guests. We have worked closely with the third-party security experts to contain and remove the malware.

Approximately 15% of Checkers and Rally's restaurants were affected by this issue. A list of the impacted locations and their respective estimated dates of exposure is available here.

2. What information was affected by this issue?

The malware was designed to collect information stored on the magnetic stripe of payment cards, including cardholder name, payment card number, card verification code and expiration date. Based on the investigation, we have no evidence that other cardholder personal information was affected by this issue.

3. Was my payment card data affected by this issue?

Not all Checkers and Rally's restaurants were affected by this issue. A list of the impacted locations and their respective estimated dates of exposure is available here. In addition, not all guests who visited the listed restaurants during the relevant time periods are affected by this issue.

While we do not know if your specific payment card is affected by this issue, we encourage potentially impacted guests to refer to their payment card statements to identify the payment card they may have used at one of the affected Checkers and Rally's locations. If you believe there is an unauthorized charge on your card, please contact your financial institution or card issuer immediately. It is always a good idea to be checking your statements regularly.

4. Is it safe to use a payment card at our restaurants?

We have worked closely with the third-party security experts to contain and remove the malware.

5. What are you doing to address this issue?

After identifying the incident, we promptly launched an extensive investigation and took steps to contain the issue. We also are working with federal law enforcement authorities and coordinating with the payment card companies in their efforts to protect cardholders. We continue to take steps to enhance the security of Checkers and Rally's systems and prevent this type of issue from happening again.

6. Will I be liable for fraudulent charges that may result from this matter?

We encourage you to review your account statements and contact your financial institution or card issuer immediately if you identify an unauthorized charge on your card. The payment card brands' policies provide that cardholders have zero liability for unauthorized charges that are reported in a timely manner. Please contact your card brand or issuing bank for more information about the policy that applies to you.

7. What should I do to help protect my information?

You are entitled under U.S. law to one free credit report annually from each of the three nationwide consumer reporting agencies. To order your free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call toll-free at 1-877-322-8228. For more information about steps you can take to protect your credit files, you can contact any one of the consumer reporting agencies at:

Checkers Drive-In Restaurants, Inc. Notifies Guests About Data Security Issue

Tampa, Florida (May 29, 2019) – Checkers Drive-In Restaurants, Inc. (“Checkers”) announced today that it is notifying guests about a data security issue involving malware at certain Checkers and Rally’s locations. After discovering the issue, Checkers quickly engaged leading data security experts to conduct an extensive investigation and coordinated with affected restaurants and federal law enforcement authorities to address the matter. Checkers has worked closely with the third-party security experts to contain and remove the malware.

Based on the investigation, Checkers determined the following:

- Malware was installed on certain point-of-sale systems at some Checkers and Rally’s locations, which appears to have enabled an unauthorized party to obtain the payment card data of some guests.
- The malware was designed to collect information stored on the magnetic stripe of payment cards, including cardholder name, payment card number, card verification code and expiration date. Based on the investigation, Checkers has no evidence that other cardholder personal information was affected by this issue.
- A list of the impacted locations and their respective estimated dates of exposure is available at www.checkers.com/security-issue.
- Not all Checkers and Rally’s restaurants and not all guests who visited the impacted restaurants during the relevant time periods were affected by this issue.

Checkers encourages guests to review their account statements and contact their financial institution or card issuer immediately if they identify an unauthorized charge on their card.

Guests with any questions about this issue may call 1-844-386-9554, Monday through Friday from 8:00 a.m. to 10:00 p.m. CST and Saturday and Sunday from 10:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. CST. Information about this issue is available on the company’s website at www.checkers.com/security-issue.
