Dear <<first_name>> <<middle_name>> <<last_name>> <<suffix>>,

Sugarfina USA, LLC (“Sugarfina”) writes to inform you of a recent event that may impact the privacy of some of your payment card information. We wanted to provide you with information about the event, our response, and steps you may wish to take to better protect against the possibility of identity theft and fraud.

What Happened? Sugarfina recently began investigating suspicious activity reported by a credit card company. Sugarfina immediately launched an investigation into the suspicious activity and performed a review of its website code. On or around January 15, 2021, the investigation determined that Sugarfina was the victim of a sophisticated cyber-attack and on March 25, 2021 determined that this attack may have allowed unauthorized actors to gain access to certain customers’ payment card information used to make purchases on www.sugarfina.com between November 1, 2019 and September 3, 2020. However, Sugarfina is unable to confirm whether the unauthorized actors actually accessed any payment cards during this time period. Following these determinations, Sugarfina took steps to confirm the identity of the customers whose payment card information may have been used at www.sugarfina.com between November 1, 2019 and September 3, 2020. Sugarfina also took immediate steps to secure its website. You can safely and securely use your payment card on Sugarfina’s website.

What Information Was Involved? Through the investigation, Sugarfina confirmed that malicious code on its website could have allowed unauthorized actors to gain access to customer payment card information from orders placed on www.sugarfina.com between November 1, 2019 and September 3, 2020. The information potentially impacted by this event includes the cardholder’s name, billing address, credit card number, expiration date, CVV, and if provided, username and password.

What We Are Doing. Sugarfina takes this incident and the security of your information seriously. As part of our ongoing commitment to the privacy of personal information in our care, we are continuing to review our existing policies and procedures and to implement additional safeguards to further secure payment information. In addition to notifying potentially impacted individuals we are also notifying state regulators, as required.

What You Can Do. We encourage you to monitor your financial account statements and report any suspicious charges to the institution that issued your payment card. You can find the contact information on the back of your payment card. You can find out more about how to protect against potential identity theft and fraud in the enclosed Steps You Can Take to Help Protect Personal Information.

For More Information. We understand that you may have questions about this incident that are not addressed in this letter. If you have additional questions, please call our dedicated assistance line at 1-???-???-???? Monday through Friday between 8:00 am to 5:30 pm Central Time. You may also write to Sugarfina at: 1700 E. Walnut Ave, 5th Floor, El Segundo, CA 90245.

We sincerely regret any inconvenience or concern this incident has caused.

Sincerely,

Scott LaPorta

Chief Executive Officer

STEPS YOU CAN TAKE TO HELP PROTECT PERSONAL INFORMATION

Monitor Your Accounts

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order your free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. You may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of your credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended “fraud alert” on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a 1-year alert that is placed on a consumer’s credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer’s credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer’s identity before extending new credit. If you are a victim of identity theft, you are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should you wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any one of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a “credit freeze” on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer’s express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in your name without your consent. However, you should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in your credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application you make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, you cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on your credit report. To request a security freeze, you will need to provide the following information:

1. Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver’s license or ID card, etc.); and
7. A copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft if you are a victim of identity theft.

Should you wish to place a credit freeze, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:

Additional Information

You may further educate yourself regarding identity theft, fraud alerts, credit freezes, and the steps you can take to protect your personal information by contacting the consumer reporting bureaus, the Federal Trade Commission, or your state Attorney General. The Federal Trade Commission may be reached at: 600 Pennsylvania Avenue NW, Washington, DC 20580; www.identitytheft.gov; 1-877-ID-THEFT (1-877-438-4338); and TTY: 1-866-653-4261. The Federal Trade Commission also encourages those who discover that their information has been misused to file a complaint with them. You can obtain further information on how to file such a complaint by way of the contact information listed above. You have the right to file a police report if you ever experience identity theft or fraud. Please note that in order to file a report with law enforcement for identity theft, you will likely need to provide some proof that you have been a victim. Instances of known or suspected identity theft should also be reported to law enforcement and your state Attorney General. This notice has not been delayed by law enforcement.
