INFORMATION REGARDING A DATA SECURITY INCIDENT

At Pan-American Life Insurance Group, we take the privacy and security of our client information very seriously. We are sharing details about a data security incident, what happened, what information was involved, what we are doing to address it, the steps you can take to help protect information, and resources that we are making available to assist our clients.

What Happened?

On February 19, 2021, we detected suspicious activity within our computer systems. We immediately took our computer network offline as part of our efforts to protect policyholder information, other data and our systems. This resulted in disruptions to our business. Since learning of this situation, we have been taking steps to further protect and strengthen the security of our systems. We also engaged third-party cyber experts to partner with our team to launch an investigation to better understand what happened and to prevent a similar incident in the future.

Our investigation confirmed that systems containing personal information were accessed without authorization. Our investigation concluded that a phishing attempt resulted in malware being installed on our computer network. Our existing defenses and early action prevented this malware from having its full intended effect and we have taken steps to further enhance our security. On March 9, 2021, we confirmed that some policyholder and beneficiary information, like name, address and date of birth was taken. It also appears that a relatively small percentage of policyholders and beneficiaries may have had more sensitive information taken, and we will be contacting those individuals directly by mail or email with more information. There is no evidence that any information was misused for fraudulent purposes as a result of this incident.

What Information Was Involved?

Our systems contain various types of personal information related to the servicing of the policies we issue. More information regarding the specific information we collect is included in our Privacy Practices detailed below and more specifically addressed in the privacy policy notifications issued to policyholders periodically.

What Are We Doing?

As soon as we discovered the incident, we took the steps previously described. We have also taken steps to increase the security of our systems. In addition, we are offering information in the reference guide below about steps you can take to help protect your personal information. Out of an abundance of caution, we are also offering additional services to individuals whose information was taken.

What Can You Do?

We recommend that you review the guidance provided in the reference guide below about how to help protect your information.

Beginning on Friday, March 12, 2021, if you have questions or need assistance, please call US Toll Free Number 833-671-0405, Monday through Friday from 8:00AM 10:00PM Central Standard Time. Saturday and Sunday 10:00AM – 7:00PM Central Standard Time

Our Privacy Practices

Pan-American Life Insurance Group (PALIG) and its affiliated companies are highly committed to protecting the privacy of its customers and the security of all confidential information entrusted to us. Depending on which of our products and services you ask us about, buy or use, different affiliated companies within our group will process your information.

This general privacy statement serves as a summary of our privacy practices, and serves to briefly notify you of the information we collect about you, how we use it, how we protect it, and your rights. For more details on the specific policies or practices that may apply to you, please select the appropriate country from the menu at the top of the page.

Information Collection, Protection, and Sharing

- We collect personal information in connection with the products and services we offer. This may include information we receive on applications and other forms, such as name, date of birth, contact information, tax identification number, social security number, cedula or other government issued identification number, assets and income, medical and financial information, information about your transactions with our affiliated companies and information we receive from third-parties, including consumer reporting and inspection services.
- We process your data when necessary to provide the services set out in a contract, when it is in our or a third-party's legitimate interests, or when it is required or allowed by applicable law. When we process your sensitive personal data, it will be in line with applicable law, as necessary to provide you with our services, or with your permission.
- We will not rent or sell personal information to others but we may share your information as necessary within the PALIG Group, with relevant policyholders, and with our business associates who help us provide services to you. We will only share your information as allowed under applicable law.
- We are a global company, and where necessary we may allow your information to be shared with our affiliates or third-party service providers based in the United States and other countries. We will take steps to make sure that appropriate protection is in place to protect your information when it is transferred internationally.
- We keep your personal information in line with appropriate retention periods. The length of these periods is determined by relevant regulations, the information collected, and our obligations to you as a customer.
- We restrict access to your personal information only to those employees who need to know that information to provide product and services to you.
- Protecting your information is of the utmost importance to us. We use technical and physical safeguards to protect the security of your personal information from unauthorized disclosure. We also take every step to ensure that only authorized employees and third-parties with legitimate purposes have access to your personal information.

Your Privacy Rights

- You have the right to access your information and request corrections to your data.
- You may also have the right to object to our use of our information, to request the transfer of information you have provided, to withdraw permission for our use of your information, and to ask us not to use automated decision-making which will affect you.
- However, certain exceptions apply to these rights.

We may change our privacy practices to comply with applicable regulations. When we do, we will revise the “last update” date at the bottom of the statement.

REFERENCE GUIDE

Order Your Free Credit Report. To order your free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com, call toll-free at 877-322-8228, or complete the Annual Credit Report Request Form on the U.S. Federal Trade Commission’s website at www.ftc.gov and mail it to Annual Credit Report Request Service, P.O. Box 105281, Atlanta, GA 30348-5281. Do not contact the three credit bureaus individually; they provide your free report only through the website or toll-free number.

When you receive your credit report, review the entire report carefully. Look for any inaccuracies and/or accounts you don’t recognize, and notify the credit bureaus as soon as possible in the event there are any.

You have rights under the federal Fair Credit Reporting Act (“FCRA”). These include, among others, the right to know what is in your file; to dispute incomplete or inaccurate information; and to have consumer reporting agencies correct or delete inaccurate, incomplete, or unverifiable information. For more information about the FCRA, please visit <https://www.consumer.ftc.gov/articles/pdf-0096-fair-credit-reporting-act.pdf> or www.ftc.gov

Place a Fraud Alert on Your Credit File: To protect yourself from possible identity theft, consider placing a fraud alert on your credit file. A fraud alert helps protect you against the possibility of an identity thief opening new credit accounts in your name. When a merchant checks the credit history of someone applying for credit, the merchant gets a notice that the applicant may be a victim of identity theft. The alert notifies the merchant to take steps to verify the identity of the applicant. You can report potential identity theft to all three of the major credit bureaus by calling any one of the toll-free fraud numbers below. You will reach an automated telephone system that allows you to flag your file with a fraud alert at all three bureaus.

Equifax	P.O. Box 740241 Atlanta, Georgia 30374-0241	1-800-525-6285	www.equifax.com
Experian	P.O. Box 9532 Allen, Texas 75013	1-888-397-3742	www.experian.com
TransUnion	Fraud Victim Assistance Division P.O. Box 2000 Chester, Pennsylvania 19016	1-800-680-7289	www.transunion.com

Place a Security Freeze on Your Credit File. You have the right to place a “security freeze” on your credit file. A security freeze generally will prevent creditors from accessing your credit file at the three nationwide credit bureaus without your consent. You can request a security freeze free of charge by contacting the credit bureaus at:

Experian P.O. Box 9554 www.experian.com
Allen, Texas 75013

TransUnion Fraud Victim Assistance Division www.transunion.com
P.O. Box 2000
Chester, Pennsylvania 19016

The credit bureaus may require that you provide proper identification prior to honoring your request. In order to request a security freeze, you will need to provide the following information:

- Your full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.)
- Social Security number
- Date of birth
- If you have moved in the past five (5) years, provide the addresses where you have lived over the prior five years.
- Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill
- A legible photocopy of a government issued identification card (state driver's license or ID card, military identification, etc.)
- If you are a victim of identity theft, include a copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to law enforcement agency concerning identity theft

Placing a security freeze on your credit file may delay, interfere with, or prevent timely approval of any requests you make for credit, loans, employment, housing or other services. For more information regarding credit freezes, please contact the credit reporting agencies directly.

Contact the U.S. Federal Trade Commission. If you detect any incident of identity theft or fraud, promptly report the incident to your local law enforcement authorities, your state Attorney General and the Federal Trade Commission ("FTC"). If you believe your identity has been stolen, the FTC recommends that you take these additional steps.

- Close the accounts that you have confirmed or believe have been tampered with or opened fraudulently. Use the FTC's ID Theft Affidavit (available at www.ftc.gov/idtheft) when you dispute new unauthorized accounts.
- File a local police report. Obtain a copy of the police report and submit it to your creditors and any others that may require proof of the identity theft crime.

You can learn more about how to protect yourself from becoming an identity theft victim (including how to place a fraud alert or security freeze) by contacting the FTC:
