<<Variable Text 1: NOTICE OF DATA BREACH>>

Dear <<First Name>> <<Last Name>>:

Lawyers' Mutual Insurance Company of California ("Lawyers' Mutual") values our relationship with you and maintaining your trust and confidence is of the utmost importance to us. We are writing today to inform you of an event that may involve some of your information. Our organization was the target of a sophisticated cyber attack. This letter provides details about what happened, what information was involved, what we have done to address the situation, and what you can do.

What Happened? On October 9, 2025 we learned that certain personal information may have been taken from our computer network on May 20, 2025 as part of a cyber event. As part of our response to this event we worked with third-party forensic investigators to identify the nature and scope of the event. We also worked with specialists to review the files that may have been taken from our network to identify their contents and to whom that information relates. As part of this process, we worked to locate address information for the individuals identified through this review. This process was completed on or around November 3, 2025.

What Information Was Involved? Our investigation determined that the files at issue included the following information related to you: your name, <<Variable Text 3: Data Elements>>.

What We Are Doing. We take the security of your information seriously. Upon learning of this incident, we promptly took steps to secure our network and investigate the nature and scope of any unauthorized activity. We also reported the event to federal law enforcement. As part of our ongoing commitment to the privacy of personal information in our care, we continue to review our existing policies and procedures and implement additional administrative and technical safeguards to further secure the information on our systems.

As an added precaution, we are offering you immediate access to credit monitoring and identity theft protection services for <<12/24 months>> at no cost to you, through IDX. We encourage you to enroll in these services as we are unable to do so on your behalf.

What You Can Do. While there is currently no evidence that identity theft or fraud has occurred as a result of the incident, we recommend as a best practice that you remain vigilant, monitor and review all your financial and account statements, and report any usual activity to the institution of record and to law enforcement. You may also review the guidance contained in the enclosed Steps You Can Take to Protect Personal Information. In addition, we recommend that you enroll in the complimentary credit monitoring services that we are providing through IDX. The deadline to enroll is February 14, 2026.

For More Information. We understand you may have questions about the incident that are not addressed in this letter. If you have questions or need assistance, please call 1-833-775-6518 Monday through Friday between the hours of 6 am - 6 pm Pacific Time, excluding holidays.

Sincerely,

Lawyers' Mutual

Steps You Can Take To Protect Personal Information

Monitor Your Accounts

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order a free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. Consumers may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of their credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended "fraud alert" on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a 1-year alert that is placed on a consumer's credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer's credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer's identity before extending new credit. If consumers are the victim of identity theft, they are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should consumers wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a "credit freeze" on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer's express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in a consumer's name without consent. However, consumers should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in their credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application they make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, consumers cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on their credit report. To request a credit freeze, individuals may need to provide some or all of the following information:

1. Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver's license or ID card, etc.); and
7. A copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft if they are a victim of identity theft.

Should consumers wish to place a credit freeze or fraud alert, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:

Additional Information

Consumers may further educate themselves regarding identity theft, fraud alerts, credit freezes, and the steps they can take to protect your personal information by contacting the consumer reporting bureaus, the Federal Trade Commission, or their state Attorney General. The Federal Trade Commission may be reached at: 600 Pennsylvania Avenue NW, Washington, D.C. 20580; www.identitytheft.gov; 1-877-ID-THEFT (1-877-438-4338); and TTY: 1-866-653-4261. The Federal Trade Commission also encourages those who discover that their information has been misused to file a complaint with them. Consumers can obtain further information on how to file such a complaint by way of the contact information listed above. Consumers have the right to file a police report if they ever experience identity theft or fraud. Please note that in order to file a report with law enforcement for identity theft, consumers will likely need to provide some proof that they have been a victim. Instances of known or suspected identity theft should also be reported to law enforcement and the relevant state Attorney General. This notice has not been delayed by law enforcement. Lawyers' Mutual can also be reached directly at 3110 Empire Ave, Burbank, CA 91504.
