

Dear Test Joshua, SAMPLE NOTIFICATION

First Technology Federal Credit Union, d/b/a First Tech Federal Credit Union ("First Tech"), values our relationship with our members and understands the importance of protecting personal information. We are writing to inform you that we recently identified and addressed an incident that may have involved some of your information. This notice explains the incident, measures we have taken, and some steps you can take in response.

What happened?

On August 3, 2022, we learned that a card skimmer and small camera had been installed at our ATM in Cupertino, California. Immediately upon learning this, we launched an investigation and, based on our review of security camera video footage, it appears that an unknown person installed and removed the card skimmer and camera at various times between June 15, 2022 and July 31, 2022. We inspected the ATM and surrounding area and did not find a skimmer or camera. We notified local law enforcement and have been working to support its investigation. In general, skimmers are designed to record data from the magnetic stripe of the card; which includes the cardholder's name, card number, and expiration date. The small camera may be used to identify the cardholder's PIN. No other information about a cardholder is in the magnetic stripe of payment cards.

What information was involved?

We are notifying you because you used your card ending in *1234 at the involved ATM during the period of time that a skimmer may have been in and the camera focused on the ATM.

What we are doing.

We wanted to let you know that this incident occurred and assure you that we take it very seriously. Upon discovery of the potential existence of an ATM skimming device and camera, we promptly took steps to stop the potential continued fraudulent use of stolen card information. We moved quickly to protect you and your information by actively monitoring your account(s) for suspicious activity, taking the ATM machine in question out of service and inspecting it and the area for evidence of tampering or the existence of a camera, and working closely with law enforcement. Finally, to prevent the potential for fraudulent activity on your account, we will reissue your card, new cards will be mailed to you during the week of September 12, 2022, and will include instructions for creating a new PIN. We have also implemented enhanced monitoring of your accounts. You will not be responsible for any unauthorized charges or withdrawals from your account. We will diligently enforce security protocols to discourage future attempts to install skimming devices and cameras impacting our ATMs.

In addition, we are providing at no cost to you one year of credit monitoring services through Experian's® IdentityWorksSM. Fraud Alerts and Credit or Security Freezes Fraud Alerts: There are two types of general fraud alerts you can place on your credit report to put your creditors on notice that you may be a victim of fraud—an initial alert and an extended alert. You may ask that an initial fraud alert be placed on your credit report if you suspect you have been, or are about to be, a victim of identity theft. An initial fraud alert stays on your credit report for one year. You may have an extended alert placed on your credit report if you have already been a victim of identity theft with the appropriate documentary proof. An extended fraud alert stays on your credit report for seven years.

To place a fraud alert on your credit reports, contact one of the nationwide credit bureaus. A fraud alert is free. The credit bureau you contact must tell the other two, and all three will place an alert on their versions of your report.

For those in the military who want to protect their credit while deployed, an Active Duty Military Fraud Alert lasts for one year and can be renewed for the length of your deployment. The credit bureaus will also take you off their marketing lists for pre-screened credit card offers for two years, unless you ask them not to.

Credit or Security Freezes:

You have the right to put a credit freeze, also known as a security freeze, on your credit file, free of charge, which makes it more difficult for identity thieves to open new accounts in your name. That's because most creditors need to see your credit report before they approve a new account. If they can't see your report, they may not extend the credit.

How do I place a freeze on my credit reports? There is no fee to place or lift a security freeze. Unlike a fraud alert, you must separately place a security freeze on your credit file at each credit reporting company. For information and instructions to place a security freeze, contact each of the credit reporting agencies at the addresses below:

- Experian Security Freeze, PO Box 9554, Allen, TX 75013, experian.com
- TransUnion Security Freeze, PO Box 2000, Chester, PA 19016, transunion.com
- Equifax Security Freeze, PO Box 105788, Atlanta, GA 30348, equifax.com

You'll need to supply your name, address, date of birth, Social Security number and other personal information.

After receiving your freeze request, each credit bureau will provide you with a unique PIN (personal identification number) or password. Keep the PIN or password in a safe place. You will need it if you choose to lift the freeze.

How do I lift a freeze? A freeze remains in place until you ask the credit bureau to temporarily lift it or remove it altogether. If the request is made online or by phone, a credit bureau must lift a freeze within one hour. If the request is made by mail, then the bureau must lift the freeze no later than three business days after getting your request.

If you opt for a temporary lift because you are applying for credit or a job, and you can find out which credit bureau the business will contact for your file, you can save some time by lifting the freeze only at that particular credit bureau. Otherwise, you need to make the request with all three credit bureaus.
