Notice of Data Breach

Dear Sample A. Sample:

Pitco Foods is writing to inform you of an event that may impact some of your information. While we are unaware of any attempted or actual misuse of your information, we are providing you with information about the event, our response, and the steps you may take to protect against the possibility of identity theft and fraud, should you feel it necessary to do so.

What Happened? On November 6, 2021, Pitco Foods identified unusual activity on its network. Pitco Foods immediately commenced an investigation to determine the nature and scope of the incident. Through the investigation, on or about December 8, 2021, Pitco Foods determined there was unauthorized access to our network between the end of October 2021 and November 6, 2021. Because there was unauthorized access to Pitco's network, we are unable to rule out that certain information may have been viewed or taken by an unauthorized third party. Again, there is no evidence of any identity theft or fraud connected to this event, but because your information may have been impacted, we are notifying you.

What Information Was Involved? Pitco Foods determined the following types of information related to you may have been in files on the impacted network: name and Social Security number.

Monitor Your Accounts

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order your free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. You may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of your credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended “fraud alert” on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a 1-year alert that is placed on a consumer’s credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer’s credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer’s identity before extending new credit. If you are a victim of identity theft, you are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should you wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any one of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a “credit freeze” on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer’s express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in your name without your consent. However, you should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in your credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application you make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, you cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on your credit report. To request a security freeze, you will need to provide the following information:

1. Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver’s license or ID card, etc.); and
7. A copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft if you are a victim of identity theft.

Should you wish to place a credit freeze, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:
