1 Plaintiff, the People of the State of California (“Plaintiff” or the “People”), by and through 2 Rob Bonta, Attorney General of the State of California, allege the following:

3 INTRODUCTION

4 1. For decades, the law has required landlords to keep their rental properties in safe
5 and habitable condition. As the California Supreme Court observed more than 50 years 6 ago, “[w]hen American city dwellers, both rich and poor, seek ‘shelter’ today, they seek a well 7 known package of goods and services—a package which includes not merely walls and ceilings, 8 but also adequate heat, light and ventilation, serviceable plumbing facilities, secure windows and 9 doors, proper sanitation, and proper maintenance.”¹

10 2. The Defendant property-management companies, real-estate ownership entities, 11 and individuals (collectively, “the Nijjar Companies” or “Defendants”) operate a multi-billion-12 dollar real estate empire, controlling more than 22,000 housing units throughout the state. Owned 13 primarily by Swaranjit “Mike” Nijjar, his sister Daljit “DJ” Kler, and his adult sons, the Nijjar 14 family’s rental empire is among the largest providers of rental housing in California. But rather 15 than provide their tenants—primarily low-income families—with the basic package of housing 16 goods the law requires, the Nijjar Companies rent out unsafe and uninhabitable units, disregard 17 tenants’ requests for repairs, and fail to eradicate pests, inflicting harm and anguish on tenants.

18 3. While Defendants profit from this business model, their tenants are left with 19 inhumane living conditions: ceilings that collapse after months of leaking; walls so damp that 20 mushrooms sprout indoors; sewage that flows up through tenants’ drains and into their hallways; 21 and roaches that crawl across their sleeping children—to list just a few conditions that plague 22 tenants. In 2016, a fire broke out in a Nijjar family mobile home that was not authorized for human 23 occupancy, killing a five-month-old baby girl. In the aftermath of the fire, the Department of Real 24 Estate revoked the licenses associated with Nijjar Realty, Inc.—a predecessor to the entities named 25 in this Complaint—for violating laws that protect the public. But Defendants simply reorganized 26 their business structure and, in the years since, have continued leasing substandard, unsafe rental 27 properties to vulnerable Californians.

28 ¹ Green v. Superior Court (1974) 10 Cal.3d 616, 623 (internal quotation marks omitted).

1 4. Before January 2020, the Nijjar Companies’ management companies operated 2 under the names PAMA Management and I E Rental Homes. Today, tenants of the Nijjar
3 Companies know them by the names of their current property-management entities: (a) Bridge 4 Management, which operates in the Antelope Valley area of Los Angeles County and in parts of 5 San Bernardino County; (b) Equity Management, in Bakersfield, Fresno, Sacramento, and 6 Stockton; (c) Hightower Management, in and near the City of San Bernardino; (d) Legacy 7 Management, in western San Bernardino and Riverside Counties and eastern Los Angeles County; 8 (e) Pro Management, in eastern San Bernardino and Riverside Counties; (f) Regency Management, 9 in metropolitan Los Angeles and the San Gabriel Valley; and (g) Mobile Management, which 10 manages mobile-home parks throughout the state. In addition, an entity called Golden 11 Management handles certain accounting and management operations for all of the above-listed 12 management entities, which began operating in January 2020.

13 5. The Nijjar Companies exploit California’s shortage of affordable rental units to 14 offer housing that does not meet the minimum habitability requirements the law imposes, and to 15 violate other crucial tenant protections. They have been able to operate in this manner because 16 their tenants often have nowhere else to go. And when one fed-up tenant does leave, or is evicted, 17 the state’s housing shortage ensures that another can be found to take their place, caught in the 18 impossible choice between homelessness and unsafe rental housing. In some areas, like the towns 19 of Hemet and San Jacinto in Riverside County, the Nijjar Companies hold such a substantial 20 percentage of the no-frills housing stock that tenants report having difficulty finding a rental that 21 the Companies do not own or manage.

22 6. Defendants’ business acts and practices impose enormous financial and emotional 23 burdens on their tens of thousands of tenants, who pay the price for their landlord’s decision to 24 underinvest in maintenance. Their acts and practices also impose costs on surrounding 25 communities, including local agencies that enforce laws relating to housing and public health 26 (“code enforcement agencies”), which spend disproportionate amounts of their limited resources 27 trying to bring the Nijjar Companies’ properties into compliance. Code enforcement agencies 28 across the state regularly cite Defendants for plumbing and ceiling leaks, pest infestations,

1 hazardous structures, and other unsafe and unsanitary conditions. Since 2019, Defendants have 2 received several thousand violation notices for habitability defects, with most of these notices 3 citing not one but multiple defects, and some citing hundreds or even thousands of defects at a 4 single property.

5 7. Financially speaking, Defendants are fully capable of investing the resources 6 necessary to bring their buildings into compliance. They simply have chosen to operate outside of 7 the law, and not to prioritize safe and decent living conditions for tenants. In 2022, for example, 8 Defendants brought in more than $330 million in rental income and were left with around $70 9 million in profit, after accounting for expenses and the financing of debt on their properties. That 10 same year, Defendants spent more money from their corporate accounts on meals and 11 entertainment—including throwing parties for non-employee family members—than they spent to 12 provide badly needed pest-control treatments for their tens of thousands of tenants.

13 8. Beyond choosing not to maintain their properties in habitable condition, the Nijjar 14 Companies routinely violate other landlord-tenant laws. These violations include the following:

15 9. Engaging in unlicensed real estate activities: In order to lease out units, collect 16 rent from tenants, and engage in other real estate activities, each of the Nijjar family’s property
17 management companies is required to first designate to the Department of Real Estate a licensed 18 broker who also serves as an officer of the management company and who supervises activities 19 requiring a license. The purpose of this requirement is to protect the public and ensure 20 accountability. For years, the Nijjar management companies have violated the prohibition on 21 engaging in real estate brokerage activities without a designated broker-officer, and have engaged 22 in hundreds of thousands of acts that required proper licensure.

23 10. Discriminating against prospective tenants with Section 8 vouchers: The Nijjar
24 Companies discriminate against potential tenants who wish to use Section 8 housing assistance 25 vouchers to help pay the rent. At their superiors’ direction, employees refuse to rent to voucher 26 holders, including by falsely telling them that rental units are not available or that there is a 27 “waiting list” for applicants with Section 8 vouchers. Discriminating against a prospective tenant 28

1 because they use a Section 8 voucher violates California law and deprives low-income families of 2 housing.

3 11. Causing tenants to agree to deceptive, unenforceable lease terms: The leases 4 used by the Nijjar Companies purport to require tenants to waive rights guaranteed by law, 5 including the right to sue their landlord and present their case to a jury, to make repairs that the 6 landlord neglected and deduct the cost from rent, and to have the landlord exercise a duty of care 7 to prevent personal injury or personal property damage. These terms are unlawful, and including 8 them in leases misleads tenants about their legal remedies.

9 12. Violating the California Translation Act: The Nijjar Companies actively market 10 their rental units to Spanish-speaking communities—including by advertising in Spanish—and 11 conduct the application and leasing process in Spanish with a large proportion of their prospective 12 tenants. But they fail to provide prospective tenants with Spanish translations of leasing documents 13 and other key notices, as California law requires, thus forcing many of their tenants to enter into 14 contracts that they do not understand.

15 13. Violating the Tenant Protection Act's notice requirements: Enacted in 2020, the 16 Tenant Protection Act (TPA) limits the circumstances under which a landlord may evict a tenant 17 without fault, and also caps annual rent increases at 10 percent or less. Because the TPA applies to 18 most but not all California tenants, the law requires landlords to provide notice as to whether or 19 not a tenancy is covered by the law and strictly sets forth criteria for that notice. The TPA notices 20 included in the Nijjar Companies' form leases do not comply with the law's requirements, and 21 thus fail to make tenants aware of their legal rights.

22 14. Violating the Tenant Protection Act's cap on rent increases for covered 23 tenancies: Defendants also violate the TPA's cap on rent increases by shifting mandatory utilities 24 costs—which used to be paid by the landlord—onto certain of their tenants. When combined with 25 annual rent increases, these additional utilities payments result in increases in the gross rental rate 26 that exceed the TPA's maximum allowable increase within a 12-month period, thereby imposing 27 substantial and unforeseen costs on Defendants' low-income tenants.

15. Evicting tenants without complying with the notice requirements of the Civil Code, section 1962: When a landlord or management company acquires a new rental property, California law requires them to provide tenants written notice of how, when, and to whom to pay rent and of the landlord’s agent for service of process. Because the Nijjar Companies failed to give compliant notices to many of their tenants, the law barred them from evicting these tenants for non-payment. They did so anyway.

16. The People bring this lawsuit to put a stop to the Nijjar Companies' persistent misconduct. This lawsuit seeks injunctive relief necessary to bring the Nijjar Companies' business acts and practices into compliance with the law; to require necessary repairs to, and ongoing maintenance of, their over 22,000 rental units; and to mandate that Defendants devote adequate resources to their property management operations to ensure that they comply with California's tenant-protection laws. It also seeks restitution for their current and former tenants, disgorgement of the Nijjar Companies' ill-gotten profits, and civil penalties, among other relief allowed in law and equity.

PLAINTIFF

17. The Plaintiff is the People of the State of California. The People bring this action by and through Rob Bonta, Attorney General and the state's chief law officer under article V, section 13 of the California Constitution. The Attorney General is authorized by Business and Professions Code sections 17204 and 17206 to bring actions to enforce the Unfair Competition Law.

DEFENDANTS

18. As set forth below, the Defendants in this action are a collection of partnerships, corporations, and individuals that at all relevant times have operated as a unified, integrated enterprise to own, manage, and profit from the rental properties at issue in this Complaint.

19. Defendants are sorted by this Complaint into three groups: (1) the Ownership Entities, which are in most cases partnerships that hold title to rental property that is the subject of this Complaint, or corporations that are partners of such partnerships; (2) the Property Management Entities, which are corporations that manage the rental properties owned by the

1 Ownership Entities; and (3) the Individual Defendants, who benefit from, and control or have the 2 ability to control, various of the Ownership Entities and Property Management Entities. For easier 3 reference, a list of all Defendants is attached as Exhibit A and is incorporated by reference.

4 20. Additional allegations regarding joint venture liability, single enterprise liability, 5 agency liability, alter ego liability, and the liability of Individual Defendants Swaranjit “Mike” 6 Nijjar and Daljit “DJ” Kler are set forth at Paragraphs 237 to 267 of the Complaint.

7 21. Plaintiff is not aware of the true names and capacities of defendants sued herein as 8 DOES 1 through 100, inclusive, and therefore sues those defendants by fictitious names. Each 9 fictitiously named defendant is responsible in some manner for the violations of law alleged.
10 Plaintiff will amend this Complaint to add the true names of the fictitiously named defendants 11 once they are discovered.

12 22. When this Complaint references the conduct of the “Nijjar Companies” or of 13 “Defendants,” such references mean that the officers, directors, agents, employees, contractors, or 14 representatives of one or more of the named Defendants engaged in such conduct, or failed to 15 adequately supervise or properly control or direct their agents or contractors while engaged in the 16 management, direction, operation or control of the affairs of such named Defendant(s), and did so 17 while acting within the scope of their employment, agency, or authority.

18 I. DEFENDANT OWNERSHIP ENTITIES

19 23. Each partnership listed below owns or used to own rental property that is the 20 subject of this Complaint, during the period January 1, 2019, to the present. Each partnership listed 21 below is referred to herein as an “Owner Partnership.”

22 24. Each corporation listed below has represented itself to be the general partner of 23 one of the Owner Partnerships and is referred to herein in as a “General Partner Corporation.”²

24 25. The Owner Partnerships and the General Partner Corporations are holding 25 companies created for and serving the sole purpose of owning properties.

26 _____
27 ² With a handful of exceptions, each General Partner Corporation typically has a name 28 nearly identical to that of the Owner Partnership for which it serves as general partner. For example, defendant Group XIII Properties, Inc. (a General Partner Corporation), has represented that it is the general partner of defendant Group XIII Properties, LP (an Owner Partnership).

26. Each General Partner Corporation owns between 1 and 5 percent of the Owner Partnership for which it serves as general partner, and receives 1 to 5 percent of the profits and/or cash distributions derived from the Owner Partnership's income.

27. Typically, at least a majority of shares of each General Partner Corporation is owned by a Nijjar family member and held in a living trust associated with that individual, or in the alternative, owned by the living trust associated with a Nijjar family member. (Exceptions to this typical structure are addressed below and indicated in Exhibit A with an asterisk.)

28. The remaining 95 to 99 percent of each Owner Partnership is typically owned by the same Nijjar family member and held in a living trust associated with that individual, or in the alternative, owned by the living trust associated with that Nijjar family member. Plaintiff is informed and believes and thereupon alleges that the Nijjar family member or, in the alternative, that individual's living trust, directly receives 95 to 99 percent of the profits and/or cash distributions derived from the Owner Partnership's income (except where other individuals have an ownership interest in the Owner Partnership).

29. As a result of the control and ownership structure of the Owner Partnerships, as described above, in which the partners consist only of a Nijjar family member (or their trust) and a corporation solely owned by that same family member (or their trust), an individual Nijjar family member typically has sole financial interest in each Owner Partnership. Key family members with a financial interest in one or more of the Owner Partnerships include Defendant Swaranjit "Mike" Nijjar; his sister, Defendant Daljit "DJ" Kler; and his three adult sons, Michael Nijjar, Sabraj Nijjar, and Sanjeet Nijjar.

30. Exhibit A illustrates the relationship between the Owner Partnerships, General Partner Corporations, and the Nijjar family member with sole financial interest in the Owner Partnership. An excerpt of Exhibit A is copied below for reference:

Owner Partnership	General Partner Corporation	Family Member with Sole Financial Interest
Group XIII Properties, LP	Group XIII Properties, Inc.	Swaranjit "Mike" Nijjar

1 As shown in this excerpt, Defendant Group XIII Properties, LP is a partnership that owns rental
2 properties at issue in this Complaint. Defendant Group XIII Properties, Inc., is a California
3 corporation that has represented that it is the general partner of Defendant Group XIII Properties, 4 LP. Swaranjit “Mike” Nijjar has sole financial interest in Group XIII Properties, LP. Plaintiff is 5 informed and believes and thereupon alleges that at least the majority of shares of Defendant
6 Group XIII Properties, Inc. is held by Swaranjit “Mike” Nijjar, or in the alternative, held by him
7 in his capacity as trustee of either the OADOA Family Trust or the Nijjar Family Trust. Plaintiff 8 also is informed and believes that the other partner of Defendant Group XIII Properties, LP is

19 II. DEFENDANT PROPERTY MANAGEMENT ENTITIES

20 105. Each corporation listed below (“Property Management Entity”) manages or used 21 to manage rental property that is the subject of this Complaint, during the period January 1, 2019 22 to the present. While the vast majority—around 95 percent—of the rental properties that these 23 entities manage are owned by one of the above-listed Owner Partnerships, the Property 24 Management Entities also manage some rental properties owned by third parties. The activities of 25 the below Property Management Entities include renting, offering to rent, placing for rent, 26 soliciting prospective tenants for, and collecting rents from, real property or improvements 27 thereon; maintaining such property; and communicating with tenants about maintenance requests, 28 lease terms, security deposits, and evictions.

1 106. Defendant Bridge Management Inc. (“Bridge Management”) is a Nevada
2 corporation doing business in California since January 1, 2020, or earlier. Bridge Management 3 engages in property management activities and is the successor of PAMA Management, Inc. and 4 I E Rental Homes, Inc.

5 107. Defendant Equity Management Inc. (“Equity Management”) is a Nevada
6 corporation doing business in California since January 1, 2020, or earlier. Equity Management 7 engages in property management activities and is the successor of PAMA Management, Inc. and 8 I E Rental Homes, Inc.

9 108. Defendant Golden Management Services Inc. (“Golden Management”) is a 10 Nevada corporation doing business in California since January 1, 2020, or earlier. Golden 11 Management engages in property management activities and is the successor of PAMA
12 Management, Inc. and I E Rental Homes, Inc.

13 109. Defendant Hightower Management Inc. (“Hightower Management”) is a Nevada 14 corporation doing business in California since January 1, 2020, or earlier. Hightower
15 Management engages in property management activities and is the successor of PAMA
16 Management, Inc. and I E Rental Homes, Inc.

17 110. Defendant Legacy Management Services Inc. (“Legacy Management”) is a 18 Nevada corporation doing business in California since January 1, 2020, or earlier. Legacy
19 Management engages in property management activities and is the successor of PAMA
20 Management, Inc. and I E Rental Homes, Inc.

21 111. Defendant Mobile Management Services Inc. (“Mobile Management”) is a 22 Nevada corporation doing business in California since January 1, 2020, or earlier. Mobile
24 Management, Inc. and I E Rental Homes, Inc.

25 112. Defendant Pro Management Company Inc. (“Pro Management”) is a Nevada
26 corporation doing business in California since January 1, 2020, or earlier. Pro Management 27 engages in property management activities and is the successor of PAMA Management, Inc. and 28 I E Rental Homes, Inc.

1 113. Defendant Regency Management Inc. (“Regency Management”) is a Nevada
2 corporation doing business in California since January 1, 2020, or earlier. Regency Management 3 engages in property management activities and is the successor of PAMA Management, Inc. and 4 I E Rental Homes, Inc.

5 114. Defendant PAMA Management, Inc. (“PAMA Management”) is a California
6 corporation. PAMA Management engaged in property management activities prior to January 1, 7 2020.

8 115. Defendant I E Rental Homes, Inc. (“I E Rental Homes”) is a California
9 corporation. I E Rental Homes engaged in property management activities prior to January 1, 10 2020.

11 116. In 2019, agents of PAMA Management and/or Nijjar family members organized 12 the eight Nevada-incorporated Property Management Entities named in Paragraphs 106 through 13 113 to carry on the property management and administrative functions of PAMA Management 14 and I E Rental Homes starting on January 1, 2020. Nijjar family members were the only 15 shareholders of PAMA Management and I E Rental Homes, and Nijjar family members continue 16 to be the sole shareholders of the eight new Nevada corporations. (See Exhibit A.) The same key 17 individuals who operated the property management functions of PAMA Management and I E 18 Rental Homes continue to control operation of the eight Nevada-incorporated Property 19 Management Entities. The vast majority of employees who had been working for PAMA 20 Management in the primary El Monte office on December 31, 2019, became employees of newly 21 created Golden Management on January 1, 2020. Similarly, the vast majority of employees who 22 had been working for PAMA Management or I E Rental Homes in regional offices and at rental 23 properties on December 31, 2019, became employees of one of the other seven newly created 24 Nevada Property Management Entities on January 1, 2020. The Nevada corporations carried on 25 the same business as the previous corporations, operating out of the same central office in El 26 Monte, California or the same regional property management offices as the previous corporations.
27 The eight Nevada-incorporated Property Management Entities listed in Paragraphs 106 through 28 113 thus are a mere continuation of PAMA Management and I E Rental Homes, and are therefore

1 liable as their successors for their obligations and wrongdoing with respect to property 2 management activities.

3 III. INDIVIDUAL DEFENDANTS

4 117. Defendant Swaranjit Nijjar, a/k/a Mike Nijjar, an individual, resides in Los 19 Acting alone or in concert with others, Ms. Kler has at all relevant times participated in, 20 controlled or had the ability to control, and had knowledge of the acts and practices alleged in this 21 Complaint.

22 119. Additional allegations pertaining to Mr. Nijjar and Ms. Kler, specifically, are set 23 forth at Paragraphs 256 to 267.

24 IV. DEFENDANT DKNI, INC.

25 120. Defendant DKNI, Inc. ("DKNI") is a California corporation owned and operated 26 by Defendant Daljit Kler that participates in the management of rental property that is the subject 27 of the allegations in this Complaint. Ms. Kler is the sole owner of DKNI, Inc. and the only person 28 to provide services through DKNI, Inc., as it has no other employees.

The agreement was extended, via a continuous series of separately executed amendments, to January 1, 2024; July 1, 2024; November 1, 2024; March 1, 2025; April 11, 2025; May 31, 2025; and June 30, 2025. Under the tolling agreement and extensions, claims that the People might bring against the tolled Defendants relating to their business acts and practices have been continuously tolled since January 1, 2023.⁴

123. A tolling agreement between the People and Defendant Daljit Kler became effective on January 1, 2024, and tolled claims until July 1, 2024. The agreement was extended, via a continuous series of separately executed amendments, to November 1, 2024; March 1, 2025; April 11, 2025; May 31, 2025; and June 30, 2025. Under the tolling agreement and extensions, claims that the People might bring against Daljit Kler relating to her business acts and practices have been continuously tolled since January 1, 2024.

124. The Parties did not name the following Defendants in their tolling agreements: Azeroth 28 LP; Azeroth 28, Inc.; B D Opportunity 1, LP; BK 17 Homes LLC; DKNI, Inc.; MP Arrow Lane LP; MP Arrow Lane Inc.; Waterman V Inc.; and Waterman V LP. By their terms, the tolling agreements and extensions between the parties apply to any entities or individuals (including any of the named Defendants listed in this Paragraph 124) that are affiliates, parents, ⁴ The parties tolled claims for an entity known as SPSSM Investments – V, Inc., which changed its name to Golden Opportunity No. 14 Inc., a named Defendant, on June 25, 2024. The parties also tolled claims for an entity known as Starlite Mgmt – V, Inc., which changed its name to Golden Opportunity No. 17 Inc., a named Defendant, on November 19, 2024. The tolling agreement and extensions are binding upon Golden Opportunity No. 14 Inc. and Golden Opportunity No. 17 Inc.

1 sisters, subsidiaries, successors, or assigns of any tolled Defendant. These entities are affiliates of 2 tolled Defendants, or tolling otherwise applies to them due to their participation in a joint venture 3 or single enterprise with the tolled Defendants.

4 JURISDICTION AND VENUE

5 125. This Court has original jurisdiction over this action pursuant to California, 6 Constitution article VI, section 10.

7 126. This Court has jurisdiction over Defendants because each Defendant engages in 8 one or more of the following activities in California: acquiring or owning residential rental 9 properties located in California; renting, offering to rent, soliciting for prospective tenants for, 10 and collecting rents from real property or improvements thereon, located in California; 11 maintaining rental property located in California; and communicating with tenants about 12 tenancies at properties located in California.

13 127. Moreover, the Property Management Entities, Ownership Entities, and DKNI
14 operate as a joint venture (or, alternatively, all Defendants operate as a single business enterprise) 15 that advertises and offers its services in California and intentionally avails itself of the markets of 16 California, including by obtaining California real estate licenses, owning rental properties in 17 California, managing rental properties in California, maintaining a staff in California, entering 18 into contracts with California tenants, and maintaining principal places of business in the state of 19 California, so as to render the exercise of jurisdiction over all Defendants by the California courts 20 consistent with traditional notions of fair play and substantial justice.

21 128. The violations of law alleged in this Complaint occurred in the County of Los 22 Angeles and elsewhere throughout California. Venue is proper in this Court pursuant to Code of 23 Civil Procedure section 393, subdivision (a), because the violations of law that occurred in the 24 County of Los Angeles are a “part of the cause” upon which the Plaintiff seeks the recovery of 25 penalties imposed by statute.

26 129. Venue is also proper in this Court pursuant to Code of Civil Procedure section 27 395.5 because a substantial part of the events or omissions giving rise to the claims alleged 28 occurred in this County, a large number of Californians harmed by Defendants’ acts or omissions

1 reside in Los Angeles County, Defendants maintain a principal place of business in the City of El 2 Monte, in Los Angeles County, and therefore Defendants’ liability arises in the County of Los 3 Angeles. In addition, Defendants Swaranjit “Mike” Nijjar and Daljit “DJ” Kler are residents of 4 Los Angeles County.

5 FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS

6 I. DEFENDANTS OWN AND MANAGE OVER 22,000 RENTAL UNITS FOR LOW-INCOME 7 TENANTS IN CALIFORNIA

8 130. The Nijjar Companies have been in the business of owning and leasing rental 9 housing for over 40 years. They currently own and manage over 4,700 rental properties—with a 10 total of over 22,000 housing units—in California, primarily in Los Angeles, Kern, San 11 Bernardino, Riverside, Fresno, and San Joaquin Counties. These holdings range from large multi-12 family complexes with over 400 units to single-family homes and all property types in between.
13 They also own and manage around 40 mobile-home parks. Collectively, the Nijjar Companies are 14 among the largest landlords in the state. A list of properties located in California known to be 15 currently or recently owned by Defendants is attached as Exhibit B and is incorporated by 16 reference.⁵

17 131. The Nijjar Companies are constantly acquiring additional units for the family’s 18 rental empire from sources that include foreclosure sales. They added over 600 units to their 19 portfolio in 2022, over 1,350 in 2021, and over 900 in 2020. During the Great Recession, from 20 2007 to 2010, the Nijjar Companies acquired more than 1,800 units, primarily in the Inland 21 Empire region of San Bernardino and Riverside Counties. Defendants expend time and resources 22 acquiring new properties despite not investing the necessary resources into their existing 23 properties to make them safe, habitable, and responsibly managed.

24 132. The Nijjar Companies rent primarily to low-income Californians. Average

25 ⁵ This list may not be exhaustive. Because properties are often transferred among 26 Defendant Ownership Entities, this list may not name the current owner of a property at the time 27 of filing. In addition to the over 4,700 properties with over 22,000 units that Defendants own and 28 manage, the Defendant Property Management Entities also manage about 1,200 additional units owned by third parties, which are not included in Exhibit B. Plaintiff is informed and believes and thereupon alleges that these rental units are owned primarily by extended family, friends, and business associates of the Nijjar family.

1 household incomes in the areas where their properties are concentrated are typically at least 30 2 percent below the state average, in some areas even lower, and often have a substantially higher 3 percentage of residents living below the poverty line. Residents of these areas are also more likely 4 than the average Californian to be persons of color, to speak Spanish, and to be the sole financial 5 provider for their household, and they are far less likely than the average Californian to have 6 completed a college degree. Many of Defendants’ tenants have fallen in and out of homelessness 7 in the past and are on the brink of it if they lose their current housing.

8 133. Members of the Nijjar family and their representatives are well aware that they 9 serve a vulnerable population. They have publicly stated that their “mission” is “providing 10 affordable housing to those who need it” and have described their typical tenants at one large Los 11 Angeles property as “hard working, primarily Hispanic families of modest means” who tend to 12 “work low-paying but essential jobs as janitors, construction workers, and movers.”⁶ While 13 Defendants purport to be providing a vital service to their tenant communities, they in fact 14 generate huge profits by collecting rents for homes that do not meet minimum health and safety 15 standards and by depriving their property management operations of the resources needed to 16 comply with the law.

17 II. DEFENDANTS RESTRUCTURED THEIR PROPERTY MANAGEMENT OPERATIONS IN 18 2020, AFTER A FATAL FIRE, BUT HAVE NOT COMPLIED WITH LICENSING REQUIREMENTS SINCE RESTRUCTURING

19 134. Each of the Property Management Entities listed in Paragraphs 106 through 113
20 began operating in 2020. Before that, three predecessor entities—Nijjar Realty, Inc., PAMA 21 Management, Inc., and I E Rental Homes, Inc.—managed the Nijjar family’s portfolio of rental 22 properties.⁷ However, in January 2019, after a contested hearing, the Department of Real Estate

27 ⁷ Nijjar Realty, Inc., was incorporated by Swaranjit “Mike” Nijjar in the 1970s and at 28 some point began doing business as “Pama Management Company.” In 2015, PAMA Management, Inc. was formed as a corporation, and Plaintiff is informed and believes and thereupon alleges that PAMA Management, Inc., thereafter generally took on the property management functions of Nijjar Realty, Inc. From approximately 2017 to 2019, PAMA Management, Inc., also did business as “IE Rental Homes” when it engaged in managing certain

1 revoked the licenses of Nijjar Realty and its designated broker-officer, Everet Miller, rendering 2 Nijjar Realty, Inc. and PAMA Management, Inc. unable to operate.⁸

3 135. The revocation of Nijjar Realty's and Miller's licenses stemmed from a fire and 4 death at the Four J's Trailer Park, near Bakersfield. On the evening of January 24, 2016, a 5-5 month-old baby was asleep in a mobile home that her family had started leasing from Nijjar 6 Realty, dba Pama Management, about two months earlier.⁹ The mobile home, however, was not 7 authorized for human occupancy, as Nijjar Realty had not complied with a mandatory inspection 8 and permitting process before leasing it to the baby's family. Just before midnight, a fire broke 9 out in the mobile home, engulfing it in flames so quickly that the baby's parents could not save 10 her. The fire destroyed the unit and damaged two neighboring homes.

11 136. Fire investigators determined that the likely cause of the fire was either faulty 12 electrical wiring in the area where the baby was sleeping or a space heater used to keep her room 13 warm. Her parents reported that some electrical outlets in the mobile home did not work and 14 "popped" when appliances were plugged in, and that the home lacked adequate heat. Investigators 15 did not find the remnants of any smoke detectors in the home where the baby died, nor in the two 16 neighboring homes that also caught fire.

17 137. In the wake of the fire, the Department of Real Estate investigated and concluded 18 that Nijjar Realty, and Everet Miller as its designated broker-officer, had rented out several 19 mobile homes at the Four J's park that were not permitted for human occupancy, and also that 20 they employed unlicensed persons as real estate brokers, who unlawfully negotiated rent-to-own 21 contracts with tenants including the baby's family. After a contested hearing, the Department that time called I E Rental Homes, Inc., which was incorporated in 2008.

24 ⁸ A corporation may hold a broker's license only if it designates an officer who is qualified to hold a broker's license to serve as broker-officer of the corporation. The designated 25 broker-officer is responsible for the supervision and control of the activities conducted on behalf of the corporation by its officers and employees. The purpose of these licensing requirements is to 26 protect the public from incompetent or untrustworthy practitioners. See Bus. & Prof. Code, §§ 10130; 10131; & 10159.2, subd. (a). See also id. §§ 11038; 10211 & 10158; Cal. Code Regs., tit.

27 ⁹ The park was owned by Cobra 28 No. 7, LP, an Owner Partnership for which Sabraj 28 Nijjar has sole ownership or financial interest. Cobra 28 No. 7, LP, is a named defendant in this Complaint.

1 revoked Nijjar Realty’s and Miller’s licenses, and the Superior Court and Court of Appeals later 2 affirmed, with the Superior Court agreeing that “revocation of licensure was warranted because 3 [Nijjar Realty and Miller] did not accept responsibility for their actions and did not demonstrate a 4 commitment to ensure public safety.”¹⁰

5 138. Nijjar Realty and PAMA Management both used Miller as their licensed broker-
6 officer. Thus, once Miller’s license was revoked, those corporations could no longer legally 7 engage in activities requiring a real estate broker’s license, including leasing units, soliciting
8 prospective tenants, or collecting rent. Within a few weeks of Miller losing his license, the Nijjar 9 family put into action a plan to reorganize their management operations into newly formed out-10 of-state corporations. In April 2019, Articles of Incorporation were filed with the Nevada 11 Secretary of State for the eight Property Management Entities named in Paragraphs 106 through 12 113 of this Complaint: Bridge, Equity, Golden, Hightower, Legacy, Mobile, Pro, and Regency 13 Management.

14 139. In August 2019, seven of the new Property Management Entities—but not Golden 15 Management—received corporate real estate broker’s licenses from the California Department of 16 Real Estate. Scott Brown, the Nijjar family’s accountant and longtime associate, was named as 17 each entity’s designated licensed broker-officer. But Scott Brown was not an officer of any of 18 those seven new Nevada corporations when they received their California real estate broker’s 19 licenses in 2019, even though by law, the designee must hold an officer position at the 20 company.¹¹ And Scott Brown never subsequently became an officer of those corporations, nor did 21 he exercise adequate supervision and control of their management activities, as is also required by 22 law.¹²

23 140. In January 2020, the eight new Property Management Entities took over all of the 24 Nijjar family’s management operations. From January 1, 2020, to the present day or a time 25 unknown, these property management companies have engaged in hundreds of thousands of acts

1 for which a real estate license is required, at all times acting without a designated licensed broker-
2 officer as required by law. Such acts include, among others, renting or offering to rent units, 3 soliciting for potential tenants, and collecting rent money from tenants.¹³ Defendants thus 4 violated and continue to violate licensing requirements, even though members of the Nijjar family 5 who are involved in management operations—including Defendants Swaranjit “Mike” Nijjar and 6 Daljit “DJ” Kler, and Swaranjit Nijjar’s son Michael Nijjar—each hold individual real estate 7 broker’s licenses and could have filled officer roles for the new management companies, as they 8 had done for PAMA Management and I E Rental Homes in years prior.

9 III. DEFENDANTS DO NOT MAINTAIN THEIR RENTAL PROPERTIES IN SAFE, HABITABLE
10 CONDITION

11 141. At any given point in time since January 1, 2019, and prior, a substantial number 12 of the rental units and properties owned and/or managed by the Nijjar Companies have not met 13 the law’s minimum requirements for safety and habitability, and set forth in the Civil Code, 14 sections 1941, 1941.1, 1941.3, and 1927, and the Health & Safety Code, sections 17920.3, 15 13113.7, 17920.10, and 17926, among other provisions.¹⁴

16 142. As owners and managers of residential rental property, the Nijjar Companies must 17 comply with the requirements of the Civil Code and Health and Safety Code, which require rental 18 units to be structurally sound, weatherproof, and in good repair; to have safe and working 19 plumbing, sewage, heating, and electrical systems; to have functioning and locking doors and 20 windows; to be free of infestations of insects and rodents, and other health hazards; and to comply 21 with fire-safety protections, among other provisions. The Nijjar Companies routinely flout these 22 requirements and disregard the warranty of habitability inherent in their leases.

23 143. The Nijjar Companies routinely receive maintenance requests from tenants and 24 warnings and citations from local code enforcement agencies, and thus are aware, or should be 25 aware, of the nature and extent of habitability violations across their full portfolio of rental 26 properties. Yet rather than ensure that defects are properly remedied and that their properties are 27 ¹³ Id. § 10131.

28 ¹⁴ See also Health & Saf. Code, §§ 18550, 18610; Cal. Code Regs., tit. 25, §§ 1100 et seq.; 1606–1608, and 1610 (relating to habitability and health and safety requirements for mobile home parks).

adequately maintained, the Nijjar Companies ignore maintenance requests, perform incomplete and unprofessional “band-aid” jobs, and fail to maintain the necessary systems, staffing, and oversight to keep their properties in habitable condition. As a result, many tenants are forced to live in unreasonable conditions that are substantially unsafe, disturbing, and harmful to their well-being, and that violate their right to a habitable unit and to quiet enjoyment of that unit.

A. Defendants’ Properties Are Plagued by Habitability Defects

144. The examples provided below are not exhaustive, but merely illustrate common habitability defects that pervade Defendants’ properties, their scope, and the impact of these defects on tenants. These defects are not unique to a particular geographical area or to properties managed by a specific Property Management Entity; rather, they afflict Defendants’ properties all over the state.

Structural defects and dilapidation:

145. The Nijjar Companies’ properties suffer from structural defects that put tenants at risk in their own homes and interfere with their use and enjoyment of the rental unit. These defects include unstable and damaged stairways, walkways, balconies, and handrails, both inside units and in common areas; ceilings and walls with holes, cracks, sagging, and other signs of damage, often due to water intrusion; roofs, walls, windows, and doors that are not weatherproof; deteriorated roofs and fascia; deteriorated and unsafe flooring; doors and windows that do not open and close properly or that do not lock; and deteriorated fixtures, such as damaged kitchen cabinets.

146. One tenant in Sacramento endured months of water dripping from her bedroom ceiling after a leak began around 2021, and used buckets to collect the water while waiting for a repair. Although maintenance workers eventually patched the tenant’s ceiling, which seemed at the time to solve the problem, the leaking started again later in the tenancy, and the tenant again went months without a repair. Similarly, a Bakersfield family reported water intrusion from their bathroom ceiling multiple times between 2020 and 2023. Although maintenance workers purportedly came to fix the leak, it continued, and the ceiling ultimately collapsed.

1 147. Some units are rented out to new tenants despite obvious defects. An Antelope
2 Valley tenant was assured that her rental home would be ready on move-in day. But she arrived 3 only to discover damaged walls and flooring, a bathroom with no sink, an unfinished porch, and 4 other problems, some of which were never fixed during her tenancy.

5 148. Structural damage is sometimes caused or exacerbated by Defendants’ shoddy 6 repair work. In San Bernardino, a tenant had a hole in his living room ceiling for years because 7 Defendants’ maintenance workers had removed a patch on the ceiling that had been done by the 8 prior landlord, but never replaced it. Similarly, in Bakersfield, after code enforcement officers 9 ordered management to fix an improperly installed window, maintenance workers opened up part 10 of the tenant’s bedroom wall to do the repair but neglected to finish the job. Months later, gaps 11 remained around the window, and the tenant could see daylight through her wall. When a tenant 12 in Stockton had some of her flooring replaced—after extensive flooding caused by plumbing 13 failures—the new floors were noticeably unlevel and soon began to crack. Within months, the 14 local code enforcement agency issued a Notice of Violation for the new floors, observing that 15 they were “damaged” and “a potential tripping hazard.”

16 149. Unsafe stairways, walkways, and balconies are common at Defendants’ multifamily 17 properties and are particularly dangerous for tenants, including children, who live in upper-story 18 units. Code enforcement records for the period 2019 through 2023 have documented many 19 dozens of instances of dilapidated stairways, sunken or unlevel landings and walkways, and loose 20 railings. And Defendants are regularly named in tort cases filed after tenants or their visitors 21 suffer injuries, such as fractures and sprains. Residents have even sustained life-altering head 22 trauma, including one child who fell from an unsecured upper-story window, and another who 23 fell from an unfenced common area into an abutting drainage ravine.¹⁵ 2012 with terms that included annuity for minor plaintiff).

Sanitation and health defects:

150. Tenants at the Nijjar Companies' properties also grapple with serious sanitation and health defects that threaten their physical and mental well-being, including surfacing sewage caused by defective plumbing and septic systems; persistent infestations of roaches, rodents, and other pests; and unsanitary common areas littered with trash and debris. In addition, leaks, poor weatherproofing, and lack of ventilation create damp conditions in many dwelling units, which fosters the growth of mold and attracts pests.

151. Surfacing sewage has been found at properties across the Nijjar Companies' portfolio, from large apartment complexes to single family homes and mobile home parks. As just one example, a Bakersfield family with young children dealt with repeated backups of sewage water in their toilet and bathtub for months. Although they submitted numerous maintenance requests, and workers repeatedly came to snake the drain, the problem recurred and the tenants awoke one morning in 2023 to find sewage flowing from their bathroom into adjoining rooms. Code enforcement officers declared the unit unfit for occupancy, and the family was ordered to vacate. Similarly, a tenant in a single-family home with a septic tank noticed sewage surfacing in her yard in 2022. Although that tenant notified her property manager, no action was taken to fix the septic system; when the tenant called code enforcement months later, they too declared the home unfit for occupancy. At a multifamily complex in Stockton, sewage flooded 10 first-floor units, again forcing tenants to vacate. Stories like this are shockingly common and have been documented dozens of times by code enforcement agencies across California.

152. Another common scourge is infestations of cockroaches, rodents and other pests in tenants' homes. Tenants report hearing rats or mice scurrying in their walls and seeing cockroaches crawling across sleeping children. Defendants are frequently cited for infestations, or warned to eradicate pests, by code enforcement agencies throughout the state. One tenant who requested treatments for her recurring roach problem was told that management was "in between" pest control vendors at that time and could not provide the treatment needed. But even when Defendants do send pest control, they typically fail to provide the sort of routine and comprehensive treatments needed to abate an infestation at a multi-family property, including

1 filling in holes around and between apartments. Because Defendants' pest-control efforts are 2 often unsuccessful, many tenants pay out-of-pocket for sprays and traps. One Sacramento tenant 3 bought her own glue traps to supplement the pest control treatments provided by management 4 because their vendors sprayed only half of the units at her property at a time and usually treated 5 only her kitchen, not her whole unit.

6 153. Tenants also frequently endure damp conditions in their homes due to plumbing 7 leaks, water intrusion caused by structural problems, and non-functioning windows and fans in 8 their bathrooms. Excessive dampness can then cause mold and mildew to form, which is known 9 to cause allergic reactions, respiratory symptoms, and asthma attacks for some individuals.¹⁶ It 10 also provides an environment attractive to pests, particularly cockroaches.¹⁷ Excessive moisture 11 and mold at Defendants' properties is frequently documented in code enforcement inspection 12 reports and violation notices. When Los Angeles City code officers inspected a large property 13 known as the Chesapeake Apartments in 2022, they issued violations for excessive moisture or 14 water damage in 46 units, nearly one-third of the units they inspected on that particular visit.
15 Operating under their separate jurisdiction, county inspectors from the Department of Public 16 Health also cited Defendants for suspected mold in 60 units at the same property. Even more 17 violations were found on later follow-up visits.

18 154. Lastly, because the majority of the Nijjar Companies' properties were constructed 19 before 1978, when lead-based paint was commonly used, lead hazards may be present in many 20 units and particularly those with peeling paint, damaged windowsills, and structural defects.
21 Defendants do not take appropriate, consistent steps to ensure that their maintenance contractors 22 follow required lead-safe practices, despite code enforcement agencies warning them that repairs 23 may disturb lead paint and observing that repairs in progress were being conducted without proper safety measures.¹⁸ Defendants' lackadaisical approach to lead poses health risks to children who live at their properties.

Plumbing defects:

155. Plumbing issues are ubiquitous at the Nijjar Companies' properties. Tenants routinely deal with such problems as fixtures that gush water and cannot be turned off; severely blocked or broken pipes, causing flooding of units and common areas; and clogged or slowly draining sinks, bathtubs, and toilets. Tenants also lack access to hot water or face repeated water shutoffs. At their least severe, these conditions make it difficult to tenants to bathe, cook, and clean. At their worst, they lead to structural damage and threaten tenants' health.

156. For example, a tenant in Bakersfield had a leak in her bathroom wall that caused flooding all the way into her living room and kitchen. By the time maintenance workers found and fixed the broken pipe—months later—a mushroom had grown inside the tenant's bathroom cabinet. In San Jacinto, a tenant had a leak under her sink that was so persistent it caused the surrounding cabinetry to rot and fall apart. For months, this tenant also had hot water leaking from her bathtub faucet, which generated enough steam to set off her smoke detectors. Although workers eventually came to stop the bathtub leak, they cut a large hole around the faucet, leaving the interior of the wall fully visible, and never closed it. Yet another tenant experienced routine leaks from her bathroom fixtures, which sometimes diverted so much water that she and her children could not take a warm bath or shower. Although maintenance workers came out to address the leaks, they continually recurred. During one particularly bad period, the leaks caused this tenant's water bill to skyrocket to over $1,000, several times what she typically owed.

157. Tenants also face repeated water shutoffs or a lack of hot water in their units. One family in Bakersfield repeatedly lost access to hot water, sometimes for multiple days, forcing them to shower at relatives' homes. Not until this happened a half dozen times or more did Defendants finally replace the water heater, which fixed the issue. In Sacramento, a tenant

1 discovered shortly after moving in that her apartment—though newly renovated—did not have 2 any hot water, at all. A maintenance worker eventually told this tenant that he was unable to fix 3 the problem. She moved out nearly a year later without ever having hot water in her unit.

4 Conversely, at some of Defendants’ units, water heater temperatures are set far higher than 5 needed for bathing and cleaning, putting tenants, particularly children, at risk of scalding.

6 Defects in mechanical systems and appliances, including heating and cooling:

7 158. Many of Defendants’ properties are located in inland areas where summer
8 temperatures reach 100 degrees and winter nights dip close to freezing. Yet tenants routinely deal 9 with broken heating and cooling systems, and broken ventilation systems or lack thereof; they 10 also contend with malfunctioning appliances like stoves, ovens, and refrigerators.

11 159. State law requires landlords to supply heat to all rental units. Many tenants, all 12 over the state, report that their wall heaters or central heating systems do not work at all, or not 13 well enough to warm their living quarters in winter. Additionally, if a tenant moves into a unit 14 with an air conditioner, it is the landlord’s obligation to make sure it is working.¹⁹ Yet many 15 tenants report that their air conditioning and swamp cooler units do not work or leak water.
16 Tenants frequently wait weeks or longer for repairs that are ineffectual—and ultimately end up 17 buying their own portable heaters and air conditioners, with their own money, to have functioning 18 heat and cooling.

19 160. Tenants also often have problems with the basic appliances that are supplied with 20 Defendants’ rental units. For example, a San Bernardino tenant had a poorly functioning stove, 21 with an unlevel surface and burners that did not reliably heat up. Although maintenance workers 22 tinkered with the stove a few times, they failed to fix the problems and would not replace it.
23 Similarly, a Sacramento tenant’s refrigerator did not stay cold, causing her food to spoil; even 24 after a month of repeated requests, the problem was not fixed.

25 161. Missing, broken, or expired smoke detectors and carbon monoxide detectors are 26 also common at the Nijjar Companies’ properties. Between 2019 and 2023, Defendants received

27 _____ 28 ¹⁹ Health & Saf. Code, § 17920.3 (requiring that “mechanical systems [be] in good and safe condition and working properly”).

1 several hundred code enforcement citations for violations concerning smoke and carbon 2 monoxide detectors. These violations pose an acute risk to tenants. When, as discussed above, a 3 mobile home rented out by predecessor entity Nijjar Realty, Inc. caught fire in January 2016 and 4 killed an infant, fire inspectors for Kern County found no evidence that any smoke detectors were 5 installed in either that unit or the two neighboring units that also caught fire.²⁰

6 Defects in electrical systems:

7 162. Finally, tenants commonly experience problems with their units' electrical 8 systems, including outlets that do not work; losses of electricity to all or part of their unit; and 9 hazardous wiring that did not comply with building code requirements at the time of installation 10 or that is not maintained in good and safe working order.

11 163. Some tenants report that, even when they first move in, they have no electricity in 12 entire rooms of their homes. Others deal with outlets that do not work or circuit breakers that 13 frequently trip. In Sacramento, the power went out in most of the rooms of a tenant's home during 14 a summer heat wave. Although the tenant promptly reported the issue to management, Defendants 15 did not send a worker to open the locked breaker box—a simple solution that unnecessarily took 16 four days—until the tenant called code enforcement.

17 164. Beyond non-working outlets and electrical shutoffs, code enforcement agencies 18 regularly cite Defendants' properties for electrical hazards such as exposed, damaged, or poorly 19 installed wiring and missing covers for electrical panels. On numerous occasions, inspectors have 20 observed sparking or fire damage associated with electrical wiring, or have cited electrical work 21 performed without obtaining the required permits. Substandard electrical work exposes tenants to 22 risk—of fires, burns, and shocks.

23 B. Defendants Overburden Local Communities, Including Code Enforcement 24 Agencies

25 165. It is no surprise that code enforcement agencies are frequent visitors to the Nijjar 26 Companies' properties. Since 2019, Defendants have received several thousand formal violation

27 ²⁰ See Paragraphs 135 to 137. All three units had been leased to their occupants by Nijjar 28 Realty, Inc., d/b/a Pama Management Co. See Proposed Decision dated Dec. 28, 2018, at 6-8, In re Nijjar Realty, Inc., (Dept of Real Estate, Case No. H-41000 LA / OAH No. 2018050393) (decision effective Jan. 29, 2019).

1 notices from code enforcement agencies finding that their properties violated habitability and 2 safety standards.²¹ Most of these notices cite multiple discrete violations at the property at issue; 3 many cite dozens of violations, or even more. And on many other occasions, violations exist that 4 are not formally noticed, some of which are handled through informal communications between 5 Defendants and local agencies. Defendants' own incomplete records show that from 2018 to 6 2023, code enforcement agencies initiated contact with them over 8,000 times, for an average of 7 more than three times per calendar day.

8 166. When code enforcement agencies observe that a rental unit's condition poses an 9 acute threat to health or safety, they may post an order that a unit is unsafe to occupy. This 10 process, which is sometimes known as "red-" or "yellow-tagging" a unit or issuing an order to 11 vacate, may require tenants in the affected unit to leave the premises immediately. From 2019 to 12 mid-2023, code enforcement agencies posted such notices at over 200 of Defendants' units due to 13 imminent dangers like a structure at risk of collapse, fire damage, or surfacing sewage. In some of 14 these cases, Defendants refused to relocate tenants to a vacant apartment or pay for a hotel, 15 leaving them scrambling to find shelter.

16 167. Code enforcement agencies are not intended to serve as front-line intake offices 17 for maintenance complaints. But Defendants use them in this way, often deferring maintenance 18 and failing to address repeat requests from tenants unless and until the tenants report the issue to 19 code enforcement. In some cases, lower-level employees have even resorted to calling code 20 enforcement themselves, or advising tenants to, in order to get repairs made in the buildings they 21 manage.

22 168. To be clear, deficiencies that have been the subject of code enforcement citations
23 and orders to vacate do not encompass even a fraction of the full scope of defects at the Nijjar 24 Companies' properties. Most code enforcement agencies conduct interior inspections of rental 25 units only in response to tenant complaints. Tenants living even in dire conditions may not call

26 ²¹ This figure excludes notices citing only issues that do not pertain to habitability, such as 27 graffiti or noise violations, as well as those citing solely the presence of trash, debris, or 28 overgrown weeds on the property. It also excludes tenant complaints that were not verified by the agency.

code enforcement if they are unaware of its role, deterred by language barriers or by their or a family member's immigration status, or afraid of retaliation which may leave them homeless.

169. Still, despite their limited scope, code enforcement records help to illustrate not only the types of habitability defects common at Defendants' properties, but also the extent to which these problems are recurrent and systemic. For example, at one of the largest properties, a 425-unit apartment complex known as the Chesapeake Apartments, Los Angeles County and City inspectors cited more than 2,000 unique violations following extensive inspections in 2022, for issues including water intrusion, structural defects, and roach infestations. These inspections took several workdays to conduct and then required multiple follow-up visits and communication with management to try to bring the property into compliance. That same year, a 127-unit property in San Bernardino was inspected on ten separate occasions, generating notices of violations for a range of issues affecting multiple units, including lack of hot water, broken doors and windows, and leaking plumbing.

170. Even when code-enforcement agencies provide repeated notice of the same problems, Defendants still in some cases fail to bring their properties up to code. For example, at a multi-building, 171-unit property in Stockton, inspectors issued at least 14 violation notices for cockroaches from 2019 to 2023, often finding that entire buildings on the property required treatment for roaches. One building at this property was cited for roaches in September 2019, November 2019, December 2019, and January 2020. Inspectors ordered treatment for roaches at another building on the same property in December 2019, January 2020, May 2022, and October 2022, also discovering a rodent infestation in the building during the latter two inspections. Similarly, another large Stockton property was the subject of orders to eradicate infestations of rodents, bedbugs, and cockroaches, in all units, at least five times in 2016 and 2017. The property was cited for infestations in multiple units again in 2018 and 2021, and code enforcement continued to expend time and resources to inspect the property and issue violation notices for infestations in 2023 and 2024.

171. Another example is a 128-unit property in Sacramento. Between 2021 and 2023, Sacramento County code enforcement inspectors regularly conducted inspections of roughly one-

1 third of the property's units and found violations in nearly all of them. During one January 2022
2 inspection, County inspectors inspected 44 units, and found violations in all 44, ranging from 3 visible mold growth, to lack of or non-functional smoke alarms, to cockroach infestations, among 4 other serious problems. Nearly all of the violations had been identified in a prior inspection but 5 had not been fixed. Four months later, the County inspected again and found violations in 43 of 6 the 44 inspected units.

7 172. As the above examples show, the Nijjar Companies are a substantial drain on code 8 enforcement resources. Inspectors often visit a property multiple times and exchange numerous 9 communications with Defendants, only to find that violations have not been abated, that the 10 issues recur, and even on occasion that Defendants have provided inaccurate or misleading 11 information to the agency or contravened its directives, for example by moving new tenants into 12 units with "open" violations and by failing to obtain permits for repair work even after being told 13 that permits were required. Defendants are thus neglecting one of their most crucial 14 responsibilities as landlords—to ensure their properties are safe and habitable—and instead 15 foisting it onto local governments, taxpayers, and their tenants.

16 C. Defendants Do Not Make Necessary, Timely Repairs

17 173. As the above examples show, tenants experience great difficulty in getting the 18 Nijjar Companies to make necessary repairs. Many maintenance requests are ignored entirely, or 19 otherwise not acted upon, which forces tenants to submit the same request several times. Tenants 20 often report that they must make the same request repeatedly over weeks or months before 21 maintenance workers will come—and sometimes, they never do. Some tenants simply stop 22 making requests, concluding that it is futile, and try their best to handle maintenance issues on 23 their own.

24 174. When Defendants' maintenance workers do go out to a unit to make repairs, they 25 often purportedly cannot gain access because the tenant is not home to let them in. But this is a 26 problem largely of Defendants' own making. Although the law allows landlords and their agents 27 to enter a rental unit and perform maintenance after giving the occupants reasonable written 28 notice, Defendants do not routinely follow procedures for doing so, putting the onus on tenants to

1 let maintenance in. As one example, a Bakersfield tenant reports that maintenance workers often 2 left “Sorry we missed you” notices on her door while she was at work, and when they did come 3 while she was at home, they often did not finish the job on that visit. This tenant asked her 4 property manager if he could use his own key to let the workers in—but he told her no, and that 5 he did not have a key.

6 175. When maintenance workers do come, the work they perform is typically sloppy, 7 unprofessional, and incomplete—what tenants and employees alike refer to as “Mickey Mouse” 8 or “band-aid” jobs. On many occasions, local code-enforcement agencies have identified 9 unprofessional maintenance work at Defendants’ properties, including work undertaken without 10 required permits.

11 176. This band-aid approach applies to the full range of habitability defects that, as a 12 result, persist throughout Defendants’ properties. Maintenance workers repeatedly snake drains 13 that regurgitate wastewater, leading to catastrophic sewage floods. They replace carpet soaked by 14 flooding without addressing water damage to surfaces beneath it. They make temporary fixes—a 15 patch job here, duct tape there—and never come back to finish them. They paint over chipped and 16 deglazed bathtubs when “turning” vacant units, which look good enough until the paint flakes off.
17 These shoddy repairs either cause the initial maintenance problem to recur or lead to new 18 problems. Larger and more expensive maintenance projects—such as replacing a roof or re-19 piping a plumbing system—are deferred, without due regard for the impact on tenants. The 20 Bakersfield tenants whose bathroom ceiling caved in, as described in Paragraph 146, provide a 21 classic example of the long-term impacts of deferred and subpar maintenance. They first notified 22 management about leaks in the bathroom ceiling in November 2020, shortly after moving in. The 23 leaks persisted over the next two years, eventually causing a large bulge in the ceiling. Despite 24 their multiple requests, management did not make the repairs needed to stop the leak for good and 25 address the damage it had caused—leading to a ceiling collapse that could have been avoided.

1 D. Defendants Do Not Invest in Property Management Operations Necessary
2 to Maintain Rental Units in Habitable Condition

3 177. The condition of the Nijjar Companies' properties is not an accident. It stems 4 directly from Defendants' refusal to establish management operations commensurate with their 5 massive rental portfolio. For example, despite owning and managing over 22,000 units, the 6 Property Management Entities have not used any reliable data system for collecting maintenance 7 requests from tenants and for monitoring the status of those requests, the work performed, and 8 outcomes.

9 178. No online portal, central email address, or hotline has been provided to tenants to 10 submit maintenance requests. Tenants have been told to make maintenance requests in several 11 ways, most often by submitting paper forms to their on-site property manager or at a local leasing 12 office, or by speaking with or texting their on-site manager. Paper form requests, however, are not 13 regularly retained by Defendants unless one of their maintenance workers actually responds to the 14 request and then submits the form to a management office to request payment. Similarly, tenants' 15 verbal and text-message requests typically are not logged, because most on-site managers use 16 their personal devices to communicate with tenants and are not provided company phones or 17 email accounts. The upshot of these convoluted processes is that Defendants have no way of 18 tracking the maintenance requests tenants have made that have not been handled, and even cannot 19 easily identify completed requests, let alone sort requests by tenant, property, or category of 20 maintenance problem.

21 179. Defendants' decision not to reliably track maintenance requests and outcomes is 22 especially notable because, for years, they have used a proprietary data system for tracking and 23 issuing reports on other metrics, such as outstanding rent balances, vacant units, code 24 enforcement violations, and eviction cases. Defendants have long had the capacity to build and 25 maintain sophisticated data systems. But they have chosen not to do so for maintenance requests 26 specifically. This longtime decision not to implement any reliable maintenance tracking system 27 means that tenants' requests are often lost or not completed. It also means that Defendants

1 deprive themselves of a crucial source of information for identifying systemic problems and 2 addressing them responsibly.

3 180. The Property Management Entities also fail to train their employees adequately.
4 By law, landlords are required to employ live-in property managers or other responsible persons 5 at all properties with 16 or more rental units.²² The Property Management Entities' hundreds of 6 on-site managers are intended to be tenants' main point of contact; they lease out vacant units, 7 collect rent, take maintenance requests, and issue mandatory notices to tenants, among other 8 things. But newly hired managers have historically not received standardized training about 9 landlord-tenant laws or their employer's policies and procedures, even if they have no prior 10 experience working in property management. Some on-site managers report not even receiving 11 keys to all units or to security gates at their properties.

12 181. Working conditions for many management employees are poor. On-site managers 13 often work long hours—more than they actually record on timesheets, including nights and 14 weekends—but have little authority to fix the substandard conditions that tenants complain to 15 them about. They learn from their superiors and peers that their priorities are not to address 16 tenants' concerns, but to collect rent balances and fill vacant units—in short, to maximize the 17 flow of Defendants' rental income. Their outstanding rent balances and number of vacant units 18 are carefully tracked by Defendants, including at the highest levels of the Nijjar Companies, by 19 Defendants Swaranjit Nijjar and Daljit Kler.

20 182. Many on-site managers have also reported a hostile work environment, in which 21 their superiors yell and curse in staff meetings and threaten to terminate employees who do not 22 collect enough unpaid rent or fill vacancies quickly enough. Even when these employees explain 23 that they cannot fill a vacant unit because its condition is too poor, they are told there are no 24 excuses. And because the head of human resources for Golden Management does not discourage 25 but personally participates in abusive conduct, it continues unchecked. Employees state that there 26 is no one within the Nijjar Companies to whom they can report unprofessional or unlawful 27 conduct. In 2021, a neutral arbitrator reached a similar conclusion, finding that the head of human 28 ²² Cal. Code Regs. tit. 25, § 42.

1 resources had failed to investigate credible allegations of harassment brought to her in 2019, and 2 instead retaliated against the worker who experienced the harassment, firing him.²³ The head of 3 human resources remains in this role today; she is in charge of staffing for all of the Property 4 Management Entities.

5 183. Unsurprisingly, employee turnover is high. Properties with 16 or more units—6 which are required by law to have an on-site manager or other responsible person residing on the 7 premises—are often without one, or are temporarily covered by an employee whose hands are 8 already full with other properties. As a result, tenants must deal with regular changes in staffing 9 and gap periods when it is unclear who, if anyone, is responsible for their property.

10 184. Similarly, the Property Management Entities have inadequate maintenance staff 11 for the number and condition of properties they manage, and do not exercise sufficient oversight 12 of the maintenance workers they do have. The Property Management Entities use unspecialized 13 “handyman”-type workers for much of their maintenance work, including for jobs that require 14 expertise in areas like electrical systems and plumbing. As described above, maintenance workers 15 may or may not come when a tenant is told to expect them, as on-site managers do not have 16 authority to direct their activities. Their repairs are often shoddy and unfinished, and are often 17 undertaken without obtaining the required permits. Defendants’ maintenance workers also 18 frequently fail to clean up their job sites and leave debris, supplies, and old appliances behind.

19 185. The Property Management Entities also do not have adequate procedures and 20 staffing in place to monitor the quality of repairs and determine whether habitability defects were 21 actually fixed. Although they do employ a handful of maintenance supervisors, these employees 22 are spread thin across several hundreds or even thousands of units and cannot exercise the degree 23 of oversight necessary to ensure maintenance work is performed timely and competently.

24 186. When certain supplies and materials are needed, such as new carpeting, windows, 25 or cabinets, or when professional services are required that a handyman cannot provide, on-site 26 managers and maintenance workers also lack the authority to authorize these purchases and must

1 route a request to their regional supervisors or to the central El Monte headquarters. For certain 2 requests, the approval of Defendant Daljit Kler, Golden Management’s chief of staff, or other 3 high-level employees is required. Approvals for some such expenditures are delayed, are never 4 given, or are limited in scope (e.g., authorizing pest control services for only a portion of the units 5 at a property with a widespread infestation), in order to control expenditures. Tenants and 6 employees are sometimes told that the reason a repair has not been completed is because the 7 “corporate” office has yet to authorize the request.

8 E. Defendants Do Not Provide the Property Management Services Tenants 9 Are Paying For and Are Legally Entitled To 10 187. Defendants are well aware of the rampant habitability defects that tenants face 11 from the innumerable complaints that residents make, from the thousands of code enforcement 12 violations they have received, from the dozens of private lawsuits that are filed or settled every 13 year, and from online reviews on Yelp, Google, and the like that consistently pan the Property 14 Management Entities as “slumlords.” With blatant disregard for their tenants and the law, 15 Defendants maximize their profits while skimping on maintenance and on other management 16 operations that are vital to keeping the properties in habitable condition. The manner in which the 17 Nijjar Companies choose to conduct business guarantees that their properties will often be out of 18 compliance with the basic habitability requirements of California law. This conduct deprives 19 tenants of the benefit of their bargain as parties to a rental contract: their right to habitable 20 housing. It also forces tenants to overpay—repeatedly, each month of their tenancy—for property 21 management services that they do not receive, including the timely provision of maintenance.

22 188. From that fundamental harm flows many others. Tenants spend their own money 23 to cover supplies and repairs that should be covered by their landlord. Through their monthly rent, 24 they pay for, but do not receive, basic amenities like functioning sewage systems, heating and 25 cooling, and kitchen appliances. They endure needless interruptions to their lives when they must 26 repeatedly schedule visits from maintenance and code enforcement. The health of tenants, 27 including children, is placed at risk by unsafe conditions, such as ceilings that cave in and 28 windows that do not lock, and by dampness, mold, and infestations, which exacerbate asthma and

1 other respiratory problems. Occasionally, tenants are seriously injured. Some tenants call code 2 enforcement because nothing else has worked, but then receive notices to vacate because their 3 units are uninhabitable, and find their lives upended for reasons beyond their fault or control.

4 189. The Nijjar Companies' business acts and practices are unlawful and unfair because 5 they result in routine violations of minimum habitability and safety requirements, and because 6 they deprive tenants of services that the law mandates and that tenants pay for each month with 7 their rent. The excess profits Defendants collect by choosing not to invest in appropriate training, 8 staffing, oversight, and maintenance systems are ill-gotten gains, and the costs are borne by 9 tenants.

10 IV. DEFENDANTS UNLAWFULLY DISCRIMINATE AGAINST TENANTS WITH SECTION 8 11 HOUSING ASSISTANCE VOUCHERS

12 190. Section 8 housing choice vouchers are one of the primary forms of assistance 13 provided by the federal government to help lower-income tenants find housing they can afford.
14 The Section 8 program was created for the purposes of "aiding low-income families in obtaining 15 a decent place to live" and "promoting economically mixed housing."²⁴ A tenant with a Section 8 16 voucher can rent a home from any landlord on the open market, so long as it meets the 17 government's standards and the rent is affordable for the tenant with the voucher. The tenant pays 18 a portion of the rent, in an amount determined by their income, and the federal government pays 19 the remainder of the rent directly to the landlord. The program aims to ensure the tenant's living 20 conditions are acceptable by conducting annual inspections and requiring landlords to address any 21 problems that are found.

22 191. California's Fair Employment and Housing Act ("FEHA") prohibits 23 discrimination in the rental of housing accommodations based on a number of protected 24 characteristics, such as a person's race, sex, or source of income.²⁵ Discrimination includes 25 refusing to rent or lease housing accommodations, refusing to negotiate for the rental or lease of 26 housing accommodations, representing that a housing accommodation is not available for 27 inspection or rental when it is in fact available, and otherwise denying or withholding housing

28 ²⁴ Barrientos v. 1801-1825 Morton LLC (9th Cir. 2009) 583 F.3d 1197, 1202.

²⁵ Gov. Code, § 12955.

1 accommodations. Since January 1, 2020, FEHA has explicitly defined “source of income” to 2 include income “paid to a housing owner or landlord on behalf of a tenant, including . . . federal 3 housing assistance vouchers issued under Section 8 of the United States Housing Act of 1937.”
4 As a result, it is unlawful in California for landlords to discriminate against prospective or 5 existing tenants based on their receipt of a Section 8 voucher.

6 192. The Nijjar Companies are owners of housing accommodations as defined by law.
7 Through the Property Management Entities, they advertise their vacant housing accommodations 8 as available for rent by members of the public, including in online listings and signs posted on or 9 near their properties.

10 193. Since January 1, 2020, the Nijjar Companies have intentionally discriminated 11 against prospective tenants by denying or making unavailable housing accommodations because 12 of their status as recipients of Section 8 vouchers. Defendants have prevented or deterred a 13 significant number of applicants with Section 8 vouchers from applying for, or renting, dwelling 14 units owned and/or managed by Defendants. Former employees of the Nijjar Companies 15 witnessed or participated in this denial of housing across the various counties where the Nijjar 16 Companies operate.

17 194. At the direction of their superiors, employees who are responsible for leasing 18 vacant units—primarily on-site property managers and leasing office employees—discriminate 19 against prospective tenants in various ways, including by falsely telling applicants with Section 8 20 vouchers (but not applicants without vouchers) that there is a “waiting list” for applicants; telling 21 such applicants they are not accepting applications from people with Section 8 vouchers; telling 22 such applicants they do not meet management’s income criteria to rent the vacant unit, but 23 without taking the value of the Section 8 voucher into account; or otherwise making the 24 application process or the rental units unavailable to such applicants. Employees are instructed to 25 discourage or turn away these prospective tenants even when vacant units are available. As a 26 result, qualified prospective tenants with Section 8 vouchers have been misled about the 27 availability of units and have been denied access to applications. When prospective tenants with 28 vouchers do fill out applications, employees may reasonably expect that the applications will be

1 rejected. For example, one former employee tried several times to submit applications from 2 prospective tenants with Section 8 vouchers to his supervisor, but the applications were returned 3 to him, and credit checks of the applicants were not run.

4 195. As a result of Defendants' discrimination, only a small number of tenants with 5 Section 8 vouchers rent from the Nijjar Companies, relative to the Companies' tenant population 6 as a whole. Even after January 2020, when discrimination against voucher holders became 7 unlawful, Defendants entered into few new leases with voucher holders. Defendants' records
8 show that between January 2020 and July 2022, fewer than 200 tenants with Section 8 vouchers 9 signed leases with Defendants out of over 12,000 new tenancies established during this 10 timeframe. This figure amounts to roughly 1.6 percent of all new tenants. Records from 2024 11 show that this trend continued over the following two years. By comparison, roughly 5 percent of 12 renter households in California use a Section 8 voucher to help pay the rent.

13 196. Moreover, nearly half of the approximately 700 tenants with Section 8 vouchers 14 residing in Defendants' roughly 22,000 units in December 2022 were inherited by the Nijjar
15 Companies when they purchased properties from other owners. In other words, even the low 16 number of tenants with Section 8 vouchers who rent from Defendants significantly overstates the 17 number of tenants with Section 8 vouchers who were actually approved to rent a unit by the Nijjar 18 Companies. Roughly 47 percent of Defendants' Section 8 tenants as of December 2022 were 19 tenants approved by previous landlords.

20 197. Defendants have engaged in unlawful and unfair business acts or practices by 21 committing one or more of the following acts of discrimination that are prohibited by FEHA and 22 by Title 2, section 12141 of the California Code of Regulations: refusing to rent or lease housing 23 accommodations to prospective tenants because of their source of income; refusing to negotiate 24 for the rental or lease of housing accommodations with prospective tenants because of their 25 source of income; representing to prospective tenants because of their source of income that 26 housing accommodations are not available for rental when they are in fact available; and 27 otherwise denying or making unavailable housing accommodations because of the source of 28 income of prospective tenants. Defendants have also engaged in deceptive and unfair business

1 acts or practices by misleading prospective tenants with Section 8 vouchers about the availability 2 of units to rent.

3 V. DEFENDANTS’ LEASES MISLEAD TENANTS ABOUT THEIR LEGAL RIGHTS TO SUE 4 THEIR LANDLORD AND SEEK REMEDIES FOR UNINHABITABLE CONDITIONS

5 198. For decades, California law has made clear that residential leases cannot modify 6 certain core rights held by tenants or require tenants to waive these rights. Civil Code section 7 1953, subdivision (a), makes “[a]ny provision of a lease or rental agreement of a dwelling by 8 which the lessee agrees to modify or waive” any of a list of rights “void as contrary to public 9 policy.”

10 199. The Nijjar Companies’ residential leases contain unenforceable and deceptive 11 terms that purport to infringe on tenants’ statutorily protected rights. The leases purport to require 12 tenants to waive their right to sue their landlord and present their case to a jury, to make repairs 13 that the landlord failed to make and deduct the cost from rent, and to have the landlord exercise a 14 duty of care to prevent personal injury or personal property damage, among others. These terms 15 are void as against public policy, and they are particularly insidious in light of the frequency of 16 habitability defects at Defendants’ rental properties.

17 200. These terms are also likely to deceive tenants into believing that the landlord does 18 in fact have authority to enforce these void terms, and thus have a chilling effect on tenants’ 19 exercise of their legal rights by dissuading them from seeking out an attorney, filing a lawsuit, or 20 even requesting necessary repairs that the landlord is legally obligated to make. Therefore, these 21 terms, each of which is set forth in thousands of residential leases, are unlawful, deceptive, and 22 unfair.

23 A. Defendants Use Form Leases with Deceptive, Unenforceable Terms

24 201. The Nijjar Companies enter into lease agreements with tenants using form 25 residential leases. The same leases, with the same terms, are used across all of the geographical 26 areas where they operate. In these form leases, the Property Management Entities describe 27 themselves as the “Landlord, Landlord/Lessor/Agent.”
28

202. From a time unknown to the People until late 2019, the Nijjar Companies employed a form lease entitled “Residential Agreement and/or Lease” (hereinafter, “Pre-2020 Lease”). Thousands of tenants entered into the Pre-2020 Lease since January 1, 2019.

203. In late 2019, the Nijjar Companies substantially revised their form lease by changing the language of certain provisions and by adding new ones, including new addenda that are explicitly made part of the lease. From late 2019 until at least mid-2025, the Nijjar Companies used a form lease entitled “Tenant Rental Agreement” (hereinafter, “2020 Lease”). Generally, Defendants used the 2020 Lease for all new tenancies entered into after January 1, 2020, though some tenants signed this version of the lease in late 2019. The 2020 Lease expanded upon the void and unenforceable terms contained in the Pre-2020 Lease and added new and more explicit void and unenforceable terms. To date, thousands of tenants have entered into the 2020 Lease.

B. The Leases Purport to Limit Tenants' Ability to Sue Defendants and to Assert That Defendants Owe a Duty of Care

204. First, the Nijjar Companies' leases contain terms that purport to limit or modify the tenant's right to sue their landlord. This includes terms that forbid tenants from suing the Nijjar Companies regardless of fault; terms that limit tenants' rights to collect appropriate monetary compensation through legal process; and terms that require tenants to waive their right to present their cases to a jury and to participate in a class action.

205. Under the Civil Code, lease terms that modify or waive a tenant’s “right to assert a cause of action against the lessor which may arise in the future” are void as contrary to public policy.²⁶ Any purported modification or waiver of a tenant’s “right to have the landlord exercise a duty of care to prevent personal injury or personal property damage where that duty is imposed by law” is also void as contrary to public policy.²⁷ Terms in Defendants’ leases that constrain a tenant’s ability to assert a cause of action against their landlord, or that purport to discharge the landlord’s duty of care, include the following:

a. The 2020 Lease, section 16, broadly purports to require a tenant to waive “any and all claims, demands, losses, liabilities, causes of action, suits, judgments, ²⁶ Civil Code, § 1953, subd. (a)(2).

²⁷ Id., subd. (a)(5).

1 damages, costs and expenses . . . arising from any occurrence in or about the 2 Premises,” or “the use and occupancy of the Premises”

- 3 b. The 2020 Lease, section 16, also purports to require a tenant to “indemnify”
4 and “defend (with counsel reasonably acceptable to Landlord)” the landlord 5 against any such claims. This section further states that, “[w]ithout limitation, 6 this indemnity provision is intended to indemnify Landlord and its agents 7 against the consequences of their own negligence or fault” including “when 8 Landlord or its agents are jointly, comparatively, or concurrently negligent 9 with Tenant.”
- 10 c. The 2020 Lease, section 49.1, purports to require a tenant to agree that the 11 “Landlord shall not be liable or responsible in any way for injury to any 12 person, or for loss of, or damage to, any article belonging to Tenant located in 13 said premises.” The same provision appears in the Pre-2020 lease, section 12.
- 14 d. The 2020 Lease, section 49.2, purports to require a tenant to agree to limits on 15 the amount of money they can seek to recover from the landlord and its 16 affiliates, by capping liability “at an amount equal to four (4) times the 17 monthly rental rate payable by the Tenant each month up to a maximum 18 aggregate amount of $10,000” and through an agreement that “Landlord’s 19 liability under this Agreement will be limited to Landlord’s unencumbered 20 interest in the Premises.”
- 21 e. The 2020 Lease, section 49.2, also purports to require a tenant to agree not to 22 seek to hold the landlord or its affiliates “personally liable,” and specifies that 23 “Tenant hereby waives the right to claim any such personal liability.”

24 C. The Leases Purport to Curtail Tenants’ Procedural Rights in Litigation

25 206. Second, the Nijjar Companies’ leases purport to alter or waive certain procedural 26 rights that tenants may have if they sue their landlord. Any purported modification or waiver of a 27 lessee’s “procedural rights in litigation in any action involving his rights and obligations as a tenant” is void as contrary to public policy. (Civil Code, § 1953, subd. (a)(4).) Such terms include:

- a. The 2020 Lease, section 11, purports to require tenants to waive their right to a jury trial in any action against Defendants related to the lease or to the use or occupancy of the property. In uniquely prominent text placed immediately above the tenant’s signature line, the tenant must agree to “WAIVE TRIAL BY JURY IN ANY ACTION, PROCEEDING, OR COUNTERCLAIM.”
- b. The Pre-2020 Lease, section 9, likewise seeks to require that tenants “waive their right to a trial by jury on any matter arising out of this Agreement, or the use, or the occupancy of the premises herein.”
- c. The 2020 Lease, section 42.2, further purports to require a tenant to agree that the tenant “irrevocably waives any right to trial by jury.”
- d. The 2020 Lease, section 42.1, purports to prohibit a tenant from filing any action in court against Defendants unless the tenant first participates in mediation, for which the tenant is obligated to pay partial costs.
- e. The 2020 Lease, section 46, purports to require tenants to waive their right to join a class action lawsuit or any other kind of joint legal action, including arbitration, against Defendants related to the lease or to the use or occupancy of the property.

D. The Leases Purport to Limit Tenants’ Remedies for Habitability Defects

207. Third, Defendants’ leases purport to restrict tenants’ ability to use legal process to remedy habitability violations. Some of these terms are unenforceable because they purport to modify or waive the tenant’s right to assert a cause of action against their landlord. Others are void as contrary to public policy under section 1942.1 of the Civil Code, because they purport to waive the landlord’s habitability obligations. Individually and in the aggregate, these terms are particularly egregious in light of the Nijjar Companies’ failure to keep their properties in safe and habitable condition. These terms include:

- 1 a. The 2020 Lease, section 55.1, titled “Complaint Procedure Addendum,” 2 purports to require a tenant to agree that they may seek to recover from the 3 landlord no more than $1,000 for “claims related to the habitability of the unit, 4 defects in the unit, maintenance and repair related matters, bugs, roaches, 5 rodents [. . .] etc.” unless the tenant follows a specified “Complaint 6 Procedure,” which may include the tenant being required to pay for a third-7 party inspector selected by the landlord to verify whether the habitability issue 8 the tenant complains of actually exists.
- 9 b. The 2020 Lease, section 55.2, titled “Service Procedure Addendum,” likewise 10 purports to require a tenant to agree to limits on the amount the tenant can seek 11 to recover from the landlord for habitability issues. It caps the landlord’s 12 liability at $1,000 for “service requirements related to the habitability of the 13 unit” unless the tenant “strictly follows” a specified “Service Procedure.” Even 14 when the tenant follows the procedures outlined, the landlord’s aggregate 15 liability for “service requirements related to the habitability of the unit” is 16 “capped at an amount equal to four (4) times the monthly rental rate . . . up to a 17 maximum aggregate amount of $10,000.”
- 18 c. The 2020 Lease, section 55.2, further purports to require the tenant to agree 19 that moving out of the unit is an appropriate remedy for habitability defects: it 20 states that the aforementioned cap on recovery “is a reasonable cap taking into 21 account . . . that Tenant has an adequate remedy of terminating the Lease and 22 moving to another apartment unit at a cost substantially less than the liability 23 cap.”
- 24 d. The 2020 Lease, section 55.2, also provides that if a tenant fails to follow the 25 Service Procedure, the landlord may terminate the lease.

26 208. Other terms in both leases aim to prevent tenants from exercising the statutorily 27 permitted “repair and deduct” remedy to fix habitability defects if their landlord will not make 28 repairs. Civil Code section 1942 allows a tenant to pay for repairs necessary to bring their rental unit into habitable condition and deduct those costs from their rental payment, if the landlord has been notified and has failed to make repairs within a reasonable amount of time. Civil Code section 1942.1 declares such a waiver or modification of the repair and deduct remedy to be void as contrary to public policy. Defendants’ leases include the following terms:

- a. The 2020 Lease, section 21, purports to prohibit tenants from using the repair-and-deduct remedy, stating that “without the Landlord’s prior written consent[,] Tenant must not make any alterations or improvements or material repairs”; that “Tenant must not deduct from Rent the costs of any repairs, alterations or improvements”; and that “any deduction made by Tenant will be considered unpaid Rent.”
- b. The Pre-2020 Lease, section 3C, impermissibly purports to modify tenants’ right to the repair-and-deduct remedy by making its exercise contingent on the tenant using a landlord-approved vendor: it requires a tenant to agree that “any repairs initiated by Tenant must be performed by Landlord approved vendors.”

E. The Leases Purport to Alter the Permissible Uses of Tenants’ Security Deposits

209. Finally, Defendants’ leases purport to alter how Defendants may use tenants’ security deposits. Under Civil Code section 1950.5, subdivision (e), a landlord may deduct money from a tenant’s security deposit only to compensate the landlord for those items specifically listed in subdivision (b): the tenant’s default in payment of rent; repair of damage to the unit caused by the tenant or their guest; cleaning of the unit; and fixing or replacing other items belonging to the landlord. Any purported modification or waiver of a tenant’s “rights or remedies under Section 1950.5” is void as contrary to public policy under Civil Code section 1953, subdivision (a)(1). In contrast, the 2020 Lease, section 19, provides that Defendants have the right to deduct money from security deposits to reimburse them “for any fines or charges imposed by city, county, or other authorities, due to any violation by Tenant, or guests or licensees of Tenant.” Because such “fines or charges”—which, as defined, may include code enforcement fines—are not among the

1 specified costs that a landlord can claim from a tenant’s security deposit under Civil Code section 2 1950.5, subdivision (e), this term is void.

3 VI. DEFENDANTS NEGOTIATE LEASES IN SPANISH, BUT DO NOT PROVIDE 4 TRANSLATIONS OF THEIR LEASE DOCUMENTS AS REQUIRED BY LAW

5 210. The Nijjar Companies regularly lease rental units to tenants who speak primarily 6 or exclusively Spanish, and they seek out Spanish-speaking applicants to fill vacant units. But 7 they fail to comply with the California Translation Act, Civil Code section 1632, subdivision (b), 8 which requires a landlord to provide a tenant with a translation of a residential lease if the lease 9 was negotiated primarily in Spanish or another specified language and is for a period of longer 10 than one month.²⁸ The translation must be provided before the lease is signed, and any later-11 issued documents making substantial changes to the rights and obligations of the parties must also 12 be translated. In the context of residential leases, such documents include notices of rent 13 increases, notices increasing the amount of late fees, notices modifying lease terms to require 14 tenants to pay for utilities, notices about the Tenant Protection Act, and notices regarding other 15 changes to the lease (collectively, “change-of-terms notices”).

16 211. Since at least January 1, 2019, the Nijjar Companies have provided all tenants only 17 with English-language leases and lease notices, regardless of the language used during lease 18 negotiations. Defendants do not have a Spanish-language translation of their lease available for 19 employees to use when leasing to Spanish speakers, and do not have any policies or procedures in 20 place instructing employees to provide a Spanish-language translation of a lease or change-of-21 terms notices when the leasing process occurs primarily in Spanish.

22 212. Although Defendants’ leases establish month-to-month tenancies, Defendants 23 must comply with section 1632 because, by law, month-to-month tenancies continue for longer 24 than one month: they are “of a continuing nature” and “continue[] for successive periods of the 25 same duration for an indefinite term . . . until either party terminates by giving proper notice.”²⁹

26 ²⁸ Translations are also required for leases and other specified consumer contracts 27 negotiated primarily in Chinese, Tagalog, Vietnamese, or Korean. Civ. Code, § 1632, 28 subdivision (b).

²⁹ Miller & Desatnik Mgmt. Co. v. Bullock (1990) 221 Cal.App.3d Supp. 13, 18; The Rutter Group, Cal. Practice Guide: Landlord-Tenant, Ch. 2A-2, § 2:16 [emphasis in original]; see also Cal. Civil Code, § 1946.

1 Indeed, Defendants’ leases state that they “shall continue as a month to month tenancy until either
2 party shall terminate this agreement,” and the average tenancy at one of Defendants’ properties
3 lasts between three and four years. Defendants’ leases also require either party to give 30 days’ 4 written notice to terminate the lease, which would make no sense in the context of a lease for only 5 one month; require tenants to put electricity and gas bills in their own names; and contain 6 numerous other terms that do not apply to short-term tenancies.

7 213. The Nijjar Companies’ violation of section 1632 is widespread. Defendants 8 acknowledge that many of their tenants at one of their large Los Angeles properties, for example, 9 “are low-income Hispanic immigrants.”³⁰ And their former employees note that many, and often 10 a majority, of the tenants at various properties spoke primarily or only Spanish, and that 11 employees and tenants routinely spoke Spanish during the leasing process. Moreover, Defendants 12 actively market their rental units to Spanish-speaking communities throughout the state, such as 13 by posting rental listings in Spanish online and posting signs on their properties that read “Se 14 Habla Español.” Defendants also intentionally hire Spanish-speaking staff who can communicate 15 with prospective tenants in Spanish during the leasing process, and they make Spanish language a 16 job requirement or preference. As a result, a large percentage of Defendants’ on-site property 17 managers are Spanish speakers, and some are monolingual Spanish speakers.

18 214. By failing to provide Spanish translations of leases and lease notices, the Nijjar 19 Companies have unlawfully and unfairly required many of their tenants—a figure likely in the 20 thousands—to enter into leases they do not understand, and have deprived these tenants of their 21 legal right to evaluate the terms of the lease before signing it, and to evaluate all subsequent 22 changes to the terms of their lease.

23 VII. DEFENDANTS VIOLATE THE TENANT PROTECTION ACT

24 215. The Tenant Protection Act, which took effect in 2020, gives most California 25 tenants substantial new protections against unaffordable rent increases and no-fault evictions.
26 Finding that 80 percent of low-income renters were considered rent-burdened, and that those

28 ³⁰ Appellant’s Opening Brief at 13, People v. Group IX BP Properties, LP et al. (Cal.App.
2 Dist., B322878).

1 renters also had limited housing options, the Legislature enacted the TPA to provide stability and 2 certainty to tenants by protecting them from “large unforeseen rent increases.”³¹ Within any 12-3 month period, a landlord may not increase the gross rental rate of a unit covered by the TPA by 4 more than either 10 percent or 5 percent plus the most recent annual change in the cost of living, 5 whichever is lower.³² To ensure that landlords do not use evictions to circumvent rent caps, the 6 TPA limits the reasons for which a landlord may evict a tenant who has occupied the rental unit 7 for 12 months or longer.³³

8 216. The Nijjar Companies have routinely violated the TPA in at least two ways: first, 9 by failing to comply with the law’s strict notice requirements, and second, by exceeding the law’s 10 annual rent increase caps at properties where they shifted substantial utilities costs to tenants that 11 previously had been paid by Defendants.

12 A. Defendants Violate the TPA’s Straightforward Notice Requirements

13 217. Civil Code section 1946.2, subdivision (f), requires landlords to provide a specific 14 disclosure to tenants whose tenancies are covered by the TPA. Because some rental units are 15 exempted from the TPA, the law also requires landlords to notify certain tenants if their tenancies
16 are not subject to the TPA’s protections. Since the date the TPA took effect, the Nijjar Companies 17 have failed to comply with its notice requirements.

18 218. A notice that the TPA applies to a tenancy must be provided in at least 12-point 19 font, and must include the specific language set forth in Civil Code section 1946.2, subdivision 20 (f)(3). For all new tenancies established after July 1, 2020, this notice must be provided as an 21 addendum to the lease agreement or as a separate notice signed by the tenant.³⁴

23 ³¹ Assem. Com. on Housing and Community Development, Rep. on Assem. Bill No. 1482

25 ³² Civ. Code, § 1947.12, subd. (a).

26 ³³ Civ. Code, § 1946.2.

27 ³⁴ The notice must state, “California law limits the amount your rent can be increased. See 28 Section 1947.12 of the Civil Code for more information. California law also provides that after all of the tenants have continuously and lawfully occupied the property for 12 months or more or at least one of the tenants has continuously and lawfully occupied the property for 24 months or more, a landlord must provide a statement of cause in any notice to terminate a tenancy. See Section 1946.2 of the Civil Code for more information.” For tenancies in a mobile home, the operative date of this provision is July 1, 2022.

1 219. A notice that the TPA does not apply to a tenancy must include the language
2 specified in subdivision (e)(8)(B)(i) of section 1946.2, and must be included in the lease 3 agreement for all new tenancies established after July 1, 2020.³⁵ Moreover, if a landlord whose 4 single-family home would be exempt from the TPA fails to provide this notice, the TPA 5 exemption does not apply, and the tenancy is subject to the annual rent increase cap set by the 6 TPA.

7 220. The Nijjar Companies have failed to follow these straightforward requirements.
8 Defendants' 2020 Lease includes the statutory TPA exemption language in a paragraph located at 9 section 53.19 of the lease, below a heading reading "AB 1482, Tenant Protection Act of 2019; 10 Single Family Houses." This exemption language appears in all leases, even for tenants who are 11 renting units in multi-family properties covered by the TPA. Signature lines for the tenants are 12 located immediately below the exemption language. Many tenants at multi-family properties, 13 whose tenancies were in fact covered by the TPA, signed on the lines right below the exemption 14 language.

15 221. Making matters worse, the 2020 Lease does not include any statement that the 16 TPA applies to a tenancy—even though the majority, over 15,000, of the Nijjar Companies' 17 rental units are covered by the TPA—and does not include the TPA disclosure required by Civil 18 Code section 1946.2, subdivision (f)(3). Rather than clearly notifying a tenant, in 12-point font or 19 larger, that their tenancy is covered by the TPA as required by law, Defendants appended the 20 entirety of the TPA's enacting bill, AB 1482, at the very end of the lease, in 10-point font or 21 smaller. The TPA coverage disclosure is, of course, buried in this statutory language, but in order
22 to know whether their particular tenancy is covered by the TPA, a tenant would have to review 23 and interpret seven pages of dense statutory language attached to the end of a 50-page document.

24 _____
25 ³⁵ This notice is required only for tenants of single-family homes or mobile homes not 26 covered by the TPA. The notice must state, "This property is not subject to the rent limits 27 imposed by Section 1947.12 of the Civil Code and is not subject to the just cause requirements of 28 Section 1946.2 of the Civil Code. This property meets the requirements of Sections 1947.12 (d)(5) and 1946.2 (e)(8) of the Civil Code and the owner is not any of the following: (1) a real estate investment trust, as defined by Section 856 of the Internal Revenue Code; (2) a corporation; or (3) a limited liability company in which at least one member is a corporation." For tenancies in a mobile home, the operative date of this provision is July 1, 2022.

1 222. By providing misleading and noncompliant notices in this manner, Defendants 2 have violated the law, acted unfairly, and deceived tenants about their important legal rights, on 3 thousands of occasions.

4 B. Defendants Charge Rent and Mandatory Fees that Exceed Caps Set by the 5 TPA

6 223. The Nijjar Companies have also violated the TPA by increasing tenants' gross 7 rental rates by more than 10 percent (or 5 percent plus the change in cost of living) in a given 8 year. Specifically, beginning in 2023, Defendants shifted mandatory utilities fees to certain of 9 their tenants that, in combination with annual increases to those tenants' base monthly rental rate, 10 exceed the TPA's rent cap.

11 224. Prior to enactment of the TPA, the Nijjar Companies' form residential lease—the 12 Pre-2020 Lease—typically provided that mandatory utilities such as water, sewer, and trash 13 would be paid by the landlord. In other words, these utilities were covered by the tenant's 14 monthly rent payment.

15 225. The Nijjar Companies continued to pay for these utilities after 2020 for most 16 tenants. However, Defendants added language to their 2020 Lease to allow them the option to 17 change how they billed tenants for utilities at a later time. The 2020 Lease, section 6.4, expressly 18 provides that if Defendants choose to bill tenants for utilities, then these fees "will be deemed 19 'Rent' under this Agreement."

20 226. Beginning in February 2023, Defendants took advantage of that lease change and 21 began requiring over 1,900 California households at over 100 of their properties to pay for 22 services like water, sewer, and trash for the first time. These utilities were now billed through a 23 Ratio Utility Billing System, or RUBS, dividing property-wide utility bills that were previously 24 paid by Defendants amongst the tenants of a building by assigning each household a fixed 25 monthly amount according to the number of occupants of each unit. These additional, and 26 permanent, monthly charges ranged from approximately $70 per household, to as high as $175 27 per household, and included recurring service fees. These charges were listed on the tenants' 28

2 Companies along with their regular rent payments.

3 227. By shifting mandatory monthly fees for water, sewer, and trash services to tenants, 4 the Nijjar Companies increased the gross rental rate for affected households by the amount of the 5 new fees.

6 228. At the same time, the Nijjar Companies continued to increase the base monthly 7 rent—not counting the new utilities fees—for these households every year, up to or near the 8 maximum allowed under the TPA. For many affected households, the increases in base rent and 9 the additional utility fees together resulted in large, unforeseen increases to their gross rental rate 10 that exceeded the TPA’s cap, in some cases even totaling 20 percent or more.

11 229. It is unlawful for the Nijjar Companies to charge and collect rent at a gross rate 12 that exceeds the TPA cap as a result of their decision to shift utilities costs to tenants. Defendants 13 continue to collect monthly rents that are higher than they lawfully should be, given the TPA’s 14 cap, from each of the 1,900 or more households whose utilities billing method was shifted to 15 RUBS.

16 VIII. DEFENDANTS DO NOT COMPLY WITH MANDATORY NOTICE REQUIREMENTS
17 BEFORE EVICTING TENANTS

18 230. From January 1, 2019, or earlier, to a date unknown, the Nijjar Companies 19 routinely served three-day notices to pay rent or quit—and then often evicted—tenants without 20 complying with the strict notice provisions of Civil Code section 1962. This constitutes unlawful 21 and unfair conduct.

22 231. Civil Code section 1962 requires landlords to disclose specific information to 23 tenants, including how and to whom to pay rent and how to serve notices on their landlord.³⁶ It 24 also requires that information be kept current, and when a property changes hands, it requires the 25 new owner or management company to provide tenants updated information within 15 days.³⁷

26 232. If a successor owner or manager of a property fails to comply, it is prohibited from 27 serving a three-day notice to pay or quit and from “otherwise evict[ing] a tenant for nonpayment

28 ³⁶ Civ. Code, § 1962, subds. (a)(1)-(a)(3).

³⁷ Id., subd. (c).

1 of rent that accrued during the period of noncompliance.”³⁸ Although the new landlord remains 2 entitled to the unpaid rent, it cannot initiate an unlawful detainer action against the tenant for 3 nonpayment.³⁹ Put simply, compliance with section 1962 is “effectively a jurisdictional 4 prerequisite to an unlawful detainer action,” and thus “strict compliance with its provisions is 5 required.”⁴⁰

6 233. For years, the Nijjar Companies routinely failed to disclose information required 7 by section 1962 to tenants. Defendants failed to make these mandatory disclosures when they 8 acquired or began managing new rental units from third-party sellers, which happened on 9 average, hundreds of times per year. For example, on July 10, 2019, I E Rental Homes sent a 10 notice to tenants at a newly purchased Bakersfield apartment complex, notifying them that I E 11 Rental Homes was the new management company, but failed to provide among other things the 12 name, telephone number, and usual street address of the owner or other person authorized to 13 accept service of process and receive notices and demands on the owner’s behalf, as required by 14 Civil Code section 1962, subdivision (a)(1). Defendants also issued similarly noncompliant 15 notices—likely numbering well in the thousands—when PAMA Management and I E Rental 16 Homes ceased operations in January 2020 and the newly formed, Nevada-incorporated Property 17 Management Entities became the new managers of all of their then-existing properties. The new 18 Property Management Entities were successor managers under section 1962 and were required to 19 serve compliant notices on all tenants.

20 234. Defendants continued issuing defective notices as late as 2021. For example, on 21 November 9, 2021, Bridge Management issued a notice to a tenant “pursuant to California Civil 22 Code Sections 1961 and 1962” that failed to disclose the telephone number of the owner or 23 person authorized to accept service of process and receive notices and demands on the owner’s 24 behalf.

26 ³⁸ Ibid.

27 ³⁹ An unlawful detainer action is not a landlord’s sole remedy for recovering unpaid rent; for example, actions seeking unpaid rent but not possession of the property are routinely filed in small claims court.

28 ⁴⁰ Group XIII Properties LP v. Stockman (2022) 85 Cal.App.5th Supp. 1.

1 235. Because the Nijjar Companies failed to comply with section 1962, they were 2 precluded from serving a three-day notice to pay rent or quit or evicting a tenant for the tenant's 3 failure to pay rent during the period of noncompliance. Yet they did so anyway, likely on 4 hundreds of occasions. Like other low-income renters, many of the tenants whom Defendants 5 sought to evict did not have counsel to represent them in an unlawful detainer action, and 6 therefore would not have known that the Nijjar Companies were legally barred from pursuing the 7 eviction.

8 236. Moreover, as of August 2022, if not earlier, the Nijjar Companies knew or should 9 have known that they were prohibited from serving three-day nonpayment notices on and 10 bringing unlawful detainer actions against tenants who had received their deficient notices. On 11 August 9 and September 6, 2022, the Appellate Department of the Los Angeles Superior Court 12 reversed two unlawful detainer judgments that the Nijjar Companies had obtained in their favor, 13 holding that the section 1962 notices sent to the evicted tenants were deficient because they failed 14 to include all of the information required by statute.⁴¹ Plaintiff is informed and believes and 15 thereupon alleges that the Nijjar Companies continued to serve three-day notices and pursue 16 unlawful detainer judgments on tenants who received noncompliant notices.

17 IX. THE DEFENDANTS ARE LIABLE FOR EACH OTHERS' VIOLATIONS

18 A. The Property Management Entities, Ownership Entities, and DKNI
19 Operate as a Joint Venture

20 237. The Property Management Entities, Ownership Entities, and DKNI, Inc.
21 operate as a joint venture with the shared purpose of owning, advertising, managing, and profiting 22 from the rental enterprise at issue in this Complaint.

23 238. The Ownership Entities were created at the direction of Nijjar family members 24 as vessels for owning the rental units. The Property Management Entities and DKNI were created 25 at the direction of Nijjar family members to provide day-to-day management and administrative 26 services for those units. These business entities have joint interest in and control over the joint 27 venture.

28 ⁴¹ Group XIII Properties, supra, 85 Cal.App.5th Supp. 1; Cobra 28 No. 7 LP v. Beckwith
(Super. Ct. LA, No. BV033626), op. dated Aug. 9, 2022.

1 239. At all relevant times, the Property Management Entities, Ownership Entities, and 2 DKNI have combined their property, skill, knowledge and other resources with the intent to carry 3 out a common business undertaking (i.e., the operation of a rental enterprise) and routinely 4 cooperate with each other to pursue that common business undertaking. Indeed, the Defendant 5 entities continuously transact business with other Defendant entities when doing so promotes the 6 joint venture.

7 240. For example, Property Management Entities owned by one Nijjar family
8 member manage rental properties owned by Owner Partnerships controlled by other family 9 members. And an Owner Partnership controlled by one family member typically receives 10 management services provided by multiple Property Management Entities, some of which are 11 owned by other family members. To illustrate: properties held by Owner Partnerships controlled 12 by Michael Nijjar, Defendant Swaranjit Nijjar's youngest son, are variously managed by Bridge 13 Management (owned by Defendant Daljit Kler), Equity Management (owned by Michael Nijjar), 14 Regency Management (owned by Sanjeet Nijjar), and Pro Management (owned by Sabraj Nijjar).

15 241. The Property Management Entities, Owner Partnerships, and DKNI share the 16 revenue and profits of the rental enterprise. Tenants pay rent to the Property Management 17 Entities. The Property Management Entities share some of that revenue with the Owner 18 Partnerships (which distribute it to their partners, including the General Partner Corporations), 19 and also share some of that money with Golden Management, ostensibly for services that Golden 20 Management provides to them. The Owner Partnerships, in turn, share a portion of their rental 21 income with the Property Management Entities, ostensibly as payment for their property 22 management services. Golden Management shares a portion of the money it receives with DKNI, 23 ostensibly as payment for Defendant Daljit Kler's property management services. Plaintiff is 24 informed and believes and thereupon alleges that the Property Management Entities, Ownership 25 Entities, and DKNI also share in the losses of the venture.

26 242. To demonstrate financial strength and to induce other businesses to enter into 27 contracts, members of the Nijjar family have represented to potential lenders that the various 28 business entities they control are a unified operation with multiple components, including the

1 rental properties themselves, as well as the family's management companies, hardware stores, an 2 apartment laundry machine company, and a data management company.

3 243. Nijjar family members sometimes transfer properties from one of the 4 Ownership Entities they control to an Ownership Entity that is controlled by a different family
5 member. Sometimes in making these transfers, the Ownership Entity tells the county recorder's 6 office that it is exempt from paying the documentary transfer tax because the old owner and the 7 new owner are in effect the same. Also, sometimes a Nijjar family member transfers a property 8 from one Ownership Entity the person controls to another that the same person controls.

9 244. Accordingly, each of the Property Management Entities, Ownership Entities, 10 and DKNI, Inc., and the joint venture itself, are jointly and severally liable for the wrongful 11 conduct of any other member of the joint venture acting in furtherance of the venture.

12 B. The Property Management Entities, Ownership Entities, DKNI, and 13 Individual Defendants Operate as a Single Enterprise

14 245. In the alternative to the allegations of joint venture set forth in Paragraphs 237 to 15 244, and incorporating by reference all allegations made in those paragraphs, Plaintiff alleges that 16 all named Defendants—including the Individual Defendants, Property Management Entities, 17 Ownership Entities, and DKNI, Inc.—have operated in a manner that blurs the lines between 18 them to such an extent that they may properly be considered a single entity, with such entity 19 being liable for conduct engaged in by any of the named Defendants.

20 246. The Defendants have substantial unity of interest and ownership. Each of these 21 business entities is owned by a member of the Nijjar family, or a member of the Nijjar family has 22 sole financial interest in the entity (except in those situations designated by an asterisk in Exhibit 23 A in which an associate of the Nijjar family has a partial ownership interest), and each of these 24 entities operates in the financial interest of the Nijjar family.

25 247. Defendants have substantially integrated their resources and operations in pursuit 26 of their common business objective. Among other things, Defendants share offices, employees, 27 officers, brokers, vendors, ledger and data systems, document management systems, personnel 28 handbooks, human resources services, form tenant leases, and more, with their centralized

1 operations located at Golden Management’s office in El Monte, California. As one example of 2 this integration, Defendant Daljit Kler utilizes a Golden Management email address and office
3 space at the El Monte Office in performing her work as a “consultant” to all of the Property 4 Management Entities, and she is paid for this work only by Golden Management. Without the 5 benefit of these integrated resources, several of the Defendants would be under-resourced.

6 248. Owner Partnerships controlled by one family member have used Property 7 Management Entities owned by other family members to engage in inequitable conduct by 8 making false statements to local governments. For example, Defendants have submitted to local 9 governments permit application paperwork claiming the benefit of the “owner-builder” 10 exemption from local licensing and permitting requirements, ostensibly because the owner or its 11 employees will perform the work.⁴² But the Owner Partnerships are not entitled to claim this 12 exemption because, with one exception, they have no employees.

13 249. The Nijjar family also has a history of misidentifying the title or nature of officer 14 and director positions in the corporations they control. Individuals have ostensibly filled officer 15 and director positions without actually exercising the powers of or carrying out the duties of those 16 roles. Over a period of years, Defendant Daljit Kler sent emails identifying herself as the 17 “President” of Golden Management—a role which she has never actually held, according to 18 corporate filings. Senior management personnel have represented to the public that they work for 19 various of the business entities of which they are not employees. The flow of services and money 20 between entities owned by Nijjar family members is often informal; where written contracts have 21 been created, the duties of the parties and compensation to be paid is vague.

22 250. Moreover, Nijjar family members have often used Golden Management’s revenue 23 and assets for their own personal enrichment, disconnected from any legitimate and independent 24 corporate purpose. Since 2020, Golden Management has made payments directly to or for the 25 benefit of Nijjar family members for goods and services unrelated to property management, 26 including paying private school tuition, financing parties for family members and providing them 27 with luxury cars, covering family travel and meal expenses, and paying for Defendant Daljit

28 ⁴² See Bus. & Prof. Code, § 7044, subd. (a)(1)-(2).

1 Kler's personal fitness trainer and some medical costs, among others. The alleged separation 2 between the business entities and the Individual Defendants should not be recognized when they 3 have failed to do so themselves.

4 251. Moreover, as alleged in Paragraphs 138 to 140, the Property Management Entities 5 have illegally engaged in real estate activities they could have lawfully performed only if they had 6 a designated licensed broker-officer, which they do not. Maintaining the fiction of corporate 7 separateness between the Individual Defendants, Property Management Entities, and Ownership
8 Entities (which have ostensible authority to direct the activities of the Property Management 9 Entities, their agents) would further allow the Individual Defendants to circumvent the statutory 10 scheme of the California Real Estate Law, which is designed to protect the public by requiring 11 licenses be maintained by corporations engaged in residential real estate management. It would be 12 inequitable to honor the fiction of corporate separateness when the Property Management Entities 13 are prohibited from conducting the very business that provides income to the Individual 14 Defendants.

15 252. Furthermore, recognizing the alleged separateness of certain Ownership Entities 16 that represented to government agencies (e.g., to avoid paying a documentary transfer tax) that 17 they were in effect the same entity would be inequitable as it would perpetrate a fraud on the 18 government agencies to which these claims were made.

19 253. Because respecting the purportedly separate identities of the Individual 20 Defendants, Property Management Entities, Ownership Entities, and DKNI would lead to unjust 21 and inequitable results, Defendants should be collectively treated as a single business entity, and 22 this single entity should be liable for the debts and judgments of any of its component parts.

23 C. The Property Management Entities Are Agents of the Owner Partnerships

24 254. At all relevant times, each Property Management Entity acted as an agent for 25 the Owner Partnerships whose rental units the Property Management Entity managed. Each 26 Owner Partnership is liable for the wrongdoing of its agents, including each Property 27 Management Entity that managed the Owner Partnership's rental units.
28

1 255. Furthermore, because each General Partner Corporation is jointly and severally
2 liable for the obligations of each Owner Partnership for which it is the general partner, each 3 General Partner Corporation is also liable for the wrongdoing of the agents of that Owner
4 Partnership, including each Property Management Entity that managed the Owner Partnership's 5 rental units.⁴³

6 X. DEFENDANTS SWARANJIT “MIKE” NIJJAR AND DALJIT “DJ” KLER ARE 7 PERSONALLY LIABLE FOR THE VIOLATIONS COMMITTED BY THE NIJJAR
8 COMPANIES

9 A. Defendants Nijjar and Kler Each Have Knowledge of, and Ability to 10 Control, the Nijjar Companies' Violations

11 256. Defendants Swaranjit “Mike” Nijjar and Daljit “DJ” Kler are aware or should have 12 been aware that violations of California laws requiring property owners to provide habitable 13 conditions are pervasive at properties owned and managed by the Nijjar Companies. At all 14 relevant times, Defendants Nijjar and Kler both received information directly or from 15 management employees about code enforcement violations, private-party lawsuits, and tenant 16 complaints, among other sources of information. As licensed real estate brokers, Defendants 17 Nijjar and Kler also knew or should have known that the Nijjar Companies discriminated against 18 prospective tenants with Section 8 vouchers; imposed illegal lease terms on tenants; failed to 19 provide Spanish translations of leases and lease documents as required by law; violated the 20 Tenant Protection Act; evicted tenants without compliant notices under Civil Code, section 1962; 21 and engaged in real estate activities requiring a broker's license without each of their 22 management companies having a licensed broker-officer.

23 257. Defendants Nijjar and Kler have both served as officers of, directors of, or persons 24 with actual authority and control over various of the Nijjar Companies and therefore were in a 25 position to exercise control over those businesses to prevent those violations from taking place or 26 recurring, but they failed to do so over a period of years. As alleged below, Defendants Nijjar and 27 Kler have at all relevant times been directly involved in the operational management of the Nijjar 28 Companies.

⁴³ Corp. Code, § 15904.04, subd. (a).

1 258. Specifically, Defendant Kler has identified herself as the President of Golden 2 Management, is the de facto head of all property management operations for the Nijjar
3 Companies, and oversees property management operations through her one-person consulting 4 business, DKNI, Inc. Her responsibilities include supervising management staff; meeting 5 regularly with and providing direction to on-site and regional property managers and area 6 supervisors; attending certain government inspections and meetings; visiting rental properties; 7 and monitoring rent collection and vacancies. Kler further has the authority to direct that 8 expenditures be made for improvements and maintenance at the Nijjar Companies' properties.

9 259. Defendant Swaranjit Nijjar has sole or primary financial interest in around 13,000 10 of the rental units owned and managed by the Nijjar Companies—over half of their collective 11 holdings—and is involved in management decisions pertaining not only to the properties he 12 beneficially owns, but also to properties beneficially owned by other family members. During the 13 relevant period, he has routinely corresponded with Golden Management employees and other 14 agents of the Nijjar Companies about ownership and management operations on topics ranging 15 from vacancies and unpaid rent balances to property inspections, code enforcement activity, 16 tenant relations, and termination of certain management employees. He further holds, and 17 exercises or delegates, decision-making authority on such issues as whether to make 18 improvements (e.g., re-piping plumbing) at the Nijjar Companies' properties and whether to 19 transition properties to RUBS billing plans, among other topics.

20 260. Although, on paper, Defendant Nijjar's role has changed in recent years, he 21 remains involved in ownership and management decisions. Prior to 2021, Swaranjit Nijjar held all 22 or most officer roles (President, Secretary, Treasurer/CFO, and sole Director) for the General 23 Partner Corporations corresponding to the Owner Partnerships in which he held a sole or primary 24 financial interest (see Exhibit A). In late 2021, and continuing into 2022, many of these officer 25 positions were transferred from Defendant Nijjar to the Nijjar family's longtime accountant. The 26 accountant, however, as a matter of practice, does not exercise his authority as officer and/or 27 director to make major financial decisions on behalf of the corporations without first discussing 28 those decisions with Defendant Nijjar. As a result, Plaintiff is informed and believes and

1 thereupon alleges that major decisions regarding assets and finances of those Owner Partnerships 2 in which Defendant has sole financial interest must be approved, implicitly or explicitly, by 3 Defendant Nijjar.

4 261. Accordingly, Defendant Nijjar is personally liable for wrongdoing caused by the 5 Property Management Entities and General Partner Corporations, and Defendant Kler is 6 personally liable for wrongdoing caused by the Property Management Entities, General Partner 7 Corporations, and DKNI.

8 B. Defendants Nijjar and Kler Each Are Personally Liable for Violations
9 Committed by Corporations for Which Each Is or Was a Responsible 10 Corporate Officer

11 262. As described above, Defendants Nijjar and Kler each serve or have served as 12 officers of, directors of, or held positions of responsibility or actual authority in various of the 13 Property Management Entities, General Partner Corporations, and DKNI, Inc. This responsibility 14 allowed each of them to influence the policies and activities described in this Complaint. Plaintiff 15 has alleged that these activities and policies violate public protection statutes that impose strict 16 liability, including the Unfair Competition Law (Bus. & Prof. Code, § 17200 et seq.).

17 263. While in their positions of responsibility or actual authority, Defendants Nijjar and 18 Kler facilitated the violations alleged in the Complaint. Accordingly, Defendant Nijjar is 19 personally liable for wrongdoing caused by the Property Management Entities and General 20 Partner Corporations for which he served as an officer or director or held a position of 21 responsibility or actual authority. Likewise, Defendant Kler is personally liable for wrongdoing 22 caused by the Property Management Entities and General Partner Corporations for which she 23 served as an officer or director or held a position of responsibility or actual authority, and for 24 wrongdoing caused by DKNI.

25 C. Defendants Nijjar and Kler Are Each Personally Liable as Alter Egos of 26 Corporations Each Owns

27 264. Defendant Nijjar is the alter ego of each General Partner Corporation for which 28 he owns at least 50 percent of shares, or in the alternative, for which the Nijjar Family Trust or the OADOA Family Trust owns at least 50 percent of shares. Corporations meeting that

1 description are indicated in Exhibit A with the name Swaranjit Nijjar. Defendant Nijjar is also 2 the alter ego of PAMA Management, Inc. As described above in Paragraphs 245 to 253, there is a 3 unity of interest and ownership between Defendant Nijjar and these corporations such that in 4 reality these corporations and Defendant Nijjar have no separate personality.

5 265. Defendant Kler is the alter ego of each General Partner Corporation for which she 6 owns at least 50 percent of shares, or in the alternative, for which the Daljit Kler Trust owns at 7 least 50 percent of shares. Corporations meeting that description are indicated in Exhibit A with 8 her name. Defendant Kler is also the alter ego of DKNL, Inc., and Bridge Management, Inc., 9 which are corporations she owns. As described above in Paragraphs 245 to 253, there is a unity of 10 interest and ownership between Defendant Kler and these corporations such that in reality these 11 corporations and Defendant Kler have no separate personality.

12 266. To avoid an unjust or inequitable result in this case, as described above in 13 Paragraphs 251 to 253, the fiction of the separate existence of the specified corporations and the 14 Individual Defendants must not be adhered to, and the acts of the corporations must be considered 15 also to be the acts of the Individual Defendants.

16 267. In the alternative, to the extent that the shares of any of the corporations 17 described above are owned by a trust for which Defendant Nijjar or Defendant Kler is a trustee, 18 Defendant Nijjar and Defendant Kler, in their capacities as trustees of those trusts, is each the 19 alter ego of such corporation, for the reasons described above in Paragraphs 264 to 266.

20 FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION AGAINST ALL DEFENDANTS

21 VIOLATION OF BUS. & PROF. CODE § 17200, et seq.

22 (Unfair Competition Law)

23 268. The People reallege and incorporate by reference each of the paragraphs above as 24 if fully set forth in this cause of action.

25 269. From a date unknown to the People and continuing to the present, Defendants have 26 engaged and continue to engage in, aided and abetted and continue to aid and abet, and conspired 27 and continue to conspire to engage in, acts or practices that are unlawful, unfair, or fraudulent, 28

1 and that constitute unfair competition within the meaning of California Business and Professions
2 Code section 17200, as described in the allegations above.

3 270. Defendants' acts and practices include, but are not limited to, the following:

- 4 a. Leasing residential rental units and properties to tenants that are not in safe and 5 habitable condition;
- 6 b. Violating Civil Code sections 1941, 1941.1, 1941.3, and 1927; Health & 7 Safety Code sections 17920.3, 13113.7, 17920.10, 17926, and 18550; 8 California Code of Regulations, title 25, sections 1102, 1606 through 1608, 9 and 1610; and implementing regulations as set forth in uniform industry codes
10 per Health & Safety Code section 17922;
- 11 c. Violating the warranty of habitability inherent to residential leases;
- 12 d. Providing or retaining property management services inadequate to maintain 13 residential rental units and properties in safe and habitable condition;
- 14 e. Violating Civil Code sections 3479, 3480, and 798.87 by allowing unsafe and 15 substandard conditions to exist at their residential rental units and properties 16 that constitute a continuing public nuisance;
- 17 f. Violating California Code of Regulations, title 25, section 42, by failing to 18 have a manager, janitor, housekeeper, or other responsible person residing 19 upon the premises of all rental properties with 16 or more units;
- 20 g. Violating the Fair Employment and Housing Act, Government Code sections 21 12927 and 12955, and California Code of Regulations, title 2, section 12141, 22 by discriminating against prospective tenants with Section 8 Housing Choice 23 Vouchers;
- 24 h. Making false or misleading statements to prospective tenants who have Section 25 8 Housing Choice Vouchers about the availability of rental units to lease;
- 26 i. Violating Civil Code sections 1953, subdivision (a), and 1942.1, by causing 27 tenants to enter into residential lease agreements with unenforceable, void 28 terms that purport to waive or modify tenants' irrevocable legal rights;

- j. Making false or misleading statements to tenants who enter into Defendants' residential lease agreements about such tenants' irrevocable legal rights;
- k. Violating Civil Code section 1632, subdivision (b), by providing only English-language copies of leases and change-of-terms notices to tenants who negotiated their leases in Spanish or in other applicable languages;
- l. Violating the Tenant Protection Act, Civil Code section 1946.2, subdivision (f), by failing to provide compliant notices to tenants whose tenancies are subject to the Tenant Protection Act, and by failing to provide required translations of such notices in conformance with Civil Code 1632;
- m. Making false or misleading statements to tenants whose tenancies are subject to the Tenant Protection Act about the applicability of the Act to their tenancy;
- n. Violating the Tenant Protection Act, Civil Code section 1947.12, subdivision (a), by increasing the gross rental rate above the rent cap;
- o. Violating Civil Code section 1962, subdivisions (a) and (c), by serving tenants with three-day notices to pay rent or quit, and by otherwise taking steps to evict tenants for nonpayment, without first providing those tenants with a notice compliant with subdivision (a);
- p. Violating Business and Professions Code sections 10130, and 10159.2, subdivision (a); and the California Code of Regulations, title 10, sections 2725 and 2740, by engaging in activities that require a real estate broker's license without having a designated qualified broker-officer of the corporation, and without a designated qualified broker-officer exercising supervision of the entity's real estate activities;
- q. Violating Business and Professions Code section 10138 by paying compensation to an entity or individual to perform real estate activities requiring licensure if that individual or entity is not known to be or does not present evidence that it is a regularly licensed real estate broker.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

271. WHEREFORE, the People respectfully request that the Court enter judgment in favor of the People and against Defendants, jointly and severally, as follows:

273. That the Court assess a civil penalty of $2,500 against each Defendant for each violation of Business and Professions Code section 17200, in an amount according to proof, under the authority of Business and Professions Code section 17206;

275. That the Court enter all orders or judgment as may be necessary to restore to any person in interest any money or other property that Defendants may have acquired by violations of Business and Professions Code section 17200, in an amount according to proof, under the authority of Business and Professions Code section 17203;

276. That the Court award disgorgement, in an amount according to proof, under the authority of Government Code section 12527.6;
