NOTICE OF DATA SECURITY <<Variable Text 2>>

Dear <<First Name>> <<Last Name>>,

The Kansas Supreme Court Office of Judicial Administration (“Kansas OJA”) is writing to let you know about a data security incident that may have impacted your personal information.

We take your privacy and security of your information seriously, and we sincerely apologize for any concerns or inconvenience this may cause you. This letter lists steps you can take to protect your information and resources we are making available to help you.

What happened

On October 12, 2023, Kansas OJA became aware of unauthorized activity on its network. Upon discovery, we immediately activated our incident response protocols. We hired external cybersecurity experts to determine what information may have been impacted.

The investigation found there was unauthorized access to the Kansas OJA electronic system between June 10, 2023, and October 12, 2023. The investigation also found there had been unauthorized access to files on the Kansas OJA system and a limited number of files had been taken from the Kansas OJA system.

We hired an experienced data review firm to help us review all files that had been accessed during the incident to find out if any contained personal information. This process was completed on April 23, 2024, at which point we determined some of your personal information was impacted.

The privacy and security of personal information is important to us and integral to our role as the Kansas judiciary. Through this letter, we are letting you know about the incident and the steps we are taking to address it.

What we are doing

To reduce the risk that something like this could happen again, we put additional security controls in place, and we continue to enhance security controls that protect our network. We put in place supplemental anti-malware tools, and we will continue to evaluate our security protocols for opportunities to further bolster our network security.

RECOMMENDED STEPS TO HELP PROTECT YOUR INFORMATION

1. Website and Enrollment. Scan the QR image or go to <https://app.idx.us/account-creation/protect> and follow the instructions for enrollment using your Enrollment Code provided at the top of the letter.

2. Activate the credit monitoring provided as part of your IDX identity protection membership. The monitoring included in the membership must be activated to be effective. Note: You must have established credit and access to a computer and the internet to use this service. If you need assistance, IDX will be able to assist you.

3. Telephone. Contact IDX at 1-888-861-6382 to gain additional information about this event and speak with knowledgeable representatives about the appropriate steps to take to protect your credit identity.

4. Review your credit reports. We recommend you be vigilant about reviewing account statements and monitoring credit reports. Under federal law, you are entitled to obtain one free copy of your credit report from each of the three major credit reporting companies every 12 months. You can request your credit report online or by telephone.

You may want to stagger your requests made of the three credit bureaus so you get one free report every four months.

You have the right to file a police report if you ever experience identity fraud. To file a crime report or incident report with law enforcement for identity theft, you may be asked to provide proof you are a victim. A police report is often required to dispute fraudulent items. You can report suspected incidents of identity theft to local law enforcement or your state attorney general.

If you discover any suspicious items and have enrolled in IDX identity protection, notify them immediately by calling or by logging into the IDX website and filing a request for help.

If you file a request for help or report suspicious activity, you will be contacted by a member of our ID Care team who will help you determine the cause of the suspicious items. In the unlikely event that you fall victim to identity theft as a consequence of this incident, you will be assigned an ID Care Specialist who will work on your behalf to identify, stop and reverse the damage quickly.

5. Place fraud alerts with the three credit bureaus. If you choose to place a fraud alert, we recommend you do this after activating your credit monitoring. You can place a fraud alert with one of the three major credit bureaus by phone or through any of their websites. A fraud alert tells creditors to follow certain procedures, such as contacting you before they open a new account or change an existing account. For that reason, placing a fraud alert can protect you, but it may also delay you when you try to obtain credit. The contact information for all three bureaus is as follows:

You need contact only ONE of the bureaus and use only ONE of these methods. As soon as one of the three bureaus confirms your fraud alert, the others are notified to place alerts on their records as well. You will receive confirmation letters in the mail and will then be able to order all three credit reports, free of charge, for your review. An initial fraud alert will last for one year.

NOTE: Only you can place a fraud alert on your credit report.

6. Security or credit freeze. By placing a security freeze, also called a credit freeze, no one can use your personal identifying information to open new accounts or borrow money in your name. You will need to contact the three credit reporting bureaus listed above to place the freeze. Keep in mind, once you place the freeze, you will not be able to borrow money, get instant credit, or get a new credit card until you again contact the credit reporting bureaus to temporarily lift or permanently remove the freeze. There is no cost to freeze and unfreeze your credit files.

7. You can get more information about steps you can take to avoid identity theft from the agencies listed below. The Federal Trade Commission also encourages anyone who discovers their information has been misused to file a complaint with them.
