NOTICE OF DATA BREACH

What happened?	On July 9, 2018, a patient notified Oak Park Surgery Center (“Oak Park”) that an operative report from her surgery at Oak Park could be found online through a Google.com search of her name. Oak Park immediately investigated and discovered that operative reports for 469 patients could be found through Google.com and could be viewed through a third party FTP website, utilized by Oak Park’s outside transcription service. The reports were from surgical operations taking place at Oak Park from March 2016 through July 2018.
What Information Was Involved?	Full patient names, medical information, diagnoses, and a description of surgical procedures performed.
What We Are Doing	Oak Park requested the website be shut down and that Google remove all items from its search results. All information has been removed. Oak Park is investigating to determine whether any of the records were actually accessed apart from the notifying patient and, if so, the identity of those patients.
What You Can Do	You can report any knowledge of the incident to Oak Park at the contact information listed below. We will provide additional information learned from the investigation.
