<<VARIABLE TEXT 1 (HEADER)>>

Dear <<First Name>> <<MI>> <<Last Name>> <<Suffix>>:

Nevro Corp. (“Nevro”) is writing to inform you of a recent event that may involve information relating to you. Although there is no indication of any actual or attempted identity theft or fraud as a result of this event, this notice provides information about what happened, our response, and resources available to help protect your information from possible misuse, should you feel it is appropriate to do so.

What Happened? On December 1, 2024, Nevro became aware of suspicious activity on its network. We promptly launched an investigation, with the assistance of third-party cybersecurity specialists, into the activity. The investigation determined an unknown individual gained access to a small number of Nevro systems, and may have taken certain information from the network, between November 21st and December 1st, 2024.

What Information Was Involved? We conducted a comprehensive programmatic and manual review of the information that may have been taken from the network to determine and validate what information was potentially involved and to whom such information relates. On March 14, 2025, we determined that your name, <<Variable Text 2 (data elements)>> were potentially impacted.

What We Are Doing. The confidentiality, privacy, and security of information in our care is among our highest priorities. Upon becoming aware of the suspicious activity, we moved quickly to investigate and respond, assess and further strengthen the security of our systems and computer environment, and notify potentially affected individuals. As an added precaution, we are also offering credit monitoring and fraud assistance services services through Cyberscout for <<Variable Text 3 (monitoring duration)>> months, at no cost to you.

What You Can Do. We encourage you to remain vigilant against incidents of identity theft and fraud by reviewing your account statements and credit reports for suspicious activity and to detect errors. Any suspicious activity should be promptly reported to your bank, credit card company, or other applicable institution. Additional information and resources are included in the enclosed Steps You Can Take To Protect Personal Information. You may also enroll in the complimentary credit monitoring and fraud assistance services available to you. Enrollment instructions are attached to this letter.

For More Information. We understand you may have questions about this event that are not addressed in this letter. If you have additional questions, please call our dedicated assistance line at 833-998-7189, Monday through Friday from 8:00 am to 8:00 pm ET, excluding major U.S. holidays. Please have this letter ready if you call. Again, we take the privacy and security of information in our care very seriously and sincerely regret any inconvenience or concern this event may cause.

Sincerely,

Nevro Corp.

Please note that when signing up for monitoring services, you may be asked to verify personal information for your own protection to confirm your identity.

Monitor Your Accounts

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order a free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. Consumers may also contact directly the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of their credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended “fraud alert” on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a 1-year alert that is placed on a consumer’s credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer’s credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer’s identity before extending new credit. If consumers are the victim of identity theft, they are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should consumers wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a “credit freeze” on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer’s express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in a consumer’s name without consent. However, consumers should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in their credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application they make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, consumers cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on their credit report. To request a credit freeze, individuals may need to provide some or all of the following information:

1. Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver’s license or ID card, etc.); and
7. A copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft if they are a victim of identity theft.

Should consumers wish to place a credit freeze or fraud alert, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:

Additional Information

Consumers may further educate themselves regarding identity theft, fraud alerts, credit freezes, and the steps they can take to protect your personal information by contacting the consumer reporting bureaus, the Federal Trade Commission, or their state Attorney General. The Federal Trade Commission may be reached at: 600 Pennsylvania Avenue NW, Washington, D.C. 20580; www.identitytheft.gov; 1-877-ID-THEFT (1-877-438-4338); and TTY: 1-866-653-4261. The Federal Trade Commission also encourages those who discover that their information has been misused to file a complaint with them. Consumers can obtain further information on how to file such a complaint by way of the contact information listed above. Consumers have the right to file a police report if they ever experience identity theft or fraud. Please note that in order to file a report with law enforcement for identity theft, consumers will likely need to provide some proof that they have been a victim. Instances of known or suspected identity theft should also be reported to law enforcement and the relevant state Attorney General. This notice has not been delayed by law enforcement.
