NOTICE OF <<Variable Text 2>>

Dear <<First Name>> <<Last Name>>:

Legacy Professionals LLP (“Legacy”) is a full-service accounting firm that provides professional services to individuals, corporations, not-for-profit organizations, labor unions and their related employee benefit plans throughout the country. We are writing to inform you of a recent incident that may involve certain information related to you that we handle in relation to our clients. This event affected Legacy systems and did not impact any of our clients’ systems. Although there is no indication that your information has been fraudulently misused in relation to this event, we are providing you with information about the event, our response to it, and steps you can take to protect your information, should you feel it appropriate to do so.

What Happened? In late April 2024, Legacy learned of potentially suspicious activity related to certain data stored on our computer network. We immediately took steps to secure our environment and investigate the nature and scope of the issue with assistance from a third-party cybersecurity specialist. After receiving additional information in November 2024, the investigation determined that certain files had been taken from Legacy servers by an unauthorized actor. Therefore, Legacy conducted a comprehensive review to identify what information was impacted and the individuals to whom the information relates. Now that the investigation is complete, we are contacting all potentially impacted individuals.

What Information Was Involved? In early February 2025, the investigation confirmed that the information on our system at the time of the incident may have included your name, social security number, and <<Variable Text 1>>.

What We Are Doing. Legacy takes this event and the confidentiality, privacy, and security of information in our care very seriously. Upon becoming aware of this event, we immediately ensured the unauthorized access had been terminated, began investigating what happened, and reported this event to federal law enforcement. Although Legacy has always taken data security and privacy very seriously, we have implemented even more stringent access controls.

Additionally, as an added precaution, we are offering you access to twenty-four (24) months of credit monitoring and identity theft protection services through IDX at no cost to you. Instructions on how to activate these services are included in the attached Steps You Can Take to Help Protect Personal Information. We encourage you to enroll in these services as we are unable to do so on your behalf.

What You Can Do. We additionally encourage you to remain vigilant against incidents of identity theft and fraud by reviewing your account statements, enrolling in the complimentary credit and identity theft monitoring services offered to you, and monitoring your free credit reports for suspicious activity and to detect errors. Please also review the Steps You Can Take to Help Protect Personal Information, which contains information on what you can do to safeguard against possible misuse of your information, should you feel it appropriate to do so.

For More Information. We understand that you may have questions about this incident that are not addressed in this letter. If you have additional questions, please contact the dedicated hotline at (877) 441-7153 Monday through Friday from 6 AM – 6 PM Pacific Time, excluding U.S. holidays. Additionally, you can write to us at P.O Box 7008, Westchester, IL 60154.

Sincerely,

Legacy Professionals LLP

Monitor Your Accounts

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order a free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. Consumers may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of their credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended “fraud alert” on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a 1-year alert that is placed on a consumer’s credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer’s credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer’s identity before extending new credit. If consumers are the victim of identity theft, they are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should consumers wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a “credit freeze” on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer’s express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in a consumer’s name without consent. However, consumers should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in their credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application they make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, consumers cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on their credit report. To request a credit freeze, individuals may need to provide some or all of the following information:

1. Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver’s license or ID card, etc.); and
7. A copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft if they are a victim of identity theft.

Should consumers wish to place a credit freeze or fraud alert, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:

Additional Information

Consumers may further educate themselves regarding identity theft, fraud alerts, credit freezes, and the steps they can take to protect their personal information by contacting the consumer reporting bureaus, the Federal Trade Commission, or their state attorney general. The Federal Trade Commission may be reached at: 600 Pennsylvania Avenue NW, Washington, D.C. 20580; www.identitytheft.gov; 1-877-ID-THEFT (1-877-438-4338); and TTY: 1-866-653-4261. The Federal Trade Commission also encourages those who discover that their information has been misused to file a complaint with them. Consumers can obtain further information on how to file such a complaint by way of the contact information listed above. Consumers have the right to file a police report if they ever experience identity theft or fraud. Please note that in order to file a report with law enforcement for identity theft, consumers will likely need to provide some proof that they have been a victim. Instances of known or suspected identity theft should also be reported to law enforcement and the relevant state attorney general. This notice has not been delayed by law enforcement.

For District of Columbia residents, the District of Columbia Attorney General may be contacted at: 400 6th Street, NW, Washington, D.C. 20001; (202) 442-9828; and oag.dc.gov.

For Maryland residents, the Maryland Attorney General may be contacted at: 200 St. Paul Place, 16th Floor, Baltimore, MD 21202; 1-410-576-6300 or 1-888-743-0023; and <https://www.marylandattorneygeneral.gov/>.

For New Mexico residents, consumers have rights pursuant to the Fair Credit Reporting Act, such as the right to be told if information in their credit file has been used against them, the right to know what is in their credit file, the right to ask for their credit score, and the right to dispute incomplete or inaccurate information. Further, pursuant to the Fair Credit Reporting Act, the consumer reporting bureaus must correct or delete inaccurate, incomplete, or unverifiable information; consumer reporting agencies may not report outdated negative information; access to consumers' files is limited; consumers must give consent for credit reports to be provided to employers; consumers may limit "prescreened" offers of credit and insurance based on information in their credit report; and consumers may seek damages from violators. Consumers may have additional rights under the Fair Credit Reporting Act not summarized here. Identity theft victims and active-duty military personnel have specific additional rights pursuant to the Fair Credit Reporting Act. We encourage consumers to review their rights pursuant to the Fair Credit Reporting Act by visiting www.consumerfinance.gov/f/201504_cfpb_summary_your-rights-under-fcra.pdf, or by writing Consumer Response Center, Room 130-A, Federal Trade Commission, 600 Pennsylvania Ave. N.W., Washington, D.C. 20580.

For New York residents, the New York Attorney General may be contacted at: Office of the Attorney General, The Capitol, Albany, NY 12224-0341; 1-800-771-7755; or <https://ag.ny.gov>.

For North Carolina residents, the North Carolina Attorney General may be contacted at: 9001 Mail Service Center, Raleigh, NC 27699-9001; 1-877-566-7226 or 1-919-716-6000; and www.ncdoj.gov.

For Rhode Island residents, the Rhode Island Attorney General may be reached at: 150 South Main Street, Providence, RI 02903; www.riag.ri.gov; and 1-401-274-4400. Under Rhode Island law, individuals have the right to obtain any police report filed in regard to this event. There are approximately 72 Rhode Island residents that may be impacted by this event.
