Dear <<Name 1>> <<Name 2>>:

Newport Harbor Pathology Medical Group, Inc. d/b/a Orange County Medical Group Pathology d/b/a Mission Laguna Pathology Medical Group d/b/a Barr Dermatopathology ("NHPMG") is writing to inform you of a recent event that may affect the security of some of your information. The Newport Beach practice was not impacted by this event. Although we are unaware of any identity theft or fraud in relation to this event, we are providing you with information about the event, our response, and additional measures you can take to help protect your information, should you feel it appropriate to do so.

What Happened? On November 11, 2024, NHPMG became aware of unauthorized activity within a portion of its environment. In response, we immediately took steps to secure the environment. Further, with the assistance of third-party cyber security specialists, we then launched an investigation into the nature and scope of the event. The investigation determined that an unauthorized actor potentially viewed and copied certain information stored within our environment between October 8, 2024 and November 11, 2024.

In an abundance of caution, we conducted a detailed review of the records stored in the impacted systems to determine the exact information affected and to whom the information relates. Based on this review, we are providing you with this notification in an abundance of caution.

What Information Was Involved? Our review determined that the following types of your personal information may have been accessed or copied without authorization: name, Social Security number, date of birth, address, diagnosis, pathology test results (diagnosis), medical record number, driver's license numbers, unique or other government issued identification numbers and health insurance information. At this time, we are unaware of any identity theft or fraud in relation to this event.

What We Are Doing. NHPMG takes this event and the security of information in our care seriously. Upon discovering this event, we promptly took steps to investigate the incident, assess the security of our systems, and notify potentially affected individuals. As part of our ongoing commitment to the privacy of personal information in our care, we are working to review and further enhance the protections within our systems as part of our ongoing commitment to data security. We also notified law enforcement and government regulators where required.

Monitor Your Accounts

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order a free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. Consumers may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of their credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended "fraud alert" on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a 1-year alert that is placed on a consumer's credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer's credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer's identity before extending new credit. If consumers are the victim of identity theft, they are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should consumers wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a "credit freeze" on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer's express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in a consumer's name without consent. However, consumers should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in their credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application they make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, consumers cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on their credit report. To request a credit freeze, individuals may need to provide some or all of the following information:

1. Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;

4. Addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver's license or ID card, etc.); and
7. A copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft if they are a victim of identity theft.

Should consumers wish to place a credit freeze or fraud alert, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:
