Re: Notice of Data <<Variable Text 1>>

Dear <<Full Name>>:

I am writing to inform you that Walsworth Publishing Company (“Walsworth”) recently experienced a data security incident which may have impacted your personal information. Walsworth takes the privacy and security of all information within its possession very seriously. Please read this letter carefully as it contains information regarding the incident and information about steps that you can take to help protect your information, including enrolling in the complimentary credit monitoring and identity protection services we are making available to you.

What Happened? On February 9, 2024, Walsworth was alerted to the occurrence of a potential data security incident involving its website and purchasing page. Walsworth promptly took steps to secure the website and hired cybersecurity experts to conduct an investigation to determine the nature and scope of the issue. Although the investigation did not find evidence of personal data exposure, Walsworth chose to notify customers out of an abundance of caution. After an in depth review of the potential data involved, Walsworth determined on November 1, 2024, that your customer information was potentially involved.

What Information was Involved? The information that may have been affected in connection with this incident includes your name as well as your payment card number, expiration date, and CVV or security code.

What Are We Doing? As soon as Walsworth discovered the potential incident, Walsworth took the steps discussed above. In addition, Walsworth coordinated efforts with the payment card processor and will work with them in any investigation. In order to reduce the likelihood of a similar incident occurring in the future, Walsworth also implemented additional measures to enhance the security of its website.

In addition, Walsworth is providing you with access to <<12/24>> months of complimentary identity protection services through CyEx, a global technology services leader. The deadline to enroll in these services is <<Enrollment Deadline>>.

What You Can Do. You can follow the recommendations included with this letter to protect your personal information. Walsworth recommends that you review your current and past credit and debit card account statements for discrepancies or unusual activity. If you see anything that you do not understand or that looks suspicious, or if you suspect that any fraudulent transactions have taken place, you should call the bank that issued the credit or debit card immediately.

In addition, you can contact CyEx representatives who will work on your behalf to help resolve issues you may experience as a result of this incident.

STEPS YOU CAN TAKE TO HELP PROTECT YOUR INFORMATION

Review Your Account Statements and Notify Law Enforcement of Suspicious Activity: As a precautionary measure, we recommend that you remain vigilant by reviewing your account statements and credit reports closely. If you detect any suspicious activity on an account, you should promptly notify the financial institution or company with which the account is maintained. You also should promptly report any fraudulent activity or any suspected incidence of identity theft to proper law enforcement authorities, your state attorney general, and/or the Federal Trade Commission (FTC).

Request a Copy of Your Credit Report: You may obtain a free copy of your credit report from each of the three major credit reporting agencies once every 12 months by visiting <https://www.annualcreditreport.com>, calling toll-free 1-877-322-8228, or by completing an Annual Credit Report Request Form and mailing it to Annual Credit Report Request Service, P.O. Box 105281, Atlanta, GA 30348. You also can contact one of the following three national credit reporting agencies:

Equifax

P.O. Box 105851
Atlanta, GA 30348
1-800-525-6285
www.equifax.com

Experian

P.O. Box 9532
Allen, TX 75013

TransUnion

P.O. Box 2000
Chester, PA 19016
1-800-916-8800

Place a Fraud Alert: You may want to consider placing a fraud alert on your credit report. An initial fraud alert is free and will stay on your credit file for at least one year. The alert informs creditors of possible fraudulent activity within your report and requests that the creditor contact you prior to establishing any accounts in your name. To place a fraud alert on your credit report, contact any of the three credit reporting agencies identified above. Additional information is available at <https://www.annualcreditreport.com>.

Put a Security Freeze: You have the right to put a security freeze on your credit file for up to one year at no cost. This will prevent new credit from being opened in your name without the use of a PIN number that is issued to you when you initiate the freeze. A security freeze is designed to prevent potential creditors from accessing your credit report without your consent. As a result, using a security freeze may interfere with or delay your ability to obtain credit. You must separately place a security freeze on your credit file with each credit reporting agency. In order to place a security freeze, you may be required to provide the consumer reporting agency with information that identifies you, including your full name, Social Security Number, date of birth, current and previous addresses, a copy of your state-issued identification card, and a recent utility bill, bank statement or insurance statement.

Additional Free Resources: You can obtain information from the consumer reporting agencies, the FTC, or from your respective state Attorney General about fraud alerts, security freezes, and steps you can take toward preventing identity theft. You may report suspected identity theft to local law enforcement, including to the FTC or to the Attorney General in your state.
