RE: Notice of Data <<Variable Header>>

Dear <<Name 1>>:

El Monte RV is writing to notify you of a recent incident that may affect the privacy of some of your personal information. We write to provide you with information about the event, our response, and steps you can take to protect against the possibility of identity theft and fraud, should you feel it is appropriate to do so.

What Happened? In late January 2022, El Monte RV discovered suspicious activity associated with certain portions of its network. In response, we quickly took steps to secure our network and began an investigation to determine the nature and scope of the activity. Our investigation confirmed an unauthorized actor acquired certain files from our environment between January 22 and January 24, 2022. Given that these certain files were taken without authorization, we then undertook a comprehensive review of the potentially impacted information in order to identify the information that was potentially impacted by this event and to whom it related for purposes of notification. We completed those efforts on or around April 5, 2022, for a portion of the population, and thereafter worked diligently to reconcile the information with our internal records to identify the appropriate contact information for potentially impacted individuals. We thereafter worked to provide notification to potentially impacted individuals as quickly as possible. We are notifying you because your information was determined to be present in one of the specific files involved, and therefore may have been accessed during this event.

What Information Was Involved? Our investigation determined that the information related to you that may have been affected include your name and <<data elements>>. While we have no evidence of any of your information was used for identity theft or fraud, we are notifying you out of an abundance of caution and providing information and resources to assist you in helping protect your personal information, should you feel it appropriate to do so.

What We Are Doing. We take this incident and the obligation to safeguard the information in our care very seriously. After discovering suspicious activity, we promptly responded, taking steps to confirm our network security, and conducting a comprehensive investigation of the event to confirm its nature, scope, and impact. We also reported this event to federal law enforcement. Further, as part of our ongoing commitment to the privacy and security of personal information in our care, we are reviewing and enhancing our existing policies and procedures relating to data protection and security. We have also instituted additional security measures, as well as provided additional training to employees, to better protect against future incidents. We are also notifying relevant regulatory authorities, as required.

As an added precaution we are offering you access to credit monitoring and identity theft protection services for <<12/24 months>> through Equifax at no cost to you. If you wish to activate these services, you may follow the instructions included in the attached Steps You Can Take to Help Protect Personal Information. We encourage you to enroll in these services as we are unable to act on your behalf to do so.

Monitor Your Accounts

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order your free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. You may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of your credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended “fraud alert” on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a 1-year alert that is placed on a consumer’s credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer’s credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer’s identity before extending new credit. If you are a victim of identity theft, you are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should you wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any one of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a “credit freeze” on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer’s express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in your name without your consent. However, you should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in your credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application you make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, you cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on your credit report. To request a security freeze, you will need to provide the following information:

1. Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver’s license or ID card, etc.); and
7. A copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft if you are a victim of identity theft.

Should you wish to place a credit freeze, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:
