NOTICE OF <<SECURITY INCIDENT/DATA BREACH>>

Dear <<Name 1>> <<Name 2>>:

Totally Promotional is writing to notify you of an incident that may involve some of your payment card information. This notice provides information about the incident, our response, and resources available to you to help protect your information from possible misuse, should you feel it necessary to do so.

What Happened? On or about July 10, 2024, Totally Promotional identified suspicious activity on its website's payment platform. Totally Promotional promptly commenced an investigation to better understand the nature and scope of this activity. Through this investigation, it was determined that an unauthorized actor placed code on the website that allowed it to capture certain customer payment card information entered during particular time frames between November 20, 2023 and July 11, 2024, for a brief period of time on July 18, 2024, and between October 19, 2024 and October 20, 2024. This additional period of access was quickly spotted and remediated due to the additional technical and administrative safeguards Totally Promotional had implemented. Upon becoming aware of this, Totally Promotional undertook a review of the affected data to determine what information was impacted and to whom it related. This process was completed on October 22, 2024 with respect to the data impacted between October 19, 2024 and October 20, 2024. We are notifying you because the investigation determined that certain payment card information related to you could have been captured by the unauthorized code during that timeframe.

What Information Was Involved? The data involved included your name and payment card information.

What We Are Doing. Upon identifying this incident, we quickly took steps to investigate and respond, including removing the code at issue and reviewing and adjusting our existing policies and procedures to reduce the likelihood of a similar future event. Totally Promotional is notifying individuals and relevant regulators as required.

What You Can Do. We encourage you to remain vigilant against incidents of identity theft and fraud by reviewing your account statements and monitoring your free credit reports for suspicious activity and to detect errors. If you see a suspicious charge on your account statement, we recommend contacting the bank that issued the payment card involved. You may also review the information contained in the attached Steps You Can Take to Help Protect Your Information.

For More Information. We understand that you may have questions about this incident that are not addressed in this letter. If you have additional questions, please call our call center at (419) 315-9398, ext. 260 between 7:30 am – 4:00 pm eastern Monday -Thursday and 7:30 am - 1:30 pm eastern on Fridays. You may write to Totally Promotional at 450 South 2nd Street, Coldwater, OH 45828.

Sincerely,

Totally Promotional

STEPS YOU CAN TAKE TO PROTECT PERSONAL INFORMATION

Monitor Your Accounts

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order a free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. Consumers may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of their credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended “fraud alert” on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a 1-year alert that is placed on a consumer’s credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer’s credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer’s identity before extending new credit. If consumers are the victim of identity theft, they are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should consumers wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a “credit freeze” on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer’s express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in a consumer’s name without consent. However, consumers should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in their credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application they make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, consumers cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on their credit report. To request a credit freeze, individuals may need to provide some or all of the following information:

1. Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver’s license or ID card, etc.); and
7. A copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft if they are a victim of identity theft.

Should consumers wish to place a credit freeze or fraud alert, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:

Additional Information

Consumers may further educate themselves regarding identity theft, fraud alerts, credit freezes, and the steps they can take to protect your personal information by contacting the consumer reporting bureaus, the Federal Trade Commission, or their state Attorney General. The Federal Trade Commission may be reached at: 600 Pennsylvania Avenue NW, Washington, D.C. 20580; www.identitytheft.gov; 1-877-ID-THEFT (1-877-438-4338); and TTY: 1-866-653-4261. The Federal Trade Commission also encourages those who discover that their information has been misused to file a complaint with them. Consumers can obtain further information on how to file such a complaint by way of the contact information listed above. Consumers have the right to file a police report if they ever experience identity theft or fraud. Please note that in order to file a report with law enforcement for identity theft, consumers will likely need to provide some proof that they have been a victim. Instances of known or suspected identity theft should also be reported to law enforcement and the relevant state Attorney General. This notice has not been delayed by law enforcement.
