Dear Client,

We have recently discovered unauthorized access to our computer network by unknown person or persons. While the only losses so far are to Doug Thorburn personally (and we believe Doug Thorburn was the target), it is possible personal information about you and your dependents including your name, address, social security number, birthdate, driver's license number and bank account information (for those who use direct deposit for tax refunds) was obtained.

The breach occurred on or about July 12-15, 2013. We do not know how the breach occurred. This notification was delayed because law enforcement personnel asked that we delay notification due to the ongoing investigation.

We are disclosing this possible breach even though we do not believe it is reasonable to assume that any unauthorized people actually accessed your information. Regardless, we are following up with law enforcement detectives and doing everything to ensure this never happens again.

We suggest you monitor your credit information. You can access your credit information from the three main credit reporting agencies either online at: <https://www.annualcreditreport.com/cra/index.jsp> or by contacting each agency at the phone number, website or address below:
